The Roaring Girl Or Moll Cut Purse As it hath lately bene Acted on the Fortune stage by the Prince his Players Written by T Middleton and T Dekkas Printed at London for Thomas Archer, and are to be sold at his shop in Popes head pailace, neere the Royall Exchange 1611, 4to

The Roaring Girl was Mary Frith, whose career is the subject of an amusing prose tract (published in 1662), entitled The Life and Death of Mrs Mary Frith Commonly called Mal Cutpurse Exactly Collected and now Published for the Delight and Recreation of all Merry disposed Persons London, 12mo Prefixed to this tract is Moll's portrait, which is here reproduced on the opposite page for the reader's satisfaction The narrative is highly flavoured, but appears to have been based to some extent on authentic information Moll "was born 1589<sup>1</sup> in Barbican, at the upper end of Aldersgate Street" She came of honest parentage, her father being a shoe maker—"a fair and square conditioned man, that loved a good fellow next to himself, which made his issue be so sociable" Particular care was bestowed on her education, for her boisterous and masculine spirit caused her parents much solicitude "A very Tomrig or Rumpscuttle she was, and delighted and sported only in boys play and pastime, not minding or companying with the girls many a bang and blow this hoyting procured her, but she was not so to be tamed or taken off from her rude inclinations, she could not endure their sedentary life of sewing or stitching, a sampler was as grievous as a winding sheet, her needle, bodkin, and thimble she could not think on quietly, wishing them changed into sword

and dagger for a bout at cudgels" When she had grown to be a "lustly and sturdy wench," she was put out to service, but household work of any kind was distasteful to her, and "above all she had a natural abhorrence to the tending of children, to whom she ever had an averseness in her mind equal to the sterility and barrenness in her womb, never being made a mother, to our best information" Abandoning service, she assumed masculine attire, and "to her dying day she would not leave it off" She subsequently became notorious as a bully, whore, bawd, pickpurse, fortune teller, receiver and forger Chamberlain in a letter to Carleton (dated 11th February 1611-2), tells how she did penance at Paul's Cross She wept bitterly on that occasion, and seemed very penitent, but it was afterwards suspected that "she was maudlin drunk, being discovered to have tumbled off three quarts of sack before she came to her penance" At a later date she enjoyed the friendship of the notorious Captain Hind and of one Richard Hannam, a worthy who "constantly wore a watchmaker's and jeweller's shop in his pocket, and could at any time command a thousand pounds" She waylaid at various times parties of Parliamentarians, and it is related (in Smith's Lives of Highwaymen) that she once robbed General Fairfax on Hounslow Heath, shot him through the arm, and killed two horses on which his servants were riding, whereupon she was pursued by some Parliamentary officers (who were quartered at Hounslow), apprehended at Turnham Green, and sent to Newgate, finally procuring her release by paying Fairfax two thousand pounds On her expeditions she was often accompanied by a dog, which she had very skilfully trained to evil courses She kept in her service a gang of thieves Her constant practice of smoking is supposed to have conduced to her longevity, for she suffered from a dropsy which eventually despatched her in her "threescore and fourteenth year" The writer of the memoir shows Herodotus' disregard for dates If Moll died in or before 1661 at the age of seventy four, she could not have been born so late as 1589 In Dodsley's Old Plays, xi 398, ed 1780, the writer of a note signed N states, on the authority of "a MS in the British Museum" (a somewhat vague reference), that she died at her house in Fleet Street on 26th July, was buried in the church of Saint Budget's, and left by will twenty pounds that the Conduit might run with wine at the return of Charles II

I am not at all sure that Sir Toby refers to the Roaring Girl when he speaks of "Mistress Mall's picture" (Twelfth Night, 1. 3). Mary Frith was too young to have come into notoriety when Twelfth Night was written, but the allusion may have been introduced at a later date. In his Shakespeare Glossary Dyce suggests—"After all, can it be that 'Mistress Mall's picture' means merely a lady's picture? So we still say 'Master Tom,' or 'Master Jack,' to designate no particular individual, but of young gentlemen generally."

In August 1610, there was entered on the Stationers' Registers "A Booke called the Madde Francks of Mery Mall of the Bankside, with her Walks in Man's Apparell and to what Purpose. Written by John Day." It is not known to have been printed.

Dyce and others have collected several early references to mad Moll. I need not give them all: two will suffice. The first is from Freeman's Epigrams, Rubbe and a Great Cast, 1614.—

"Epigram 90

Of Moll Cutpurse disguised going

"They say Mol's honest, and it may bee so,
But yet it is a shrewd presumption no
To touch but pitch, 'tis I nowne it will defile, Moll weares the breech, what may she be the while?
Sure shee that doth the shadow so much grace,
What will shee when the substance comes in place?"

The second is from Field's Amends for Ladies, 1618 (where she figures in one scene)—

"Hence, lewd impudent"

I know not what to term thee, man or woman,
For Nature, shaming to acknowledge thee
For either, hath produc'd thee to the world
Without a sex: some say thou art a woman, Others, a man, and many, thou art both Woman and man, but I think rather, neither,
Or man and horse, as the old Centaurs were feign'd" (ii. 1)

A roarer or roaring boy was a cant term for a notorious buck. The reader will have enough of roaring boys in A Fair Quarrel. Nares remarks, "We meet with one roaring girl, but luckily only one, called also Moll Cutpurse," but there was an earlier virago—Long Meg of Westminster, whose "life and pranks" are celebrated in a black letter tract printed in 1582.

TO THE COMIC PLAY READERS, VENERY AND LAUGHTER

THE fashion of play-making I can properly compare to nothing so naturally as the alteration in apparel, for in the time of the great crop doublet, your huge bombasted plays, quilted with mighty words to lean purpose, was only then in fashion <sup>1</sup> and as the doublet fell, neater inventions began to set up. Now, in the time of spruceness, our plays follow the niceness of our garments, single plots, quaint conceits, lecherous jests, drest up in hanging sleeves and those are fit for the times and the termers <sup>2</sup>. Such a kind of light-colour summer stuff, mingled with divers colours, you shall find this published comedy, good to keep you in an afternoon from dice at home in your chambers and for venery, you shall find enough for sixpence,<sup>3</sup> but well couched and you mark it, for Venus, being a woman, passes through the play in doublet and breeches, a brave disguise and a safe one, if the statute untie not her codpiece point

The book I make no question but is fit for many of your companies, as well as the person itself, and may be allowed both gallery room at the playhouse, and chamber room at your lodging. Worse things, I must needs confess, the world has taxed her for than has been written of her, but 'tis the excellency of a writer to leave things better than he finds 'em, though some obscene fellow, that cares not what he writes against others, yet keeps a mystical bawdyhouse himself, and entertains drunkards, to make use of their pockets and vent his private bottle ale at midnight,—though such a one would have ript up the most nasty vice that ever hell belched forth, and presented it to a modest assembly, yet we rather wish in such discoveries, where reputation lies bleeding, a slackness of truth than fulness of slander.

PROLOGUE

A PLAY expected long makes the audience look
 For wonders, that each scene should be a book, Compos'd to all perfection each one comes
 And brings a play in's head with him, up he sums
 What he would of a roaring girl have writ,
 If that he finds not here, he mews<sup>1</sup> at it Only we [do] entreat you think our scene
 Cannot speak high, the subject being but mean,
 A roaring girl, whose notes till now ne'er were,
 Shall fill with laughter our vast theatre<sup>2</sup> 10
 That's all which I dare promise tragic passion,
 And such grave stuff, is this day out of fashion
 I see Attention sets wide ope her gates
 Of hearing, and with covetous listening waits,
 To know what girl this roaring girl should be,
 For of that tribe are many One is she

 Their names to me

<sup>2</sup> The Fortune in Golding Lane Cripplegate, built by Henslowe and Allen in 1599-1600 and burnt down in 1621 It was a square building measuring eighty feet each way outside and fifty five feet inside It was rebuilt, probably of brick in 1623

That roars at midnight in deep tavern bowls,
 That beats the watch, and constables controls ,
 Another roars i' th' daytime, swears, stabs, gives braves,
 Yet sells her soul to the lust of fools and slaves 20
 Both these are suburb roarers Then there's beside <sup>1</sup>
 A civil city roaring girl, whose pride,
 Feasting, and riding, shakes her husband's state,
 And leaves him roaring through an iron grate <sup>2</sup>
 None of these roaring girls is ours , she flies
 With wings more lofty , thus her character lies—Yet what need characters, when to give a guess
 Is better than the person to express ?
 But would you know who 'tis ? would you hear her name ?
 She's call'd mad Moll , her life our acts proclaim 30

ACT I

SCENE I

A Room in Sir ALEXANDER WENGRAVE'S House

Enter MARY FITZALLARD disguised like a sempster, with a case for bands, and NEATFOOT with her, a napkin on his shoulder, and a trencher<sup>1</sup> in his hand, as from table

Neat The young gentleman, our young master, sir Alexander's son, is it into his ears, sweet damsel, emblem of fragility, you desire to have a message transported, or to be transcendent ?

<sup>1</sup> "At this time pewter was not introduced into common use. Our ancestors were content with wooden trenchers and these were even to be found at the tables of our nobility and persons of good fashion. Among the orders for household servants devised by John Haryngton 1566 and renewed by his son 1592, it is directed, 'That no man waite at the table without a trencher in his hand, except it be upon good cause on paine of 1d' (Nugæ Antiquæ vol. II p. 267, ed. 1779). See also the Northumberland Household Book p. 354. Trenchers are still used in some colleges and inns of court particularly in Lincoln's Inn"—Reed

Mary A private word or two, sir, nothing else

Neat You shall fructify in that which you come for, your pleasure shall be satisfied to your full contentation
I will, fairest tree of generation, watch when our young master is erected, that is to say, up, and deliver him to this your most white hand 10

Mary Thanks, sir

Neat And withal certify him, that I have culled out for him, now his belly is replenished, a dantier bit or modicum than any lay upon his trencher at dinner Hath he notion of your name, I beseech your chastity? 2

Mary One, sir, of whom he bespake falling bands<sup>1</sup>

Neat Falling bands? it shall so be given him If you please to venture your modesty in the hall amongst a curl pated company of rude serving men, and take such as they can set before you, you shall be most seriously and ingeniously<sup>2</sup> welcome 21

Mary I have dined<sup>3</sup> indeed already, sir

Neat Or will you vouchsafe to kiss the lip of a cup of rich Orleans in the buttery amongst our waiting-women?

Mary Not now, in truth, sir

<sup>1</sup> See note, vol iii p 128 In Evelyn's Discourse on Medals 1697, p 108, is the head of Charles I crowned, in the garter robes, and wearing a falling band which new mode, says Mr Evelyn 'succeeded the cumbersome ruff but neither did the bishops or judges give it over so soon, the Lord Keeper Finch being, I think, the very first' — Reed

"Amintor thou hast an ingenious look,
And shouldst be virtuous

Neat Our young master shall then have a feeling of your being here , presently it shall so be given him

Mary I humbly thank you, sir But that my bosom

[Exit NEATFOOT

Is full of bitter sorrows, I could smile 30

To see this formal ape play antic tricks ,

But in my breast a poison'd arrow sticks,

And smiles cannot become me Love woven slightly,

Such as thy false heart makes, wears out as lightly ,

But love being truly bred i' th' soul, like mine,

Bleeds even to death at the least wound it takes,—

The more we quench this [fire], the less it slakes

O me !

Enter SEBASTIAN WENGRIVE with NEATFOOT

Seb A sempster speak with me, sayest thou ?

Neat Yes, sir , she's there, viva voce to deliver her auricular confession 41

Seb With me, sweetheart ? what is't ?

Mary I have brought home your bands, sir

Seb Bands?—Neatfoot

Neat Sir ?

Seb Prithce, look in , for all the gentlemen are upon rising

Neat Yes, sir , a most methodical attendance shall be given

Seb And dost hear ? if my father call for me, say I am busy with a sempster 51

Neat Yes, sir , he shall know it that you are busied with a needle woman

Seb In's ear, good Neatfoot

Neat It shall be so given him [Exit

Seb Bands? you're mistaken, sweetheart, I bespake none

When, where, I prithee? what bands? let me see them

Mary Yes, sir, a bond<sup>1</sup> fast seal'd with solemn oaths, Subscrib'd unto, as I thought, with your soul,
Deliver'd as your deed in sight of heaven 60
Is this bond cancelled? have you forgot me?

Seb Ha! life of my life, sir Guy Fitzallard's daughter?
What has transform'd my love to this strange shape?
Stay, make all sure [shuts the door], so now speak and be brief,

Because the wolf's at door that lies in wait
To prey upon us both Albeit mine eyes
Are blest by thine, yet this so strange disguise Holds me with fear and wonder

Mary Mine's a loath'd sight,
Why from it are you banish'd else so long?

Seb I must cut short my speech in broken language
Thus much, sweet Moll, I must thy company shun, 71
I court another Moll my thoughts must run
As a horse runs that's blind round in a mill,
Out every step, yet keeping one path still

Mary Umph! must you shun my company? in one knot

Have both our hands by th' hands of heaven been tied,
Now to be broke? I thought me once your bride,

<sup>1</sup> The forms bond and band were used indifferently

Our fathers did agree on the time when
And must another bedfellow fill my room ?

Seb Sweet maid, let's lose no time , 'tis in heaven's book 80

Set down, that I must have thee , an oath we took
To keep our vows but when the knight your father Was from mine parted, storms began to sit Upon my covetous father's brow[s], which fell
From them on me He reckon'd up what gold
This marriage would draw from him , at which he swore,
To lose so much blood could not grieve him more
He then dissuades me from thee, call'd thee not fair,
And ask'd what is she but a beggar's heir ?
He scorn'd thy dowry of five thousand marks 90
If such a sum of money could be found,
And I would match with that, he'd rot undo it,
Provided his bags might add nothing to it ,
But vow'd, if I took thee, nay, more, did swear it,
Save birth, from him I nothing should inherit

Mary What follows then ? my shipwreck ?

Seb Dearest, no

Though wildly in a labyrinth I go,
My end is to meet thee with a side wind
Must I now sail, else I no haven can find,
But both must sink for ever There's a wench 100
Call'd Moll, mad Moll, or merry Moll , a creature
So strange in quality, a whole city takes Note of her name and person all that affection
I owe to thee, on her in counterfeit passion
I spend, to mad my father he believes

I doat upon this Roaring Girl, and grieves
As it becomes a father for a son
That could be so bewitch'd yet I'll go on This crooked way, sigh still for her, feign dreams
In which I'll talk only of her these streams 110
Shall, I hope, force my father to consent
That here I anchor, rather than be rent
Upon a rock so dangerous Art thou pleas'd, Because thou seest we're waylaid, that I take A path that's safe, though it be far about ?

Mary My prayers with heaven guide thee !

Seb Then I will on

My father is at hand, kiss, and begone !
Hours shall be watch'd for meetings I must now,
As men for fear, to a strange idol bow

Mary Farewell !

Seb I'll guide thee forth when next we meet, 120
A story of Moll shall make our mirth more sweet

[Exeunt]

Enter SIR ALEXANDER WENGRIVE, SIR DAVY DAPPER, SIR ADAM APPLETON, GOSHAWK, LAXTON, and Gentlemen

All Thanks, good sir Alexander, for our bounteous cheer !

S Alex Fie, fie, in giving thanks you pay too dear

S Davy When bounty spreads the table, faith, 'twere sin,

At going off if thanks should not step in

The very floor, as 'twere, waves to and fro,
And, like a floating island, seems to move
Upon a sea bound in with shores above

All These sights are excellent !

S Alex I'll shew you all

Since we are met, make our parting comical

Re enter SEBASTIAN WENGRAVE with GREENWIT

Seb This gentleman, my friend, will take his leave, sir

S Alex Ha ! take his leave, Sebastian, who ?

Seb This gentleman

S Alex Your love, sir, has already given me some time,

And if you please to trust my age with more,

It shall pay double interest good sir, stay 160

Green I have been too bold

S Alex Not so, sir a merry day

'Mongst friends being spent, is better than gold sav'd —

Some wine, some wine ! Where be these knaves I keep ?

Re enter NEATFOOT with several Servants

Neat At your worshipful elbow, sir

S Alex You're kissing my maids, drinking, or fast asleep

Neat Your worship has given it us right

S Alex You varlets, stir !

Chairs, stools, and cushions !—

[Servants bring in wine, and place chairs, &c]

Prithce, sir Davy Dapper,

Make that chair thine

S Davy 'Tis but an easy gift,

And yet I thank you for it, sir I'll take it

S Alex A chair for old sir Adam Appleton ! 170

Neat A back friend to your worship

S Adam Marry, good Neatfoot,

I thank thee for't, back friends sometimes are good

S Alex Pray, make that stool your perch, good master Goshawk

Gos I stoop to your lure, sir

S Alex Son Sebastian,

Take master Greenwit to you

Seb Sit, dear friend

S Alex Nay, master Laxton—furnish master Laxton

With what he wants, a stone,—a stool, I would say,

A stool

Lax I had rather stand, sir

S Alex I know you had, good master Laxton so, so [Exeunt NEATFOOT and Servants

Now here's a mess of friends, and, gentlemen, 181

Because time's glass shall not be running long,

I'll quicken it with a pretty tale

S Davy Good tales do well

In these bad days, where vice does so excel

S Adam Begin, Sir Alexander

S Alex Last day I met

An aged man, upon whose head was scor'd

A debt of just so many years as these

Which I owe to my grave the man you all know

All His name, I pray you, sir

S Alex Nay, you shall pardon me

But when he saw me, with a sigh that brake, 190
Or seem'd to break, his heart strings, thus he spake
O my good knight, says he (and then his eyes
Were richer even by that which made them poor, They'd spent so many tears they had no more),
O sir, says he, you know it ! for you ha' seen Blessings to rain upon mine house and me
Fortune, who slaves men, was my slave , her wheel Hath spun me golden threads , for, I thank heaven,
I ne'er had but one cause to curse my stars
I ask'd him then what that one cause might be 200

All So, sir

S Alex He paus'd and as we often see

A sea so much becalm'd, there can be found
No wrinkle on his brow, his waves being drown'd
In their own rage , but when th' imperious wind[s]
Use strange invisible tyranny to shake
Both heaven's and earth's foundation at their noise,
The seas, swelling with wrath to part that fray, Rise up, and are more wild, more mad than they Even so this good old man was by my question Stirr'd up to roughness , you might see his gall 210
Flow even in's eyes , then grew he fantastical

S Davy Fantastical ? ha, ha !

S Alex Yes , and talk[']d oddly

S Adam Pray, sir, proceed

How did this old man end ?

S Alex Marry, sir, thus

He left his wild fit to read o'er his cards ,
Yet then, though age cast snow on all his hairs,
He joy'd, because, says he, the god of gold
Has been to me no niggard , that disease,
Of which all old men sicken, avarice, 219
Never infected me——

Lax He means not himself, I'm sure [Aside

S Alex For, like a lamp
Fed with continual oil, I spend and throw My light to all that need it, yet have still Enough to serve myself O but, quoth he,
Though heaven's dew fall thus on this aged tree,
I have a son that,<sup>1</sup> like a wedge, doth cleave
My very heart root !

S Davy Had he such a son ?

Seb Now I do smell a fox strongly [Aside

S Alex Let's see no, master Greenwit is not yet
So mellow in years as he , but as like Sebastian, 230
Just like my son Sebastian, such another

Seb How finely, like a fencer,
My father fetches his by-blows to hit me !
But if I beat you not at your own weapon
Of subtilty—— [Aside

S Alex This son, saith he, that should be
The column and main arch unto my house,
The crutch unto my age, becomes a whirlwind Shaking the firm foundation

S Adam 'Tis some prodigal

<sup>1</sup> Old ed "thats "

S Alex No city-monster neither, no prodigal, 240
But sparing, wary, civil, and, though wifeless,
An excellent husband, and such a traveller,
He has more tongues in his head than some have teeth

S Davy I have but two in mine

Gos So sparing and so wary ?

What, then, could vex his father so ?

S Alex O, a woman !

Seb A flesh-fly, that can vex any man

S Alex A scurvy woman,

On whom the passionate old man swore he doated ,
A creature, saith he, nature hath brought forth
To mock the sex of woman It is a thing
One knows not how to name her birth began 250
Ere she was all made 'tis woman more than man,
Man more than woman, and, which to none can hap,
The sun gives her two shadows to one shape ,
Nay, more, let this strange thing walk, stand, or sit,
No blazing star draws more eyes after it

S Davy A monster ! 'tis some monster !

S Alex She's a varlet

Seb Now is my cue to bristle [Aside

Seb 'Tis false !

S Alex Ha, boy ?

Seb 'Tis false !

260

S Alex What's false ? I say she's naught

Seb I say, that tongue

That dares speak so, but yours, sticks in the throat
Of a rank villain set yourself aside——

S Alex So, sir, what then ?

Seb Any here else had lied —

I think I shall fit you

[Aside

S Alex Lie ?

Seb Yes

S Davy Doth this concern him ?

S Alex Ah, sirrah-boy,

Is your blood heated ? boils it ? are you stung ?

I'll pierce you deeper yet — O my dear friends,

I am that wretched father ! this that son,

That sees his ruin, yet headlong on doth run

S Adam Will you love such a poison ?

S Davy Fie, fie

Seb You're all mad

S Alex Thou'rt sick at heart, yet feel'st it not of all these,

What gentleman but thou, knowing his disease

Mortal, would shun the cure !—O master Greenwit,

Would you to such an idol bow ?

Green Not I, sir

S Alex Here's master Laxton, has he mind to a woman

As thou hast ?

Lax No, not I, sir

S Alex Sir, I know it

Lax Their good parts are so rare, their bad so common,

I will have nought to do with any woman

S Davy 'Tis well done, master Laxton

S Alex O thou cruel boy, 280

Thou would'st with lust an old man's life destroy !

Because thou see'st I'm half way in my grave,

Thou shovel'st dust upon me would thou might'st have

Thy wish, most wicked, most unnatural !

S Davy Why, sir, 'tis thought sir Guy Fitzallard's daughter

Shall wed your son Sebastian

S Alex Sir Davy Dapper,

I have upon my knees woo'd this fond <sup>1</sup> boy

To take that virtuous maiden

Seb Hark you, a word, sir

You on your knees have curs'd that virtuous maiden,

And me for loving her, yet do you now 290

Thus baffle <sup>2</sup> me to my face wear not your knees

In such entreats, give me Fitzallard's daughter

S Alex I'll give thee rats-bane rather

Seb Well, then, you know

What dish I mean to feed upon

S Alex Hark, gentlemen ! he swears
To have this cut purse drab, to spite my gall

All Master Sebastian——

Seb I am deaf to you all
I'm so bewitch'd, so bound to my desires, Tears, prayers, threats, nothing can quench out those fires

That burn within me [Exit

S Alex Her blood shall quench it, then — [Aside
Lose him not, O dissuade him, gentlemen ! 301

S Davy He shall be wean'd, I warrant you

S Alex Before his eyes
Lay down his shame, my grief, his miseries

All No more, no more, away !

[Exeunt all but SIR ALEX WENGRAVE

S Alex I wash a negro,
Losing both pains and cost but take thy flight,
I'll be most near thee when I'm least in sight Wild buck, I'll hunt thee breathless thou shalt run on,
But I will turn thee when I'm not thought upon —

Enter TRAPDOOR with a letter

Now, sirrah, what are you ? leave your ape's tricks, and speak 310

Trap A letter from my captain to your worship

S Alex O, O, now I remember, 'tis to prefer thee into my service

Trap To be a shifter under your worship's nose of a clean trencher, when there's a good bit upon't

S Alex Troth, honest fellow—Hum—ha—let me see—

This knave shall be the axe to hew that down
At which I stumble, has a face that promiseth
Much of a villain I will grind his wit,

And, if the edge prove fine, make use of it [Aside
Come hither, sirrah canst thou be secret, ha? 321

Trap As two crafty attorneys plotting the undoing of their clients

S Alex Did'st never, as thou'st walk'd about this town,

Hear of a wench call'd Moll, mad, merry Moll?

Trap Moll Cutpurse, sir?

S Alex The same, dost thou know her, then?

Trap As well as I know 'twill rain upon Simon and Jude's day next I will sift all the taverns i' th' city, and drink half pots with all the water-men<sup>1</sup> a' th' Bank-side, but, if you will, sir, I'll find her out 331

S Alex That task is easy, do't then hold thy hand up

What's this? is't burnt?<sup>2</sup>

Trap No, sir, no, a little singed with making fireworks

S Alex There's money, spend it, that being spent, fetch more [Gives money

Trap O sir, that all the poor soldiers in England

<sup>1</sup> ' Taylor the water poet asserts, that at this time, between Windsor and Gravesend, there were not fewer than forty thousand water men '—Reed

had such a leader ! For fetching, no water-spaniel is like me

S Alex This wench we speak of strays so from her kind,

Nature repents she made her 'tis a mermaid 340
Has tol'd my son to shipwreck

Trap I'll cut her comb for you

S Alex I'll tell out gold for thee, then Hunt her forth,

Cast out a line hung full of silver hooks
To catch her to thy company deep spendings

May draw her that's most chaste to a man's bosom

Trap The gingling of golden bells, and a good fool with a hobbyhorse, will draw all the whores i' th' town to dance in a morris

S Alex Or rather, for that's best (they say sometimes She goes in breeches), follow her as her man 351

Trap And when her breeches are off, she shall follow me

S Alex Beat all thy brains to serve her

Trap Zounds, sir, as country wenches beat cream till butter comes

S Alex Play thou the subtle spider, weave fine nets
To ensnare her very life

Trap Her life ?

S Alex Yes, suck

Her heart blood, if thou canst twist thou but cords
To catch her, I'll find law to hang her up

Trap Spoke like a worshipful bencher ! 360

S Alex Trace all her steps at this she fox's den

Watch what lambs enter , let me play the shepherd
To save their throats from bleeding, and cut hers

Trap This is the goll<sup>1</sup> shall do't

S Alex Be firm, and gain me

Ever thine own this done, I entertain thee

How is thy name?

Trap My name, sir, is Ralph Trapdoor, honest Ralph

S Alex Trapdoor, be like thy name, a dangerous step

For her to venture on , but unto me——

Trap As fast as your sole to your boot or shoe, sir 370

S Alex Hence, then, be little seen here as thou canst ,

I'll still be at thine elbow

Trap The trapdoor's set

Moll, if you budge, you're gone this me shall crown ,

A roaring boy the roaring girl puts down

S Alex God-a mercy, lose no time [Exeunt

ACT II

SCENE I

Three Shops open in a rank the first an Apothecary's Shop, the next a Feather shop, the third a Sempster's Shop , MISTRESS GALLIPOT in the first, MISTRESS TILTYARD in the next, OPENWORK and MISTRESS OPENWORK in the third

Enter LAXTON, GOSHAWK, and GREENWIT

Mis Open Gentlemen, what is't you lack? what is't you buy? see fine bands and ruffs, fine lawns, fine cambrics what is't you lack, gentlemen? what is't you buy?

Lax Yonder's the shop

Gos Is that she?

Lax Peace

Green She that minces tobacco?<sup>1</sup>

Lax Ay, she's a gentlewoman born, I can tell you, though it be her hard fortune now to shred Indian pot herbs

11

Gos O sir, 'tis many a good woman's fortune, when her husband turns bankrout,<sup>1</sup> to begin with pipes and set up again

Lax And, indeed, the raising of the woman is the lifting up of the man's head at all times, if one flourish, t'other will bud as fast, I warrant ye

Gos Come, thou'rt familiarly acquainted there, I grope that

Lax And you grope no better i' th' dark, you may chance lie i' th' ditch when you're drunk

Gos Go, thou'rt a mystical lecher!

Lax I will not deny but my credit may take up an ounce of pure smoke

Gos May take up an ell of pure smock! away, go! 'Tis the closest striker!<sup>2</sup> life, I think he commits venery 'forty foot deep, no man's aware on't I, like a palpable smockster, go to work so openly with the tricks of art, that I'm as apparently seen as a naked boy in a phial,<sup>3</sup> and were it not for a gift of treachery that I have in me, to betray my friend when he puts most trust in me—mass, yonder he is too!—and by his injury to make good my access to her, I should appear as defective in courting as a farmer's son the first day of his feather, that doth nothing at court but woo the hangings and glass windows

He shall not see me yet [Aside

Green Troth, this is finely shred 42

Lax O, women are the best mincers

Mis G 'Thad been a good phrase for a cook's wife,
sir

Lax But 'twill serve generally, like the front of a new almanac, as thus —calculated for the meridian of cooks' wives, but generally for all English women

Mis G Nay, you shall ha't, sir, I have filled it for you [She puts it to the fire

Lax The pipe's in a good hand, and I wish mine always so 52

Green But not to be used a' that fashion

Lax O, pardon me, sir, I understand no French I pray, be covered Jack, a pipe of rich smoke !

Gos Rich smoke ? that's sixpence a pipe, is't ?

Green To me, sweet lady

Mis G Be not forgetful, respect my credit, seem strange art and wit makes a fool of suspicion, pray, be wary 60

Lax Push ! I warrant you —Come, how is't, gallants ?

Green Pure and excellent

Lax I thought 'twas good, you were grown so silent you are like those that love not to talk at victuals, though they make a worse noise i' th' nose than a common fiddler's 'prentice, and discourse a whole supper with snuffing —I must speak a word with you anon

Mrs G Make your way wisely, then

Gos O, what else, sir? he's perfection itself, full of manners, but not an acre of ground belonging to 'em 70

Green Ay, and full of form, has ne'er a good stool in's chamber

Gos But above all, religious, he preyeth daily upon elder brothers

Green And valiant above measure, has run three streets from a sergeant

Lax Puh, puh [He blows tobacco in their faces

Lax So, so 80

Mrs G What's the matter now, sir?

Lax I protest I'm in extreme want of money, if you can supply me now with any means, you do me the greatest pleasure, next to the bounty of your love, as ever poor gentleman tasted

Mrs G What's the sum would pleasure ye, sir? though you deserve nothing less at my hands

Lax Why, 'tis but for want of opportunity, thou knowest —I put her off with opportunity still by this light, I hate her, but for means to keep me in fashion with gallants, for what I take from her, I spend upon other wenches, bear her in hand<sup>1</sup> still she has wit enough to rob her husband, and I ways enough to a man's face, and strangle him ere he be aware ! I could find in my heart to make a quarrel in earnest

Lax Pox, and thou dost—thou knowest I never use to fight with my friends—thou'lt but lose thy labour in't three at once

Lax So, well said —But is this <sup>2</sup> of the same tobacco, mistress Gallipot ?

Mrs G The same you had at first, sir

Lax I wish it no better this will serve to drink <sup>3</sup> at my chamber

111

Gos Shall we taste a pipe on't ?

Lax Not of this by my troth, gentlemen, I have sworn before you

I pity my revenge Now my spleen's up,
I would not mock it willingly —

Enter a Fellow, with a long rapier by his side

Ha ! be thankful,

Now I forgive thee

Mis O Marry, hang thee, I never asked forgiveness in my life

Moll You, goodman swine's face !

Fel What, will you murder me ?

Moll You remember, slave, how you abused me 'other night in a tavern 260

Fel Not I, by this light !

Moll No, but by candle light you did you have tricks to save your oaths, reservations have you? and I have reserved somewhat for you [strikes him] As you like that, call for more, you know the sign again

Fel Pox on't, had I brought any company along with me to have borne witness on't, 'twould ne'er have grieved me, but to be struck and nobody by, 'tis my ill fortune still Why, tread upon a worm, they say 'twill turn tail, but indeed a gentleman should have more manners 270

Lax Gallantly performed, i'faith, Moll, and manfully! I love thee for ever for't base rogue, had he offered but the least counter buff, by this hand, I was prepared for him!

Moll You prepared for him? why should you be prepared for him? was he any more than a man?

Lax No, nor so much by a yard and a handful, London measure

Moll Why do you speak this then? do you think I cannot ride a stone-horse, unless one lead him by th' snaffle? 281

Lax Yes, and sit him bravely, I know thou canst, Moll 'twas but an honest mistake through love, and I'll make amends for't anyway Prithee, sweet, plump Moll, when shall thou and I go out a' town together?

Moll Whither? to Tyburn, prithee?

Lax Mass, that's out a' town indeed thou hangest so many jests upon thy friends still! I mean honestly to Brainford,<sup>1</sup> Staines, or Ware

Moll What to do there? 290

Lax Nothing but be merry and lie together I'll hire a coach with four horses

Moll I thought 'twould be a beastly journey You may leave out one well, three horses will serve, if I play the jade myself

Lax Nay, push, thou'rt such another kicking wench!
Prithee, be kind, and let's meet

Moll 'Tis hard but we shall meet, sir

Lax Nay, but appoint the place then, there's ten angels in fair gold, Moll you see I do not trifle with you, do but say thou wilt meet me, and I'll have a coach ready for thee 302

Moll Why, here's my hand, I'll meet you, sir

Lax O good gold! [Aside ]—The place, sweet Moll?

Moll It shall be your appointment

Lax Somewhat near Holborn, Moll

Moll In Gray's Inn Fields then

Lax A match

Moll I'll meet you there 310

Lax The hour?

Moll Three

Lax That will be time enough to sup at Branford

Trap Strength, mistress Moll? I have gone up into a steeple, and stayed the great bell as't has been ringing, stopt a windmill going——

Moll And never struck down yourself?

Trap Stood as upright as I do at this present 380 [MOLL trips up his heels]

Moll Come, I pardon you for this, it shall be no disgrace to you I have struck up the heels of the high German's<sup>1</sup> size ere now What, not stand?

Trap I am of that nature, where I love, I'll be at my mistress' foot to do her service

Moll Why, well said, but say your mistress should receive injury, have you the spirit of fighting in you? durst you second her?

Trap Life, I have kept a bridge myself, and drove seven at a time before me! 390

Moll Ay?

Trap But they were all Lincolnshire bullocks, by my troth [Aside

Moll Well, meet me in Gray's Inn Fields between three and four this afternoon, and, upon better consideration, we'll retain you

Trap I humbly thank your good mistressship — I'll crack your neck for this kindness [Aside, and exit

Lax Remember three [MOLL meets LAXTON, and

Moll Nay, if I fail you, hang me 400

Lax Good wench, i'faith!

Moll Who's this? [then OPENWORK

Open 'Tis I, Moll

Moll Prithce, tend thy shop and prevent bastards

Open We'll have a pint of the same wine,<sup>1</sup> i'faith, Moll [Exit with MOLL] [Bell rings

Gos Hark, the bell rings! come, gentlemen Jack Dapper, where shall's all munch?

J Dap I am for Parker's ordinary

Lax He's a good guest to'm, he deserves his board, he draws all the gentlemen in a term time thither We'll be your followers, Jack, lead the way — Look you, by my faith, the fool has feathered his nest well 412

Tilt Come, shut up your shops Where's master Openwork?

Mis G Nay, ask not me, master Tiltyard

Tilt Where's his water dog? puh—pist—hur—hur—pist!

Gal Come, wenches, come, we're going all to Hogsdon<sup>1</sup>

Mis G To Hogsdon, husband?

Gal Ay, to Hogsdon, pigsnie<sup>2</sup>

420

Mis G I'm not ready, husband

Gal Faith, that's well—hum—pist—pist—

[Sputs in the dog's mouth]

Come, mistress Openwork, you are so long!

Mis O I have no joy of my life, master Gallipot

Gal Push,<sup>3</sup> let your boy lead his water spaniel along, and we'll show you the bravest sport at Parlous Pond<sup>4</sup>—

SCENE II

A StreetEnter SEBASTIAN WENGRAVE

Seb If a man have a free will, where should the use More perfect shine than in his will to love?
All creatures have their liberty in that

Enter behind SIR ALEXANDER WENGRAVE listening

Though else kept under servile yoke and fear,
The very bond slave has his freedom there Amongst a world of creatures voic'd and silent, Must my desires wear fetters?—Yea, are you
So near? then I must break with my heart's truth, Meet grief at a back way—Well why, suppose
The two-leav'd <sup>2</sup> tongues of slander or of truth 10

<sup>1</sup> 'I suppose Trug is the name of the spaniel whom he is sending into the water to hunt ducks, or else that he means to say trudge, trudge'—Stevens The first explanation seems the more probable

Pronounce Moll loathsome, if before my love
She appear fair, what injury have I ?
I have the thing I like in all things else
Mine own eye guides me, and I find 'em prosper Life ! what should ail it now ? I know that man Ne'er truly loves,—if he gainsay't he lies,—
That winks and marnes with his father's eyes
I'll keep mine own wide open

Enter MOLL and a Porter with a viol on his back

S Alex Here's brave wilfulness !
A made match ! here she comes, they met a' purpose
[Aside

Por Must I carry this great fiddle to your chamber, mistress Mary ? 21

Moll Fiddle, goodman hog rubber ?<sup>1</sup> Some of these porters bear so much for others, they have no time to carry wit for themselves

Por To your own chamber, mistress Mary ?

Moll Who'll hear an ass speak ? whither else, good man pageant bearer ? They're people of the worst memories ! [Exit Porter

Seb Why, 'twere too great a burden, love, to have

Carry things in their minds and a' their backs together

Moll Pardon me, sir, I thought not you so near 31

S Alex So, so, so ! [Aside

Seb I would be nearer to thee, and in that fashion

That makes the best part of all creatures honest
No otherwise I wish it

Moll Sir, I am so poor to requite you, you must look for nothing but thanks of me I have no humour to marry, I love to lie a' both sides a' th' bed myself and again, a' th' other side, a wife, you know, ought to be obedient, but I fear me I am too headstrong to obey, therefore I'll ne'er go about it I love you so well, sir, for your good will, I'd be loath you should repent your bargain after, and therefore we'll ne'er come together at first I have the head now of myself, and am man enough for a woman marriage is but a chopping and changing, where a maiden loses one head, and has a worse i' th' place 47

S Alex The most comfortablest answer from a roaring girl

That ever mine ears drunk in ! [Aside]

Seb This were enough

Now to affright a fool for ever from thee,
When 'tis the music that I love thee for

S Alex There's a boy spoils all again ! [Aside]

Moll Believe it, sir, I am not of that disdainful temper but I could love you faithfully

S Alex A pox on you for that word ! I like you not now

You're a cunning roarer, I see that already [Aside]

Moll But sleep upon this once more, sir, you may chance shift a mind to morrow be not too hasty to wrong yourself, never while you live, sir, take a wife running, many have run out at heels that have done't

You see, sir, I speak against myself, and if every woman would deal with their suitor so honestly, poor younger brothers would not be so often gulled with old cozening widows, that turn o'er all their wealth in trust to some kinsman, and make the poor gentleman work hard for a pension Fare you well, sir 66

Seb Nay, prithee, one word more

S Alex How do I wrong this girl! she puts him off still [Aside

Moll Think upon this in cold blood, sir you make as much haste as if you were a going upon a sturgeon voyage Take deliberation, sir, never choose a wife as if you were going to Virginia<sup>1</sup>

Seb And<sup>2</sup> so we parted my too-cursed fate!

S Alex She is but cunning, gives him longer time in't [Aside

Enter Tailor

Tai Mistress Moll, mistress Moll! so ho, ho, so ho!

Moll There, boy, there, boy! what dost thou go a-hawking after me with a red clout on thy finger? 77

Tai I forgot to take measure on you for your new breeches

S Alex Hoyda, breeches? what, will he marry a monster with two trinkets? what age is this! if the wife go in breeches, the man must wear long coats<sup>3</sup> like a fool [Aside

Moll What fiddling's here ! would not the old pattern have served your turn ?

Tai You change the fashion you say you'll have the great Dutch slop,<sup>1</sup> mistress Mary

Moll Why, sir, I say so still

Tai Your breeches, then, will take up a yard more

Moll Well, pray, look it be put in then 90

Tai It shall stand round and full, I warrant you

Moll Pray, make 'em easy enough

Tai I know my fault now, t'other was somewhat stiff between the legs, I'll make these open enough, I warrant you

S Alex Here's good gear towards !<sup>2</sup> I have brought up my son to marry a Dutch slop and a French doublet, a codpiece daughter ! [Aside

Tai So, I have gone as far as I can go

Moll Why, then, farewell 100

Tai If you go presently to your chamber, mistress Mary, pray, send me the measure of your thigh by some honest body

Moll Well, sir, I'll send it by a porter presently [Exit

Tai So you had need, it is a lusty one, both of them would make any porter's back ache in England [Exit

Seb I have examin'd the best part of man, Reason and judgment, and in love, they tell me, They leave me uncontroll'd he that is sway'd By an unfeeling blood, past heat of love, 110

His spring time must needs err , his watch ne'er goes right

That sets his dial by a rusty clock

S Alex [coming forward] So , and which is that rusty clock, sir, you ?

Seb The clock at Ludgate, sir , it ne'er goes true

S Alex But thou go'st falser , not thy father's cares
Can keep thee right when that insensible work
Obeys the workman's art, lets off the hour,
And stops again when time is satisfied

But thou runn'st on , and judgment, thy main wheel, Beats by all stops, as if the work would break, 120
Begun with long pains for a minute's ruin
Much like a suffering man brought up with care,
At last bequeath'd to shame and a short prayer

Seb I taste you bitterer than I can deserve, sir

S Alex What has bewitch[']d thee, son ? what devil or drug

Hath wrought upon the weakness of thy blood,
And betray'd all her hopes to ruinous folly ?

O, wake from drowsy and enchanted shame,
Wherein thy soul sits, with a golden dream Flatter'd and poison'd ! I am old, my son , 130
O, let me prevail quickly !

For I have weightier business of mine own
Than to chide thee I must not to my grave
As a drunkard to his bed, whereon he lies
Only to sleep, and never cares to rise

Let me despatch in time , come no more near her

Seb Not honestly ? not in the way of marriage ?

S Alex What sayst thou? marriage? in what place? the Sessions house?

And who shall give the bride, prithee? an indictment?

Seb Sir, now ye take part with the world to wrong her 140

S Alex Why, wouldst thou fain marry to be pointed at?

Alas, the number's great! do not o'erburden't.
Why, as good marry a beacon on a hill,
Which all the country fix their eyes upon,
As her thy folly doats on If thou long'st
To have the story of thy infamous fortunes
Serve for discourse in ordinaries and taverns, Thou'rt in the way, or to confound thy name,
Keep on, thou canst not miss it, or to strike
Thy wretched father to untimely coldness, 150
Keep the left hand still, it will bring thee to't
Yet, if no tears wrung from thy father's eyes,
Nor sighs that fly in sparkles from his sorrows,
Had power to alter what is wilful in thee,
Methinks her very name should fright thee from her
And never trouble me

Seb Why, is the name of Moll so fatal, sir?

S Alex Many one, sir, where suspect is enter'd,
For, seek all London from one end to t'other,
More whores of that name than of any ten other 160

Seb What's that to her? let those blush for themselves

Can any guilt in others condemn her?

I've vow'd to love her let all storms oppose me

That ever beat against the breast of man,
Nothing but death's black tempest shall divide us

S Alex O, folly that can doat on nought but shame !

Seb Put case, a wanton itch runs through one name
More than another, is that name the worse, Where honesty sits possest in't ? it should rather Appear more excellent, and deserve more praise, 170
When through foul mists a brightness it can raise Why, there are of the devils honest gentlemen
And well descended, keep an open house,
And some a' th' good man's<sup>1</sup> that are arrant knaves
He hates unworthily that by rote condemns,
For the name neither saves nor yet condemns,
And for her honesty, I've made such proof on't
In several forms, so nearly watch'd her ways,
I will maintain that strict against an army,
Excepting you, my father Here's her worst, 180
Sh'as a bold spirit that mingles with mankind,
But nothing else comes near it and oftentimes Through her apparel somewhat shames her birth,
But she is loose in nothing but in mirth
Would all Molls were no worse !

S Alex This way I toil in vain, and give but aim To infamy and ruin he will fall,
My blessing cannot stay him all my joys
Stand at the brink of a devouring flood,

And will be wilfully swallow'd, wilfully 190
But why so vain let all these tears be lost ?
I'll pursue her to shame, and so all's crost

[Aside, and exit

Seb He's gone with some strange purpose, whose effect

Will hurt me little if he shoot so wide,
To think I love so blindly I but feed
His heart to this match, to draw on the other,
Wherein my joy sits with a full wish crown'd,
Only his mood excepted, which must change
By opposite policies, courses indirect ,
Plain dealing in this world takes no effect 200
This mad girl I'll acquaint with my intent,

Get her assistance, make my fortunes known
'Twixt lovers' hearts she's a fit instrument,

And has the art to help them to their own
By her advice, for in that craft she's wise,
My love and I may meet, spite of all spies

[Exit

Gray's Inn Fields

Enter LAXTON and Coachman

Lax Coachman

Coach Here, sir

Lax There's a tester<sup>1</sup> more, prithee drive thy coach to the hither end of Marybone-park, a fit place for Moll to get in

Coach Marybone-park, sir ?

Lax Ay, it's in our way, thou knowest

Coach It shall be done, sir

Coach Anon, sir

10

Coach The best in Smithfield,<sup>3</sup> I warrant you, sir

<sup>3</sup> The worst jades came from Smithfield Falstaff says — I bought him [Bardolph] in Pauls, and he'll buy me a horse in Smithfield and I could get me but a wife in the stews, I were manned, horsed and wived

Lax May we safely take the upper hand of any coached velvet cap, or tuftaffety jacket? for they keep a vild<sup>1</sup> swaggering in coaches now a days, the highways are stopt with them

Coach My life for yours, and baffle<sup>2</sup> 'em too, sir why, they are the same jades, believe it, sir, that have drawn all your famous whores to Ware

Lax Nay, then they know their business, they need no more instructions 21

Coach They're so used to such journeys, sir, I never use whip to 'em, for if they catch but the scent of a wench once, they run like devils

Lax Fine Cerberus! that rogue will have the start of a thousand ones, for whilst others trot a' foot, he'll nde prancing to hell upon a coach horse Stay, 'tis now about the hour of her appointment, but yet I see her not [The clock strikes three] Hark! what's this? one, two, three three by the clock at Savoy, this is the hour, and Gray's Inn Fields the place, she swore she'd meet me Ha! yonder's two Inns-a' court men with one wench, but that's not she, they walk toward Islington out of my way I see none yet drest like her, I must look for a shag ruff, a frieze jerken, a short sword, and a safe guard,<sup>3</sup> or I get none Why, Moll, prnthee, make haste, or the coachman will curse us anon 37

Enter MOLL, dressed as a man

Moll O, here's my gentleman<sup>1</sup> If they would keep their days as well with their mercers as their hours with their harlots, no bankrout<sup>1</sup> would give seven score pound for a sergeant's place, for would you know a catchpoll rightly derived, the corruption of a citizen is the generation of a sergeant How his eye hawks for venery<sup>1</sup> [Aside]—Come, are you ready, sir?

Lax Ready? for what, sir?

Moll Do you ask that now, sir?

Why was this meeting 'pointed?

Lax I thought you mistook me, sir you seem to be some young barrister,
I have no suit in law, all my land's sold,

I praise heaven for't, 't has rid me of much trouble 50

Moll Then I must wake you, sir, where stands the coach?

Lax Who's this? Moll, honest Moll?

Moll So young, and purblind?

You're an old wanton in your eyes, I see that

Lax Thou'rt admirably suited for the Three Pigeons<sup>2</sup> at Brainford I'll swear I knew thee not

Moll I'll swear you did not, but you shall know me
now

Lax No, not here, we shall be spied, i'faith, the coach is better come 59

<sup>2</sup> An inn of which frequent mention is made Lowin the actor kept it at a later date

Moll Yes, here's the point [Draws her sword

That I untruss, 't has but one tag, 'twill serve though
To tie up a rogue's tongue

Lax How!

Moll There's the gold

With which you hir'd your hackney, here's her pace,
She racks hard, and perhaps your bones will feel it Ten angels of mine own I've put to thine,
Win 'em and wear 'em

Lax Hold, Moll! mistress Mary——

Moll Draw, or I'll serve an execution on thee, Shall lay thee up till doomsday 70

Lax Draw upon a woman! why, what dost mean,
Moll?

Moll To teach thy base thoughts manners thou'rt one of those

That thinks each woman thy fond flexible whore,
If she but cast a liberal eye upon thee,
Turn back her head, she's thine, or amongst company
By chance drink first to thee, then she's quite gone,
There is no means to help her nay, for a need,
Wilt swear unto thy credulous fellow lechers,
That thou art more in favour with a lady 80
At first sight than her monkey all her lifetime
How many of our sex, by such as thou,
Have their good thoughts paid with a blasted name

<sup>1</sup> Untruss a point = untie the tags of the breeches

That never deserv'd loosely, or did trip
 In path of whoredom beyond cup and lip<sup>1</sup>
 But for the stain of conscience and of soul,
 Better had women fall into the hands
 Of an act silent than a bragging nothing,
 There is no mercy in't What durst move you, sir,
 To think me whorish? a name which I'd tear out 90
 From the high German's<sup>1</sup> throat, if it lay leiger<sup>2</sup> there
 To despatch privy slanders against me
 In thee I defy all men, their worst hates
 And their best flatteries, all their golden witchcrafts,
 With which they entangle the poor spirits of fools,
 Distressed needle-women and trade fallen wives,
 Fish that must needs bite, or themselves be bitten, Such hungry things as these may soon be took
 With a worm fasten'd on a golden hook
 Those are the lecher's food, his prey, he watches 100
 For quarrelling wedlocks<sup>3</sup> and poor shifting sisters,
 'Tis the best fish he takes But why, good fisherman, Am I thought meat for you, that never yet
 Had angling rod cast towards me? 'cause, you'll say,
 I'm given to sport, I'm often merry, jest
 Had mirth no kindred in the world but lust,
 O shame take all her friends then<sup>1</sup> but howe'er
 Thou and the baser world censure my life,

Upon thy breast, 'cause thou shalt bear't in mind, 110
Tell them 'twere base to yield where I have conquer'd,
I scorn to prostitute myself to a man,
I that can prostitute a man to me,
And so I greet thee

Lax Hear me——

Moll Would the spirits
Of all my sland[er]ers were clasp'd in thine,
That I might vex an army at one time ! [They fight

Lax I do repent me, hold !

Moll You'll die the better Christian then

Lax I do confess I have wronged thee, Moll

Moll Confession is but poor amends for wrong, 120 Unless a rope would follow

Lax I ask thee pardon

Moll I'm your hir'd whore, sir !

Lax I yield both purse and body

Moll Both are mine,

And now at my disposing

Lax Spare my life !

Moll I scorn to strike thee basely

Lax Spoke like a noble girl, i'faith !—Heart, I think together Pox a' the Three Pigeons ! I would the coach were here now to carry me to the chirurgeon's 132

[Aside, and exit

Moll If I could meet my enemies one by one thus,

I might make pretty shift with 'em in time,
And make 'em know that she has wit and spirit,
May scorn
To live beholding to her body for meat ,
Or for apparel, like your common dame,
That makes shame get her clothes to cover shame Base is that mind that kneels unto her body, 140
As if a husband stood in awe on's wife
My spirit shall be mistress of this house
As long as I have time in't —O,

Enter TRAPDOOR

Here comes my man that would be 'tis his hour
Faith, a good well set fellow, if his spirit
Be answerable to his umbles,<sup>1</sup> he walks stiff,
But whether he'll stand to't stiffly, there's the point
Has a good calf for't , and ye shall have many a woman
Choose him she means to make her head by his calf
I do not know their tricks in't Faith, he seems 150
A man without , I'll try what he's within

Trap She told me Gray's Inn Fields, 'twixt three and four ,

<sup>1</sup> The entrails of a deer

I'll fit her mistress ship with a piece of service
I'm hir'd to rid the town of one mad girl

[MOLL jostles him

What a pox ails you, sir ?

Moll He begins like a gentleman

Trap Heart, is the field so narrow, or your eye sight——

Life, he comes back again !

Moll Was this spoke to me, sir ?

Trap I cannot tell, sir

Moll Go, you're a coxcomb !

Trap Coxcomb ?

Moll You're a slave !

Trap I hope there's law for you, sir

Moll Yea, do you see, sir ? [Turns his hat

Trap Heart, this is no good dealing ! pray, let me know what house you're of

Moll One of the Temple, sir

[Filippo him

Trap Mass, so methinks

Moll And yet sometime I lie about Chick Lane 170

Trap I like you the worse because you shift your lodging so often I'll not meddle with you for that trick,
sir

Moll A good shift, but it shall not serve your turn

Trap You'll give me leave to pass about my business,
sir ?

Moll Your business ? I'll make you wait on me Before I ha' done, and glad to serve me too

Trap How, sir ? serve you ? not if there were no more men in England

Moll But if there were no more women in England,
I hope you'd wait upon your mistress then ?

Trap Mistress ?

Moll O, you're a tried spirit at a push, sir ?

Trap What would your worship have me do ?

Moll You a fighter !

Trap No, I praise heaven, I had better grace and more manners

Moll As how, I pray, sir ?

Trap Life, 'thad been a beastly part of me to have drawn my weapons upon my mistress, all the world would a' cried shame of me for that 192

Moll Why, but you knew me not

Trap Do not say so, mistress, I knew you by your wide straddle, as well as if I had been in your belly

Moll Well, we shall try you further, i' th' mean time
We give you entertainment

Trap Thank your good mistress ship

Moll How many suits have you ?

Trap No more suits than blacks, mistress 200

Moll Well, if you deserve, I cast off this, next week,
And you may creep into't

Trap Thank your good worship

Moll Come, follow me to St Thomas Apostle's I'll put a livery cloak upon your back
The first thing I do

Trap I follow, my dear mistress [Exeunt

SCENE II

GALLIPOT'S Shop

Enter MISTRESS GALLIPOT as from supper, GALLIPOT following her

Gal What, Pru ! nay, sweet Prudence !

Mis G What a pruing keep you ! I think the baby would have a teat, it kyes<sup>1</sup> so Pray, be not so fond of me, leave your city humours, I'm vexed at you, to see how like a calf you come bleating after me

Gal Nay, honey Pru, how does your rising up before all the table show, and flinging from my friends so un civilly ! fie, Pru, fie ! come

Mis G Then up and ride, i'faith !

Gal Up and ride ? nay, my pretty Pru, that's far from my thought, duck why, mouse, thy mind is nibbling at something, what is't ? what lies upon thy stomach ?

Mis G Such an ass as you hoyda, you're best turn midwife, or physician ! you're a 'pothecary already, but I'm none of your drugs

Gal Thou art a sweet drug, sweetest Pru, and the more thou art pounded, the more precious

Mis G Must you be prying into a woman's secrets, say ye ?

Gal Woman's secrets ?

Mis G What ! I cannot have a qualm come upon me, but your teeth waters till your nose hang over it !

Gal It is my love, dear wife

Mis G Your love ? your love is all words, give me deeds I cannot abide a man that's too fond over me,—so cookish ! Thou dost not know how to handle a woman in her kind

Gal No, Pru ? why, I hope I have handled——

Mis G Handle a fool's head of your own,—fie, fie !

Gal Ha, ha, 'tis such a wasp ! it does me good now to have her s[t]ing me, little rogue ! 31

Mis G Now, fie, how you vex me ! I cannot abide these apron husbands,<sup>1</sup> such cotqueans<sup>2</sup> you overdo your things, they become you scurvily

Gal Upon my life she breeds heaven knows how I have strained myself to please her night and day I wonder why we citizens should get children so fretful and untoward in the breeding, their fathers being for the most part as gentle as milch kine [Aside ]—Shall I leave thee, my Pru ? 40

Mis G Fie, fie, fie !

Gal Thou shalt not be vexed no more, pretty kind rogue, take no cold, sweet Pru ? [Exit]

Laxton, with bays

Crown I thy wit for this, it deserves praise

This makes me affect thee more, this proves thee wise

'Lack, what poor shift is love forc'd to devise!—

To th' point [Reads letter] O sweet creature—a sweet beginning!—pardon my long absence, for thou shalt shortly be possessed with my presence though Demopho[o]n was false to Phyllis, I will be to thee as Pan da'us was to Cres sida<sup>1</sup> though Æneas made an ass of Dido, I will die to thee ere I do so O sweetest creature, make much of me! for no man beneath the silver moon shall make more of a woman than I do of thee furnish me therefore with thirty pounds, you must do it of necessity for me, I languish till I see some comfort come from thee Protesting not to die in t<sup>h</sup> debt, but rather to live, so as hitherto I have and will,

Re enter GALLIPOT hastily

Gal Nay, nay, wife, the women are all up—Ha ! how ? reading a' letters ? I smell a goose, a couple of capons, and a gammon of bacon, from her mother out of the country I hold my life—steal, steal——

[Aside

Mis G O, beshrew your heart !

Gal What letter's that ? I'll see't 80

[Mis G tears the letter

Mis G O, would thou had'st no eyes to see the downfal

Of me and [of] thyself ! I am for ever,
For ever I'm undone !

Gal What ails my Pru ?

What paper's that thou tear'st ?

Mis G Would I could tear

My very heart in pieces ! for my soul
Lies on the rack of shame, that tortures me
Beyond a woman's suffering

Gal What means this ?

Mis G Had you no other vengeance to throw down,
But even in height of all my joys——

Gal Dear woman——

Mis G When the full sea of pleasure and content 90 Seem'd to flow over me ?

Gal As thou desir'st

To keep me out of Bedlam, tell what troubles thee '
Is not thy child at nurse fallen sick, or dead ?

Mis G O, no !

Gal Heavens bless me ! are my barns and houses Yonder at Hockley hole consum'd with fire ?

I can build more, sweet Pru

Mis G 'Tis worse, 'tis worse !

Gal My factor broke ? or is the Jonas sunk ?

Mis G Would all we had were swallow'd in the waves,

Rather than both should be the scorn of slaves ! 100

Gal I'm at my wit's end

Mis G O my dear husband !

Where once I thought myself a fixed star,

Plac'd only in the heaven of thine arms,

I fear now I shall prove a wanderer

O Laxton, Laxton ! is it then my fate

To be by thee o'erthrown ?

Gal Defend me, wisdom,

From falling into frenzy ! On my knees,

Sweet Pru, speak , what's that Laxton, who so heavy

Lies on thy bosom ?

Mis G I shall sure run mad !

Gal I shall run mad for company then    Speak to me , 110

I'm Gallipot thy husband—Pru—why, Pru

Art sick in conscience for some villanous deed

Thou wert about to act ? didst mean to rob me ?

Tush, I forgive thee    hast thou on my bed

Thrust my soft pillow under another's head ?

I'll wink at all faults, Pru 'las, that's no more Than what some neighbours near thee have done before !

Sweet honey Pru, what's that Laxton ?

Mis G O !

Gal Out with him !

Mis G O, he's born to be my undoer ! 120

This hand, which thou call'st thine, to him was given,
To him was I made sure <sup>1</sup> i' th' sight of heaven

Gal I never heard this thunder

Mis G Yes, yes, before

I was to thee contracted, to him I swore Since last I saw him,<sup>2</sup> twelve months three times told
The moon hath drawn through her light silver bow ,
For o'er the seas he went, and it was said,
But rumour lies, that he in France was dead
But he's alive, O he's alive ! he sent That letter to me, which in rage I rent , 130
Swearing with oaths most damnably to have me,
Or tear me from this bosom O heavens, save me !

Gal My heart will break , sham'd and undone for ever !

These particular lines may be Dekker's but the greater part of the scene I believe to be by Middleton who has a similar scene in A Trick to Catch the Old One, where the Courtesan feigns to have been pre contracted to Witgood

Mis G So black a day, poor wretch, went o'er thee never !

Gal If thou should'st wrestle with him at the law,

Gal I'll buy thee of him, stop his mouth with gold Think'st thou 'twill do ?

Mis G O me ! heavens grant it would !
Yet now my senses are set more in tune

That he in riding up and down had spent,
Ere he could find me, thirty pounds send that ,
Stand not on thirty with him

I'll pay it him with my tears , he was a man,
When first I knew him, of a meek spint,
All goodness is not yet dried up, I hope

And follow the same studies all alike

Scholars learn first logic and rhetoric,

So does a prisoner with fine honey'd speech

At's first coming in he doth persuade, beseech

He may be lodg'd with one that is not itchy,

To he in a clean chamber, in sheets not lousy,

But when he has no money, then does he try,

Moll This Holborn is such a wrangling street !

Trap That's because lawyers walks to and fro in't.

Moll Here's such jostling, as if every one we met were drunk and reeled

Trap Stand, mistress ! do you not smell carrion ?

Moll Carrion ? no , yet I spy ravens

Trap Some poor, wind-shaken gallant will anon fall into sore labour, and these men-midwives<sup>1</sup> must bring him to bed i' the Counter there all those that are great with child with debts lie in 200

Moll Stand up

Trap Like your new Maypole

Han Whist, whew !

Cur Hump, no

Moll Peeping ? it shall go hard, huntsmen, but I'll spoil your game They look for all the world like two infected malt-men coming muffled up in their cloaks in a frosty morning to London

Trap A course, captain , a bear comes to the stake

Enter JACK DAPPER and GULL

Moll It should be so, for the dogs struggle to be let loose 211

Han Whew !

Cur Hemp

Moll Hark, Trapdoor, follow your leader

J Dap Gull

Gull Master ?

J Dap Didst ever see such an ass as I am, boy ?

Gull No, by my troth, sir, to lose all your money, yet have false dice of your own, why, 'tis as I saw a great fellow used t'other day, he had a fair sword and buckler, and yet a butcher dry beat him with a cudgel 222

Trap<sup>1</sup> Honest servant, fly !

Moll Fly, master Dapper ! you'll be arrested else

J Dap Run, Gull, and draw

Gull Run, master, Gull follows you

[Exeunt DAPPER and GULL]

Cur [MOLL holding him] I know you well enough, you're but a whore to hang upon any man !

Moll Whores, then, are like sergeants, so now hang you — Draw, rogue, but strike not for a broken pate they'll keep their beds, and recover twenty marks damages 232

Cur You shall pay for this rescue — Run down Shoe Lane and meet him

<sup>1</sup> Old ed "Both Honest Serieant fly fie Maister Dapper," &c

Trap Shu ' is this a rescue, gentlemen, or no ?

Moll Rescue ? a pox on 'em ! Trapdoor, let's away ,

[Exeunt CURTLEAX and HANGER

I'm glad I've done perfect one good work to day

If any gentleman be in scrivener's bands,

Send but for Moll, she'll bail him by these hands

ACT IV

Enter Sir ALEXANDER WENGRAVE

S Alex Unhappy in the follies of a son, Led against judgment, sense, obedience,
And all the powers of nobleness and wit<sup>1</sup>

O wretched father<sup>1</sup>—Now, Trapdoor, will she come?

Trap In man's apparel, sir, I'm in her heart now,
And share in all her secrets

S Alex Peace, peace, peace!
Here, take my German watch,<sup>1</sup> hang't up in sight,
That I may see her hang in English for't

Trap I warrant you for that now, next sessions rids her, sir This watch will bring her in better than a hundred constables

[Hangs up the watch]

S Alex Good Trapdoor, sayst thou so? thou cheer'st my heart

12

<sup>1</sup> See note 2, vol III p 317

After a storm of sorrow My gold chain too , Here, take a hundred marks in yellow links

Trap That will do well to bring the watch to light,
sir ,

And worth a thousand of your headborough's lanterns

S Alex Place that a' the court cupboard ,<sup>1</sup> let it lie Full in the view of her thief whorish eye

Trap She cannot miss it, sir , I see't so plain,
That I could steal't myself [Places the chain

S Alex Perhaps thou shalt too, 20

That or something as weighty what she leaves

Thou shalt come closely in and filch away,

And all the weight upon her back I'll lay

Trap You cannot assure that, sir

S Alex No? what lets it?

Trap Being a stout girl, perhaps she'll desure pressing ,
Then all the weight must lie upon her belly

S Alex Belly or back, I care not, so I've one

Trap You're of my mind for that, sir

S Alex Hang up my ruff band with the diamond at it ,

It may be she'll like that best 30

Trap It's well for her, that she must have her choice , he thinks nothing too good for her [Aside ]—If you hold on this mind a little longer, it shall be the first work I do to turn thief myself , [t]would do a man good to be hanged when he is so well provided for [Hangs up the ruff-band

<sup>1</sup> A moveable side board on which plate was displayed We also find the term cupboard of plate

S Alex So, well said, all hangs well would she hung so too !

The sight would please me more than all their glisterings
O that my mysteries<sup>1</sup> to such straits should run,
That I must rob myself to bless my son ! [Exeunt

Enter SEBASTIAN WENGRAVE, MARY FITZALLARD dis- guised as a page, and MOLL in her male dress

Seb Thou'st done me a kind office, without touch Either of sin or shame, our loves are honest 41

Moll I'd scorn to make such shift to bring you to gether else

Seb Now have I time and opportunity Without all fear to bid thee welcome, love !

[Kisses MARY

Mary Never with more desire and harder venture !

Moll How strange this shows, one man to kiss another !

Seb I'd kiss such men to choose, Moll, Methinks a woman's lip tastes well in a doublet

Moll Many an old madam has the better fortune
then, 50

Whose breaths grew stale before the fashion came
If that will help 'em, as you think 'twill do,
They'll learn in time to pluck on the hose too

Seb The older they wax, Moll, troth I speak seriously, As some have a conceit their drink tastes better

In an outlandish cup than in our own,
So methinks every kiss she gives me now
In this strange form is worth a pair of two Here we are safe, and furthest from the eye
Of all suspicion, this is my father's chamber, 60
Upon which floor he never steps till night
Here he mistrusts me not, nor I his coming,
At mine own chamber he still pries unto me,
My freedom is not there at mine own finding,
Still check'd and curb'd, here he shall miss his purpose

Moll And what's your business, now you have your mind, sir?

At your great suit I promis'd you to come
I pitied her for name's sake, that a Moll Should be so crost in love, when there's so many
That owes nine lays<sup>1</sup> a piece, and not so little 70
My tailor fitted her, how like you his work?

Seb So well, no art can mend it, for this purpose
But to thy wit and help we're chief in debt,
And must live still beholding

Moll Any honest pity
I'm willing to bestow upon poor ringdoves

Seb I'll offer no worse play

Moll Nay, and you should, sir,
I should draw first, and prove the quicker man

Seb Hold, there shall need no weapon at this meeting,
But 'cause thou shalt not loose thy fury idle,

Here take this viol, run upon the guts,
And end thy quarrel singing

[Takes down and gives her a viol

Moll Like a swan above bridge,<sup>1</sup>

For look you here's the bridge,<sup>2</sup> and here am I

Seb Hold on, sweet Moll !

Mary I've heard her much commended, sir, for one
That was ne'er taught

Moll I'm much beholding to 'em
Well, since you'll needs put us together, sir,
I'll play my part as well as I can it shall ne'er
Be said I came into a gentleman's chamber,
And let his instrument hang by the walls

Seb Why, well said, Moll, r'faith, it had been a shame for that gentleman then that would have let it hung still, and ne'er offered thee it

Moll There it should have been still then for Moll,
For though the world judge impudently of me,
I never came into that chamber yet
Where I took down the instrument myself

Seb Pish, let 'em prate abroad, thou'rt here where thou art known and loved, there be a thousand close dames that will call the viol an unmannerly instrument for a woman, and therefore talk broadly of thee, when you shall have them sit wider to a worse quality

Moll Push,

I ever fall asleep and think not of 'em, sir,
And thus I dream

Seb Prithee, let's hear thy dream, Moll

Moll [sings]

*I dream there is a mistress,
And she lays out the money,
She goes unto her sisters,
She never comes at any*

Re enter SIR ALEXANDER behind

*She says she went to th' Burse<sup>1</sup> for patterns,

Seb That's a free mistress, faith<sup>1</sup>

S Alex Ay, ay, ay,

Like her that sings it, one of thine own choosing
[Aside]

Moll But shall I dream again? [Sings]

*Here comes a wench will brave ye,
Her courage was so great,
She lay with one of the navy,
Her husband lying i' the Fleet
Yet oft with him she cavell'd, 120
I wonder what she ails
Her husband's ship lay gravell'd,
When her's could hoise up sails
Yet she began, like all my foes,*

*To call whore first , for so do those—
A pox of all false tails !*

Seb Marry, amen, say I !

S Alex So say I too [Aside

Moll Hang up the viol now, sir all this while I was in a dream, one shall lie rudely then ,
But being awake, I keep my legs together 130
A watch ? what's a' clock here ?

S Alex Now, now she's trapt ! [Aside

Moll Between one and two, nay, then I care not A watch and a musician are cousin germans in one thing, they must both keep time well, or there's no goodness in 'em, the one else deserves to be dashed against a wall, and t'other to have his brains knocked out with a fiddle case

What ! a loose chain and a dangling diamond ?
Here were a brave booty for an evening thief now
There's many a younger brother would be glad 140
To look twice in at a window for't,
And wriggle in and out, like an eel in a sand bag
O, if men's secret youthful faults should judge 'em,
'Twould be the general'st execution
That e'er was seen in England !

There would be but few left to sing the ballads,
There would be so much work most of our brokers
Would be chosen for hangmen , a good day for them ,
They might renew their wardrobes of free cost then

Seb This is the roaring wench must do us good 150

Mary No poison, sir, but serves us for some use ,
Which is confirm'd in her

Seb Peace, peace—

'Foot, I did hear him sure, where'er he be

Moll Who did you hear?

Seb My father,

'Twas like a sigh<sup>1</sup> of his I must be wary

S Alex No? wilt not be? am I alone so wretched

That nothing takes? I'll put him to his plunge<sup>2</sup> for't

[Aside

Seb Life! here he comes—Sir, I beseech you take it Your way of teaching does so much content me, 161

I'll make it four pound, here's forty shillings, sir—

I think I name it right—help me, good Moll—

Forty in hand [Offering money

Moll Sir, you shall pardon me

I've more of the meanest scholar I can teach,

This pays me more than you have offer'd yet

Seb At the next quarter,

When I receive the means my father 'lows me,

You shall have t'other forty

S Alex This were well now,

Were't to a man whose sorrows had blind eyes 170

But mine behold his follies and untruths

With two clear glasses [Aside—then coming forward

How now?

Seb Sir?

S Alex What's he there?

Seb You're come in good time, sir, I've a suit to you, I'd crave your present kindness

<sup>2</sup> Difficulty, straits See Halliwell's Nares

S Alex What's he there

Seb A gentleman, a musician, sir, one of excellent fingering

S Alex Ay, I think so,—I wonder how they 'scap'd her [Aside

Seb Has the most delicate stroke, sir

S Alex A stroke indeed <sup>1</sup>—I feel it at my heart

[Aside

Seb Puts down all your famous musicians 180

S Alex Ay, a whore may put down a hundred of 'em [Aside

Seb Forty shillings is the agreement, sir, between us
Now, sir, my present means mounts but to half on't

S Alex And he stands upon the whole?

Seb Ay, indeed does he, sir

S Alex And will do still, he'll ne'er be in other tale

Seb Therefore I'd stop his mouth, sir, and <sup>1</sup> I could

S Alex Hum, true, there is no other way indeed,— His folly hardens, shame must needs succeed —

[Aside

Now, sir, I understand you profess music

Moll I'm a poor servant to that liberal science, sir 190

S Alex Where is't you teach?

Moll Right against Clifford's Inn

S Alex Hum, that's a fit place for't you've many scholars?

Moll And some of worth, whom I may call my masters

---

<sup>1</sup> If

S Alex Ay, true, a company of whoremasters

[Aside

You teach to sing, too?

Moll Marry, do I, sir

S Alex I think you'll find an apt scholar of my son,

Especially for prick song

Moll I've much hope of him

S Alex I'm sorry for't, I have the less for that

[Aside

You can play any lesson?

Moll At first sight, sir

S Alex There's a thing call'd the Witch, can you play that? 200

Moll I would be sorry any one should mend me in't

S Alex Ay, I believe thee, thou'st so bewitch'd my son,

No care will mend the work that thou hast done

I have bethought myself, since my art fails,

I'll make her policy the art to trap her

Here are four angels mark'd with holes in them

Fit for his crack'd companions gold he'll give her,

These will I make induction to her ruin,

And rid shame from my house, grief from my heart

[Aside

Here, son, in what you take content and pleasure, 210

Want shall not curb you, pay the gentleman

His latter half in gold

[Gives money

Seb I thank you, sir

S Alex O may the operation on't end three,
In her life, shame in him, and grief in me<sup>1</sup>

[Aside, and exit

Seb Faith, thou shalt have 'em, 'tis my father's gift Never was man beguil'd with better shift

Moll He that can take me for a male musician,
I can't choose but make him my instrument,
And play upon him [Exit

Before GALLIPOT'S Shop

Enter MISTRESS GALLIPOT and MISTRESS OPENWORK

Mis G Is, then, that bird of yours, master Goshawk, so wild<sup>2</sup>

Mis O A Goshawk<sup>2</sup> a puttock,<sup>1</sup> all for prey he angles for fish, but he loves flesh better

Mis G Is't possible his smooth face should have wrinkles in't, and we not see them?

Mis O Possible<sup>2</sup> why, have not many handsome legs in silk stockings villanous splay feet, for all their great roses<sup>2</sup>

Mis O For all the world so does master Goshawk double with me

Mis G O, fie upon him if he double once, he's not for me

Mis G 'Las, I think he takes his mark amiss in thee<sup>1</sup>

Mis O He has, by often beating into me, made me believe that my husband kept a whore

Mis G Very good

Mis O Swore to me that my husband this very morning went in a boat, with a tilt over it, to the Three Pigeons at Brainford, and his punk with him under his tilt 30

Mis G That were wholesome

Mis O I believed it, fell a swearing at him, cursing

A Street

Enter JACK DAPPER, MOLL, SIR BEAUTEOUS GANYMEDE, and SIR THOMAS LONG

J Dap But, prithee, master captain Jack, be plain and perspicuous with me, was it your Meg<sup>1</sup> of Westminster's courage that rescued me from the Poultry puttocks<sup>2</sup> indeed?

Moll The valour of my wit, I ensure you, sir, fetched you off bravely, when you were i' the forlorn hope among those desperates. Sir Beauteous Ganymede here, and sir Thomas Long, heard that cuckoo, my man Trapdoor, sing the note of your ransom from captivity.

S Beau Uds so, Moll, where's that Trapdoor? 10

Moll Hanged, I think, by this time a justice in this

---

<sup>1</sup> A virago whose exploits are celebrated in a black letter tract entitled The life and pranks of long Meg of Westminster 1582 (re issued in 1635). She was the heroine of a lost play acted in 1594-5. See Henslowe's Diary p. 49. From Field's Amends for Ladies we learn that a play of Long Meg was acted at the Fortune (circ. 1618). She is introduced in the anti masque of Ben Jonson's Fortunate Isles.

Like one that gives alms to a cursing beggar
Had I but found one spark of goodness in you Toward my deserving child, which then grew fond
Of your son's virtues, I had eas'd you now,
But I perceive both fire of youth and goodness
Are rak'd up in the ashes of your age,
Else no such shame should have come near your house,
Nor such ignoble sorrow touch your heart

S Alex If not for worth, for pity's sake assist me !

Green You urge a thing past sense, how can he help
you? 41

All his assistance is as frail as ours
Full as uncertain where's the place that holds 'em,

With a full charg'd mouth, like a culverin's voice,
And he reports the Tower whose sounds are truest?

In taxing me for rashness, 'fore you all
I will engage my state to half his wealth,
Nay, to his son's revenues, which are less,
And yet nothing at all till they come from him,
That I could, if my will stuck to my power,
Prevent this marriage yet, nay, banish her 60
For ever from his thoughts, much more his arms

S Alex Slack not this goodness, though you heap upon me

Mountains of malice and revenge hereafter !
I'd willingly resign up half my state to him,
So he would marry the meanest drudge I hire

S Guy I talk no more than I know how to finish, My fortunes else are his that dares stake with me
The poor young gentleman I love and pity ,
And to keep shame from him (because the spring 70
Of his affection was my daughter's first,
Till his frown blasted all), do but estate him
In those possessions which your love and care
Once pointed out for him, that he may have room
To entertain fortunes of noble birth,
Where now his desperate wants casts him upon her ,
And if I do not, for his own sake chiefly,

Rid him of this disease that now grows on him,
I'll forfeit my whole state before these gentlemen

Green Troth, but you shall not undertake such matches, 80

We'll persuade so much with you

S Alex Here's my ring [Gives ring

sweet 200

Here, honest son, receive into thy hands
The keys of wealth, possession of those lands
Which my first care provided , they're thine own ,

Heaven give thee a blessing with 'em ' the best joys
That can in worldly shapes to man betide
Are fertile lands and a fair fruitful bride,
Of which I hope thou'rt sped

Seb I hope so too, sir

Moll Father and son, I ha' done you simple service here

Seb For which thou shalt not part, Moll, unrequited

S Alex Thou'rt a mad girl, and yet I cannot now 210 Condemn thee

Moll Condemn me? troth, and you should, sir, I'd make you seek out one to hang in my room
I'd give you the slip at gallows, and cozen the people Heard you this jest, my lord?

L Nol What is it, Jack?

Moll He was in fear his son would marry me,
But never dream't that I would ne'er agree

L Nol Why, thou had'st a suitor once, Jack when wilt marry?

Moll Who, I, my lord? I'll tell you when, i'faith, When you shall hear

Gallants void from sergeants' fear, 220
Honesty and truth unslander'd,
Woman mann'd, but never pander'd, Cheats<sup>1</sup> bootied, but not coach'd,
Vessels older ere they're broach'd,
If my mind be then not varied,
Next day following I'll be married

<sup>1</sup> Dyce suggests "cheators" (for which see note 1 p 136), a more rhythmical reading

L Nol This sounds like doomsday

Moll Then were marriage best ,

For if I should repent, I were soon at rest

S Alex In troth thou'rt a good wench I'm sorry

The opinion was so hard I conceiv'd of thee 230

Some wrongs I've done thee

Trap Is the wind there now ?

'Tis time for me to kneel and confess first,

For fear it come too late, and my brains feel it [Aside

Upon my paws I ask you pardon, mistress !

Moll Pardon ! for what, sir ? what has your roguiship done now ?

Trap I've been from time to time hired to confound
you

By this old gentleman

Moll How ?

Trap Pray, forgive him

But may I counsel you, you should never do't

Many a snare t' entrap your worship's life

Have I laid privily , chains, watches, jewels , 240

And when he saw nothing could mount you up,

Four hollow hearted angels he then gave you,

By which he meant to trap you, I to save you

S Alex To all which shame and grief in me cry guilty

Forgive me now I cast the world's eyes from me,

And look upon thee freely with mine own,
 I see the most of many wrongs before me,<sup>1</sup>
 Cast from the jaws of Envy and her people,
 And nothing foul but that I'll never more Condemn by common voice, for that's the whore 250
 That deceives man's opinion, mocks his trust, Cozens his love, and makes his heart unjust

Moll Here be the angels, gentlemen, they were given me

As a musician I pursue no pity,
 Follow the law, and you can cuckold<sup>2</sup> me, spare not,
 Hang up my viol by me, and I care not.

S Alex So far I'm sorry, I'll thrice double 'em,
 To make thy wrongs amends
 Come, worthy friends, my honourable lord,
 Sir Beauteous Ganymede, and noble Fitzallard, 260
 And you kind gentlewomen, whose sparkling presence
 Are glories set in marriage, beams of society,
 For all your loves give lustre to my joys
 The happiness of this day shall be remember'd
 At the return of every smiling spring,
 In my time now 'tis born; and may no sadness
 Sit on the brows of men upon that day,
 But as I am, so all go pleas'd away!<sup>3</sup> [Exeunt omnes

EPILOGUE

A painter having drawn with curious art
The picture of a woman, every part Limn'd to the life, hung out the piece to sell
People who pass'd along, viewing it well,
Gave several verdicts on it some disprais'd
The hair, some said the brows too high were rais'd ,
Some hit her o'er the lips, mishik'd their colour ,
Some wish'd her nose were shorter , some, the eyes fuller ,
Others said roses on her cheeks should grow,
Swearing they look'd too pale , others cried no
The workman still, as fault was found, did mend it,
In hope to please all but this work being ended,
And hung open at stall, it was so vile,
So monstrous, and so ugly, all men did smile
At the poor painter's folly Such, we doubt,
Is this our comedy some perhaps do flout
The plot, saying, 'tis too thin, too weak, too mean ,
Some for the person will revile the scene,
And wonder that a creature of her being Should be the subject of a poet, seeing
In the world's eye none weighs so light others look

For all those base tricks, publish'd in a book <sup>1</sup>
Foul as his brains they flow'd from, of cutpurse[s],
Of nips and foists, nasty, obscene discourses,
As full of lies as empty of worth or wit,
For any honest ear or eye unfit
And thus,
If we to every brain that's humorous
Should fashion scenes, we, with the painter, shall,
In striving to please all, please none at all 30
Yet for such faults as either the witer's wit
Or negligence of the actors do commit,
Both crave your pardons if what both have done
Cannot full pay your expectation,
The Roaring Girl herself, some few days hence,
Shall on this stage give larger recompence
Which mirth that you may share in, herself does woo
you,
And craves this sign, your hands to beckon her to you

TO THE NOBLY DISPOSED, VIRTUOUS, AND FAITHFUL BREASTED

ROBERT GREY, ESQUIRE,

ONE OF THE GROOMS OF HIS HIGHNESS' BED CHAMBER,

His poor well willer wisheth his best wishes, huc et supra

'Tis but a play, and a play is but a butt, against which many shoot many arrows of envy, 'tis the weaker part, and how much more noble shall it be in you to defend it yet if it be (as some philosophers have left behind 'em), that this megacosm, this great world, is no more than a stage, where every one must act his part, you shall of necessity have many partakers, some long, some short, some indifferent, all some, whilst indeed the players themselves have the least part of it, for I know few that have lands (which are a part of the world), and therefore no grounded men, but howsoever they serve for mutes, happily they must wear good clothes for attendance, yet all have exits, and must all be stript in the tiring-house (viz the grave), for none must carry any thing out of the stock You see, sir, I write as I speak, and I speak as I am, and that's excuse enough for me I did not mean to write an epistle of praise to you , it looks so like a thing I know you love not, flattery, which you exceedingly hate actively, and unpleasingly accept passively indeed, I meant to tell you your own, that is, that this child of the Muses is yours , whoever begat it, 'tis laid to your charge, and, for aught I know, you must father and keep it too if it please you, I hope you shall not be ashamed of it neither, for it has been seen, though I say it, in good companies, and many have said it is a handsome, pretty spoken infant Now be your own judge , at your leisure look on it, at your pleasure laugh at it , and if you be sorry it is no better, you may be glad it is no bigger

Yours ever,

WILLIAM ROWLEY

ACT I

SCENE I

A Court before RUSSELL's House

Enter RUSSELL

Rus It must be all my care, there's all my love,
And that pulls on the other <sup>1</sup> Had I been left
In a son behind me, while I had been here
He should have shifted as I did before him,
Liv'd on the freeborn portion of his wit,
But a daughter, and that an only one,—O,
We cannot be too careful o' her, too tender!
'Tis such
A brittle niceness, a mere cupboard of glasses,
The least shake breaks or cracks 'em All my aim is to
To cast her upon riches, that's the thing
We rich men call perfection, for the world
Can perfect nought without it 'tis not neatness,

<sup>1</sup> Old eds the tother

Either in handsome wit or handsome outside,
With which one gentleman, far in debt, has courted
her,

Which boldness he shall rue He thinks me blind
And ignorant I've let him play a long time,
Seem'd to believe his worth, which I know nothing
He may perhaps laugh at my easy confidence,
Which closely I requite upon his fondness, 20
For this hour snaps him, and before his mistress,
His saint, forsooth, which he inscribes my girl,
He shall be rudely taken and disgrac'd
The trick will prove an everlasting scarecrow
To fright poor gallants from our rich men's daughters

Enter LADY AGER and two Servants

Sister ! I've such a joy to make you a welcome of,
Better you never tasted

Lady Ager Good, sir, spare it not

Rus Colonel's come, and your son captain Ager

Lady Ager My son ? [Weeps]

Rus I know your eye would be first serv'd, That's the soul's taster still for grief or joy 30

Lady Ager O, if a mother's dear suit may prevail with him,

From England he shall never part again !

Rus No question he'll be rul'd, and grant you that

Lady Ager I'll bring all my desires to that request

[Exit with Servants]

Rus Affectionate sister ! she has no daughter now ,

It follows all the love must come to him,
And he has a worth deserves it, were it dearer

Enter Friend of the Colonel and Friend of

CAPTAIN AGER

Col's Fr I must not give way to't

Rus What's here to question ? [Aside

Col's Fr Compare young captain Ager with the Colonel !

Cap's Fr Young ? why, do you 40

Make youth stand for an imputation ?

That which you now produce for his disgrace

Infers his nobleness, that, being young,

Should have an anger more inclin'd to courage

And moderation than the Colonel

A virtue as rare as chastity in youth,

And let the cause be good—conscience in him,

Which ever crowns his acts, and is indeed

Valour's prosperity—he dares then as much

As ever made him famous that you plead for 50

Col's Fr Then I forbear too long

Cap's Fr His worth for me ! [They fight

Rus Here's noble youths ! belike some wench has cross'd 'em,

And now they know not what to do with their blood

[Aside

Enter the Colonel and CAPTAIN AGER

Col How now ?

Cap Ager Hold, hold ! what's the incitement ?

Col So serious at your game! come come, the quarrel?

Col's Fr Nothing, good faith, sir

Col Nothing? and you bleed?

Col's Fr Bleed! where? pish, a little scratch by chance, sir

Col What need this niceness,<sup>1</sup> when you know so well

That I must know these things, and truly know 'em?
Your daintiness makes me but more impatient, 60
This strange concealment frets me

Col's Fr Words did pass

Which I was bound to answer, as my opinion
And love instructed me,
And should I take in general fame into 'em,
I think I should commit no error in't

Col What words, sir, and of whom?

Col's Fr This gentleman

Parallel'd captain Ager's worth with yours

Col With mine?

Col's Fr It was a thing I could not listen to With any patience

Cap Ager What should ail you, sir? 70

There was little wrong done to your friend i' that

Col How? little wrong to me?

Cap Ager I said so, friend,
And I suppose that you'll esteem it so

Col Comparisons!

Cap Ager Why, sir, 'twixt friend and friend
There is so even and level a degree,
It will admit of no superlative

Col Not in terms of manhood ?

Rus [coming forward] Nay, gentlemen——

Col Good sir, give me leave—in terms of manhood,
What can you dispute more questionable ?
You're a captain, sir, I give you all your due 80

Cap Ager And you are a colonel, a title
Which may include within it many captains
Yet, sir, but throwing by those titular shadows,
Which add no substance to the men themselves,
And take them uncompounded, man and man,
They may be so with fair equality

Col You're a boy, sir !

Cap Ager And you have a beard, sir Virginity and marriage are both worthy,
And the positive purity there are some Have made the nobler

Col How now ?

Rus Nay, good sir——

90

Cap Ager I shrink not, he that goes the foremost may

Be overtaken

Col Death, how am I weigh'd !

Cap Ager In an even balance, sir, a beard put in Gives but a small advantage man and man,
And lift the scales

Col Patience shall be my curse,
If it ride me further !

[They draw their swords]

Rus How now, gallants?
 Believe me then, I must give aim<sup>1</sup> no longer
 Can words beget swords, and bring 'em forth, ha?
 Come, they're abortive propagations,
 Hide 'em, for shame! I had thought soldiers 100
 Had been musical, would not strike out of time,
 But to the consort<sup>2</sup> of drum, trumps, and fife
 'Tis madman like to dance without music,
 And most displeasing shows to the beholders,
 A Lydian ditty to a Dorian note Friends embrace with steel hands! fie, it meets too hard!

I must have those encounters here debarr'd

Col Shall I lose here what I have safe brought home Through many dangers?

Cap Ager What's that, sir?

Col My fame,
 Life of the life, my reputation 110
 Death! I am squar'd and measur'd out,
 My heights, depths, breadth, all my dimensions taken!
 Sure I have yet beyond your astrolabe
 A spirit unbounded

Cap Ager Sir, you might weigh——

Rus Tush!

All this is weighing fire, vain and fruitless
 The further it runs into argument,
 The further plung'd, beseech you, no more on't
 I have a little claim, sir, in your blood,

---

As near as the brother to your mother,
 If that may serve for power to move your quiet, 120
 The rest I shall make up with courtesy
 And an uncle's love

Cap Ager I have done, sir, but——

Rus But ? I'll have no more shooting at these butts

Col We'll to pricks<sup>1</sup> when he please

Rus You rove all still

Sir, I have no motive proof to digest<sup>2</sup>
 Your raised choler back into temperate blood,
 But if you'll make mine age a counsellor,—
 As all ages have hitherto allow'd it,
 Wisdom in men grows up as years increase,—
 You shall make me blessed in making peace, 130
 And do your judgment right

Col In peace at home

Grey hairs are senators, but to determine Soldiers and their actions——

Enter FITZALLEN and JANE

Rus 'Tis peace here, sir

And see, here comes a happy interim,
 Here enters now a scene of loving arms,

 Have laid my spirit so

Fitz Worthy coz,

Fitz I hope so, sir

Rus Hope? nay, 'tis past all hope, son
 Here has been such a stormy encounter 'twixt<sup>1</sup>
 My cousin<sup>2</sup> captain and this brave Colonel,
 About I know not what—nothing indeed—
 Competitions, degrees, and comparatives
 Of soldiership, but this smooth passage of love

Jane Ay me!

Rus Stay, stay, gentlemen, let's inquire the cause
It may be but a trifle, a small debt.

Shall need no rescue here

Sec Serg Sir, betwixt three creditors, master Leach, master Swallow, and master Bonesuck, the debts are a thousand pounds 280

Rus A thousand pounds! beshrow<sup>1</sup> me, a good<sup>2</sup> man's substance!

Col Good sir, our weapons! we'll teach these varlets to walk.

In their own parti colour'd coats, that they May be distinguished from honest men

First Serg Sir, attempt no rescue, he's our prisoner You'll make the danger worse by violence

Col A plague upon your gunpowder treason, Ye quick damn'd varlets! is this your saltpetre proving,
Your tasting earth? would you might ne'er feed better, Nor none of your catchpoll tribe!—Our weapons, good
sir! 290

We'll yet deliver him

Rus Pardon me, sir,
I dare not suffer [any] rescue here,
At least not by so great an accessary
As to furnish you had you had your weapons—
But to see the ill fate on't!—My fine trick, i'faith!
Let beggars beware to love rich men's daughters
I'll teach 'em the new morrice, I learnt it myself
Of another careful father [Aside]

Fitz May I not be bail'd?

Sec Serg Yes, but not with swords

Col Slaves, here are sufficient men!

First Serg Ay, i' th' field, 300

<sup>1</sup> z e beshrew" (the reading of cd 1622)

Dyce

But not in the city — Sir, if this gentleman
Will be one, we'll easily admit the second

Rus Who, I? sir, pray, pardon me I am wrong'd, Very much wrong'd in this, I must needs speak it —
Sir, you have not dealt like an honest lover
With me nor my child here you boast to me
Of a great revenue, a large substance,
Wherein you would endow and state my daughter
Had I miss'd this, my opinion yet<sup>1</sup>
Thought you a frugal man, to understand 310
The sure wards against all necessities,
Boldly to defend your wife and family,
To walk unmuff'd, dreadless of these flesh hooks,
Even in the daring'st streets through all the city,
But now I find you a loose prodigal,
A large unthrift a whole thousand pound! —
Come from him, girl, his inside is not sound

Fitz Sir, I am wrong'd, these are malicious plots
Of some obscure enemies that I have,
These debts are none of mine

Rus Ay, all say so 320
Perhaps you stand engag'd for other men,
If so you do, you must then call't your own
The like arrearage do I run into Should I bail you, but I have vow'd against it,
And I will keep my vows, that is religious

<sup>1</sup> By reading 'yet my opinion' we should have a smoother line, but the numerous metrical irregularities that we find in the present scene are not due (meo iudicio) to corruption of the text but to Rowley's natural ruggedness

Fitz All this is nothing so, sir

Rus Nothing so ?

By my faith, 'tis, sir, my vows are firm

Fitz I neither

Owe these debts, nor [am I] engag'd for others

Rus The easier is your liberty regain'd

These appear proofs to me

Col Liberty, sir ?

330

I hope you will not see him go to prison

Rus I do not mean to bear him company

So far, but I will see him out of my doors

O, sir, let him go to prison ! 'tis a school

To tame wild bloods, he'll be much better for't

Col Better for lying in prison ?

Rus In prison, believe it,

Many an honest man lies in prison, else all

The keepers are knaves, they told me so them selves

Col Sir, I do now suspect you have betray'd him

And us, to cause us to be weaponless

340

If it be so, you're a blood sucking churl,

One that was born in a great fiost, when charity

Could not stir a finger, and you shall die

In heat of a burning fever i' th' dog days,

To begin your hell to you I've said your grace for
you,

Now get you to supper as soon as you can,

Pluto, the master of the house, is set already

Cap Ager Sir, you do wrong mine uncle

Col Pox on your uncle

And all his kin ! if my kinsman mingle
No blood with him

Cap Ager You are a foul mouth'd fellow ! 350

Col Foul mouth'd I will be—thou'rt the son of a whore !

Cap Ager Ha ! whore ? plagues and furies ! I'll thrust that back,

Or pluck thy heart out after !—son of a whore ?

Col On thy life I'll prove it

Cap Ager Death, I am naked !—

Uncle, I'll give you my left hand for my sword
To arm my right with—O this fire will flame me Into present ashes !

Col Sir, give us weapons,

We ask our own, you will not rob us of them ?

Rus No, sir, but still restrain your furies here
At my door I'll give you them, nor at this time 360
My nephew's, a time will better suit you

And I must tell you, sir, you have spoke swords,
And 'gainst the law of arms, poison'd the blades,
And with them wounded the reputation Of an unblemish'd woman would you were out of my doors !

Col Pox on your doors, and let it run all your house o'er !

Give me my sword !

Cap Ager We shall meet, Colonel ?

Col Yes, better provided to spur thee more,
I do repeat my words—son of a whore !

[Exit with his Friend]

Cap's Fr Come, sir, 'tis no worse than it was, you can 370

Do nothing now [Exit with CAPTAIN AGER

Rus No, I'll bar him now — Away with that beggar !
[Exit

Jane Good sir,
Let this persuade you for two minutes' stay
At this price, I know, you can wait all day

[Giving money

First Serg You know the remora<sup>1</sup> that stays our ship always

Jane Your ship sinks many when this hold lets go — O my Fitzallen ! what is to be done ?

Fitz To be still thine is all my part to be,
Whether in freedom or captivity 380

Jane But art thou so engag'd as this pretends ?

Fitz By heaven, sweet Jane, 'tis all a hellish plot !
Your cruel smiling farther all this while
Has candied o'er a bitter pill for me,
Thinking by my remove to plant some other,
And then let go his fangs

Jane Plant some other ?
Thou hast too firmly stamp'd me for thine own,
Ever to be ras'd out I am not current
In any other's hand, I fear too soon
I shall discover it

Fitz Let come the worst, 390

---

<sup>1</sup> A barnacle It was supposed to have the power of stopping a ship's course by adhering to the rudder — See Pliny's Hist Nat 31 1

Bind but this knot with an unloosed line,
I will be still thine own

Jane And I'll be thine

First Serg My watch has gone two minutes, master

Fitz It shall not be renew'd , I go, sir—Farewell !

Jane Farewell ! we both are prison'd, though not together,

But here's the difference in our luckless chance,
I fear mine own, wish thy deliverance

Fitz Our hearts shall hourly visit I'll send to thee ,

Then 'tis no prison where the mind is free

[Exit with Sergeants]

Re enter RUSSELL

Rus So, let him go !—Now, wench, I bring thee joys, 400

A fair sunshine after this angry storm
It was my policy to remove this beggar
What ? shall rich men wed their only daughters
To two fair suits of clothes, and perhaps yet
The poor tailor is unpaid ? no, no, my girl,
I have a lad of thousands coming in Suppose he have more wealth than wit to guide it,
Why, there's thy gains , thou keep'st the keys of all,
Disposest all , and for generation,
Man does most seldom stamp 'em from the brain , 410
Wise men begets fools, and fools are the fathers
To many wise children , hysteron proteron,
A great scholar may beget an idiot,

And from the plough tail may come a great scholar, Nay, they are frequent propagations

Jane I am not well, sir

Rus Ha ' not well, my girl ?

Thou shalt have a physician then, [i'faith],
 The best that gold can fetch upon his footcloth,<sup>1</sup>
 Thou know'st my tender pity to thee ever,
 Want nothing that thy wishes can instruct thee      420
 To call for,—'fore me, and thou look'st half ill indeed '
 But I'll bring one within a day to thee
 Shall rouse thee up, for he's come up already,
 One master Chough, a Cornish gentleman,
 Has as much land of his own fee simple
 As a crow can fly over in half a day
 And now I think on't, at the Crow at Aldgate
 His lodging is —he shall so stir thee up '—
 Come, come, be cheer'd ' think of thy preferment Honour and attendance, these will bring thee health, 430
 And the way to 'em is to climb by wealth      [Exeunt

A Room in LADY AGER'S House

Enter CAPTAIN AGER

Cap Ager The son of a whore ?
There is not such another murdering piece <sup>1</sup>
In all the stock of calumny , it kills
At one report two reputations,
A mother's and a son's If it were possible
That souls could fight after the bodies fell,
This was a quarrel for 'em , he should be one, indeed,
That never heard of heaven's joys or hell's torments,
To fight this out I am too full of conscience,
Knowledge, and patience, to give justice to't , 10
So careful of my eternity, which consists Of upright actions, that unless I knew
It were a truth I stood for, any coward Might make my breast his foot pace and who lives
That can assure the truth of his conception,

More than a mother's carriage makes it hopeful?
And isn't not miserable valour then,
That man should hazard all upon things doubtful?
O, there's the cruelty of my foe's advantage!
Could but my soul resolve my cause were just,                 20 Earth's mountain nor sea's surge should hide him from me!

E'en to hell's threshold would I follow him,
And see the slanderer in before I left him !
But as it is, it fears<sup>1</sup> me , and I never Appear'd too conscionably just till now
My good opinion of her life and virtues
Bids me go on, and fain would I be rul'd by't,
But when my judgment tells me she's but woman,
Whose fiaulty<sup>2</sup> let in death to all mankind,
My valour shrinks at that    Certain, she's good ,        30
There only wants but my assurance in't,
And all things then were perfect    how I thirst for't !
Here comes the only she that could resolve<sup>3</sup>—
But 'tis too vild<sup>4</sup> a question to demand indeed

Enter LADY AGER

Lady Ager Son, I've a suit to you

Cap Ager That may do well — [Aside
To me, good madam? you're most sure to speed in't, Be't i' my power to grant it

Lady Ager 'Tis my love Makes the request, that you would never part From England more

Cap Ager With all my heart 'tis granted <sup>1</sup>— I'm sure I'm i' the way never to part from't [Aside 40

Lady Ager Where left you your dear friend the Colonel?

Cap Ager O, the dear Colonel,—I should meet him soon

Lady Ager O fail him not then <sup>1</sup> he's a gentle man

The fame and reputation of your time
Is much engag'd to

Cap Ager Yes, and <sup>1</sup> you knew all, mother

Lady Ager I thought I'd known so much of his fan goodness,

More could not have been look'd for

Cap Ager O, yes, yes, madam,

And this his last exceeded all the rest

Lady Ager For gratitude's sake, let me know this, I prthee <sup>1</sup>

Cap Ager Then thus, and I desue your censure <sup>2</sup> freely, 50

Whether it appear'd not a strange noble kindness in him

Lady Ager Trust me, I long to hear't

Cap Ager You know he's hasty,—

That by the way

Lady Ager So are the best conditions,<sup>1</sup> Your father was the like

Cap Ager I begin now
To doubt me more why am not I so too then?
Blood follows blood through forty generations,
And I've a slow pac'd wrath—a shrewd dilemma!<sup>1</sup>

[Aside

Lady Ager Well, as you were saying, sir——

Cap Ager Marry, thus, good madam
There was in company a foul mouth'd villain—
Stay, stay, 60

Who should I liken him to that you have seen?
He comes so near one that I would not match him with,
Faith, just a' th' Colonel's pitch, he's ne'er the worse
man,

Usurers have been compar'd to magistrates,
Extortioners to lawyers, and the like,
But they all prove ne'er the worse men for that

Lady Ager That's bad enough, they need not

Cap Ager This rude fellow,
A shame to all humanity or manners,
Breathes from the rottenness of his gall and malice
The foulest stain that ever man's fame blemish'd, 70
Part of which fell upon your honour, madam,
Which heighten'd my affliction

<sup>1</sup> Dispositions

<sup>2</sup> Properly the height to which a falcon soar'd, then height in general

Lady Ager Mine ? my honour, sir ?

Cap Ager The Colonel, soon enrag'd, as he's all touchwood,

Takes fire before me, makes the quarrel his,
Appoints the field, my wrath could not be heard,
His was so high pitch'd, so gloriously mounted
Now, what's the friendly fear that fights within me,
Should his brave noble fury undertake
A cause that were unjust in our defence,
And so to lose him everlastingly 80
In that dark depth where all bad quarrels sink
Never to rise again, what pity 'twere
First to die here, and never to die there !

Lady Ager Why, what's the quarrel—speak, sir—that should raise Such fearful doubt, my honour bearing part on't ?

The words, whate'er they were

Cap Ager Son of a whore !

Lady Ager Thou liest ! [Strikes him

And were my love ten thousand times more to thee,
Which is as much now as e'er mother's was,
So thou should'st feel my anger Dost thou call 90
That quarrel doubtful ? where are all my merits ?
Not one stand up to tell this man his error ?
Thou might'st as well bring the sun's truth in question
As thy birth or my honour !

Cap Ager Now blessings crown you for't !
It is the joyfull'st blow that e'er flesh felt

Lady Ager Nay, stay, stay, sir, thou art not left so soon

This is no question to be slighted off,
And at your pleasure clos'd up fair again,
As though you'd never touch'd it no, honour doubted
Is honour deeply wounded, and it rages 100
More than a common smart, being of thy making,
For thee to fear my truth, it kills my comfort Where should fame seek for her reward, when he
That is her own by the great tie of blood,
Is farthest off in bounty? O poor goodness!
That only pay'st thyself with thy own works,
For nothing else looks towards thee Tell me, pray,
Which of my loving cares dost thou requite
With this vile<sup>1</sup> thought, which of my prayers or wishes?
Many thou ow'st me for this seven year hast thou known me 110

A widow, only married to my vow,
That's no small witness of my faith and love
To him that in life was thy honour'd father,
And live I now to know that good mistrusted?

Cap Ager No, 't shall appear that my belief is cheerful,

For never was a mother's reputation
Noblier defended 'tis my joy and pride
I have a firm [faith] to bestow upon it

Lady Ager What's that you said, sir?

Cap Ager 'Twere too bold and soon yet
To crave forgiveness of you, I'll earn it first 120 Dead or alive I know I shall enjoy it

Lady Ager What's all this, sir ?

Cap Ager My joy's beyond expression !
I do but think how wretched I had been Were this another's quarrel, and not mine

Lady Ager Why, is it yours ?

Cap Ager Mine ? think me not so miserable,
Not to be mine , then were I worse than abject,
More to be loath'd than vileness or sin's dunghill
Nor did I fear your goodness, faithful madam,
But came with greedy joy to be confirm'd in't,
To give the nobler onset Then shines valour, 130
And admiration from her fix'd sphere draws,
When it comes burnish'd with a righteous cause ,
Without which I'm ten fathoms under coward,
That now am ten degrees above a man,
Which is but one of virtue's easiest wonders

Lady Ager But, pray, stay, all this while I understood you
The Colonel was the man

Cap Ager Yes, he's the man,
The man of injury, reproach, and slander,
Which I must turn into his soul again

Lady Ager The Colonel do't ? that's strange !

Cap Ager The villain did it, 140
That's not so strange —your blessing and your leave

Lady Ager Come, come, you shall not go !

Cap Ager Not go ? were death
Sent now to summon me to my eternity,
I'd put him off an hour , why, the whole world
Has not chains strong enough to bind me from't

The strongest is my reverence to you,
Which if you force upon me in this case,
I must be forc'd to break it

Lady Ager Stay, I say !

Cap Ager In anything command me but in this,
madam

Lady Ager 'Las, I shall lose him ! [Aside ]—You will hear me first ? 150

Cap Ager At my return I will

Lady Ager You'll never hear me more, then

Cap Ager How ?

Lady Ager Come back, I say !

You may well think there's cause I call so often

Cap Ager Ha, cause ! what cause ?

Lady Ager So much, you must not go

Cap Ager How ?

Lady Ager You must not go

Cap Ager Must not ! why ?

Lady Ager I know a reason for't,

Which I could wish you'd yield to, and not know ,

If not, it must come forth faith, do not know, 160

And yet obey my will

Cap Ager Why, I desire

To know no other than the cause I have,

Nor should you wish it, if you take your injury,

For one more great I know the world includes not

Lady Ager Yes, one that makes this nothing yet be rul'd,

And if you understand not, seek no further

Cap Ager I must , for this is nothing

Lady Ager Then take all ,
And if amongst it you receive that secret
That will offend you, though you condemn me,
Yet blame yourself a little , for, perhaps, 170
I would have made my reputation sound
Upon another's hazard with less pity ,
But upon yours I dare not

Cap Ager How ?

Lady Ager I dare not
'Twas your own seeking this

Cap Ager If you mean evilly,
I cannot understand you , nor for all the riches
This life has, would I

Lady Ager Would you never might !

Cap Ager Why, your goodness, that I joy to fight for

Lady Ager In that you neither right your joy nor me

Cap Ager What an ill orator has virtue got here !
Why, shall I dare to think it a thing possible 180
That you were ever false ?

Lady Ager O, fearfully !
As much as you come to

Cap Ager O silence, cover me !
I've felt a deadlier wound than man can give me False !

Lady Ager I was betray'd to a most sinful hour
By a corrupted soul I put in trust once,
A kinswoman

Cap Ager Where is she ? let me pay her !

Lady Ager O, dead long since !

Cap Ager Nay, then, sh'as all her wages False<sup>1</sup> do not say't, for honour's goodness, do not<sup>1</sup>
You never could be so    He I call'd father 190
Deserv'd you at your best, when youth and merit
Could boast at highest in you, y'had no grace
Or virtue that he match'd not, no delight
That you invented but he sent it crown'd
To your full wishing soul

Lady Ager That heaps my guiltiness

Cap Ager O, were you so unhappy to be false Both to yourself and me ? but to me chiefly What a day's hope is here lost ! and with it
The joys of a just cause ! Had you but thought
On such a noble quarrel, you'd ha' died 200
Ere you'd ha' yielded , for the sin's hate fist,
Next for the shame of this hour's cowardice
Curst be the heat that lost me such a cause,
A work that I was made for ! Quench, my spirit,
And out with honour's flaming lights within thee !
Be dark and dead to all respects of manhood !
I never shall have use of valour more
Put off your vow for shame ! why should you hoard up Such justice for a barren widowhood,
That was so injurious to the faith of wedlock ? 210

[Exit LADY AGER

I should be dead, for all my life's work's ended,
I dare not fight a stroke now, nor engage
The noble resolution of my friends

Enter two Friends of CAPTAIN AGER

That were more vild — They're here kill me, my shame !

I am not for the fellowship of honour [Aside

First Fr Captain ! fie, come, sir ! we've been seeking for you

Very late to day, this was not wont to be

Your enemy's i' th' field

Cap Ager Truth enters cheerfully

Sec Fr Good faith, sir, you've a royal quarrel on't

Cap Ager Yes, in some other country, Spain or Italy, 220

It would be held so

First Fr How ? and is't not here so ?

Cap Ager 'Tis not so contumeliously receiv'd
In these parts, and you mark it

First Fr Not in these ?

Why, prithee, what is more, or can be ?

Cap Ager Yes,

That ordinary commotioner, the lie,

Is father of most quarrels in this climate,

And held here capital, and you go to that

Sec Fr But, sir, I hope you will not go to that,

Or change your own for it son of a whore !

Why, there's the lie down to posterity, 230

The lie to birth, the lie to honesty

Why would you cozen yourself so, and beguile

So brave a cause, manhood's best masterpiece ?

Do you e'er hope for one so brave again ?

Cap Ager Consider then the man, [the] Colonel,

Exactly worthy, absolutely noble,
However spleen and rage abuses him ,
And 'tis not well or manly to pursue
A man's infirmity

First Fr O miracle !

So hopeful, valiant, and complete a captain 240
Possess'd with a tame devil ! Come out ! thou spoilest
The most improv'd young soldier of seven kingdoms ,
Made captain at nineteen , which was deserv'd
The year before, but honour comes behind still Come out, I say ! This was not wont to be ,
That spirit ne'er stood in need of provocation,
Nor shall it now away, sir !

Cap Ager Urge me not

First Fr By manhood's reverend honour, but we must !

Cap Ager I will not fight a stroke

First Fr O blasphemy
To sacred valour !

Cap Ager Lead me where you list 250

First Fr Pardon this traitorous slumber, clogg'd with evils

Give captains rather wives than such tame devils !

[Exeunt

A Room in RUSSELL'S HouseEnter Physician and JANE

Phy Nay, mistress,<sup>1</sup> you must not be cover'd to me ,
The patient must ope to the physician
All her dearest sorrows art is blinded else,
And cannot show her mystical effects

Jane Can art be so dim sighted, learned sir ?
I did not think her so incapacious
You train me, as I guess, like a conjuror,
One of our fine<sup>2</sup> oraculous wizards,
Who, from the help of his examinant,

If it be maiden green, you cannot miss it

A Field

Enter CAPTAIN AGER and two Friends

Cap Ager Well, your wills now?

First Fr of Cap Our wills? our loves, our duties To honour'd fortitude what wills have we
But our desires to nobleness and merit,
Valour's advancement, and the sacred rectitude
Due to a valorous cause?

Cap Ager O that's not mine!

Sec Fr of Cap War has his court of justice, that's the field,
Where all cases of manhood are determin'd,
And your case is no mean one

Cap Ager True, then 'twere virtuous,
But mine is in extremes, foul and unjust
Well, now you've got me hither, you're as far 10
To seek in your desire as at first minute,
For by the strength and honour of a vow,
I will not lift a finger in this quarrel.

First Fr of Cap How? not in this? be not so rash a sinner

Why, sir, do you ever hope to fight again then?
Take heed on't, you must never look for that Why, th' universal stock of the world's injury
Will be too poor to find a quarrel for you Give up your right and title to desert, sir
If you fail virtue here, she needs you not 20
All your time after, let her take this wrong,
And never presume then to serve her more
Bid farewell to th' integrity of arms,
And let that honourable name of soldier
Fall from you like a shiver'd wreath of laurel
By thunder struck from a desertless forehead,
That wears another's right by usurpation
Good captain, do not wilfully cast away
At one hour all the fame your life has won
This is your native seat, here you should seek 30
Most to preserve it, or if you will dote
So much on life,—poor life, which in respect
Of life in honour is but death and darkness,—
That you will prove neglectful of yourself,
Which is to me too fearful to imagine,
Yet for that virtuous lady's cause, your mother,
Her reputation dear to nobleness
As grace to penitence, whose fair memory
E'en crowns fame in your issue, for that blessedness
Give not this ill place, but in spite of hell, 40
And all her base fears, be exactly valiant

Cap Ager O, O!

Sec Fr of Cap Why, well said, there's fair hope in that,

Another such a one !

Cap Ager Came they in thousands,
'Tis all against you

First Fr of Cap Then, poor friendless merit, Heaven be good to thee ! thy professor leaves thee

Enter Colonel and two Friends

He's come ,<sup>1</sup> do but you draw, we'll fight it for you

Cap Ager I know too much to grant that

First Fr of Cap O dead manhood !

Had ever such a cause so faint a servant ?

Shame brand me, if I do not suffer for him !

Col I've heard, sir, you've been guilty of much boasting 50

For your brave earliness at such a meeting

You've lost the glory of that way this morning ,

I was the first to day

Cap Ager So were you ever

In my respect, sir

First Fr of Cap O most base præludium !

Cap Ager I never thought on Victory, our mistress, With greater reverence than I have your worth,
Nor ever lov'd her better

First Fr of Cap 'Slight, I could knock His brains 'bout his heels, methinks !

Sec Fr of Cap Peace, prithee, peace

And when I've wish'd content, I've wish'd your friend the tongue a little,

There's lawyer's blood in't, you shall see foul gear straight

Sec Fr of Cap Come, you're as mad now as he's cowardous

Col I came not hither, sir, for an encomium

First Fr of Cap No, the more coxcomb he that claws the head

Of your vainglory with't! [Aside

Col I came provided

For storms and tempests, and the foulest season
That ever rage let forth, or blew in wildness
From the incensed prison of man's blood

Cap Ager 'Tis otherwise with me, I come with mildness, 70

Peace, constant amity, and calm forgiveness,
The weather of a Christian and a friend

First Fr of Cap Give me a valiant Turk, though not worth tenpence,<sup>1</sup> rather

Cap Ager Yet, sir, the world will judge the injury mine,

Insufferably<sup>2</sup> mine, mine beyond injury

Jew of Malta ii 4 — Gentleman 'he flouts me what gentry can be in a poor Turk of tenpence?"

<sup>2</sup> Old eds 'insufferable'

Thousands have made a less wrong reach to hell,
Ay, and rejoic'd in his most endless vengeance,
A miserable triumph, though a just one !
But when I call to memory our long friendship,
Methinks it cannot be too great a wrong 80
That then I should not pardon Why should man,
For a poor hasty syllable or two,
And vented only in forgetful fury,
Chain all the hopes and riches of his soul
To the revenge of that, die lost for ever ?
For he that makes his last peace with his Maker
In anger, anger is his peace eternally
He must expect the same return again
Whose venture is deceitful, must he not, sir ?

Col I see what I must do, fairly put up again, 90 For here'll be nothing done, I perceive that

Cap Ager What shall be done in such a worthless business
But to be sorry, and to be forgiven,
You, sir, to bring repentance, and I pardon ?

Col I bring repentance, sir ?

Cap Ager It's be too much
To say repentance, call it what you please, sir, Choose your own word I know you're sorry for't,
And that's as good

Col I sorry ? by fame's honour, I am wrong'd !
Do you seek for peace, and draw the quarrel larger ? 100

Cap Ager Then 'tis I am sorry that I thought you so

First Fr of Cap A captain ! I could gnaw his title off
VOL IV O

Cap Ager Nor is it any misbecoming virtue, sir,
In the best manliness to repent a wrong,
Which made me bold with you

First Fr of Cap I could cuff his head off

Sec Fr of Cap Nay, pish !

First Fr of Cap Pox on him, I could eat his buttock bak'd, methinks !

Col So, once again take thou thy peaceful rest, then ,

[Sheathing his sword]

But as I put thee up, I must proclaim
This captain here, both to his friends and mine, 110
That only came to see fair valour righted,
A base submissive coward , so I leave him

[Offeis to go away]

Cap Ager O, heaven has pitied my excessive patience,
And sent me a cause ! now I have a cause ,
A coward I was never —Come you back, sir !

Col How ?

Cap Ager You left a coward here

Col Yes, sir, with you

Cap Ager 'Tis such base metal, sir, 'twill not be taken ,

It must home again with you

Sec Fr of Cap Should this be true now !

First Fr of Cap Impossible ! coward do more than bastard ? 120

Col I prithee, mock me not, take heed you do not ,
For if I draw once more, I shall grow terrible,
And rage will force me do what will grieve honour

Cap Ager Ha, ha, ha !

Col He smiles, dare it be he?—What think you,
gentlemen?

Your judgments, shall I not be cozen'd in him?

This cannot be the man why, he was bookish,

Made an invective lately against fighting,

A thing, in troth, that mov'd a little with me,

Put up a fouler contumely far

130

Than thousand cowards came to, and grew thankful

Cap Ager Blessed remembrance in time of need !
I'd lost my honour else

Sec Fr of Cap Do you note his joy?

Cap Ager I never felt a more severe necessity, Then came thy excellent pity Not yet ready?
Have you such confidence in my just manhood,
That you dare so long trust me, and yet tempt me
Beyond the toleration of man's virtue?

Why, would you be more cruel than your injury?

Do you first take pride to wrong me, and then think me

140

Not worth your fury? do not use me so,

I shall deceive you then Sir, either draw,

And that not slightly, but with the care

Of your best preservation, with that watchfulness

As you'd defend yourself from circular fire,

Your sin's rage, or her lord—this will require it—

Or you'll be too soon lost, for I've an anger

Has gathered mighty strength against you, mighty

Yet you shall find it honest to the last,

Noble and fair

Col I'll venture't once again,

150

And if't be but as true as it is wondrous,
I shall have that I come for your leave, gentlemen

First Fr of Cap If he should do't indeed, and deceive's all now !

Stay, by this hand he offers—fights, i'faith !

[Colonel and CAPTAIN AGER fight]

Fights, by this light he fights, sir !

Sec Fr of Cap So methinks, sir

First Fr of Cap An absolute punto, hey ?

Sec Fr of Cap 'Twas a pasado, sir

First Fr of Cap Whv, let it pass, and 'twas, I'm sure
'twas somewhat

What's that now ?

Sec Fr of Cap That's a punto

First Fr of Cap O, go to, then,

I knew 'twas not far off What a world's this !

Is coward a more stirring meat than bastard, my masters ?

160

Put in more eggs, for shame, when you get children,

And make it true court custard —Ho, I honour thee !

'Tis right and fair, and he that breathes against it,

He breathes against the justice of a man,

And man to cut him off 'tis no injustice

[The Colonel falls]

Thanks, thanks for this most unexpected nobleness !

Cap Ager Truth never fails her servant, sir, nor leaves him

With the day's shame upon him

First Fr of Cap Thou'st redeem'd

Thy worth to the same height 'twas first esteem'd<sup>1</sup>

[Exit CAPTAIN AGER with his Friends

First Fr of Col Alas, how is it, sir? give us some hope

<sup>1</sup> The whole of this scene and nearly all of II. 1 are quoted in Lamb's Specimens. I subjoin his masterly criticism—it is familiar to every reader—but we can never read Lamb enough.—The insipid levelling morality to which the modern stage is tied down would not admit of such admirable passions as these scenes are filled with. A puritanical obtuseness of sentiment—a stupid infantile goodness—is creeping among us instead of the vigorous passions and virtues clad in flesh and blood with which the old dramatists present us. Those noble and liberal casuists could discern in the differences, the quarrels—the animosities of man, a beauty and truth of moral feeling, no less than in the iterately inculcated duties of forgiveness and atonement. With us all is hypocritical meekness. A reconciliation scene (let the occasion be never so absurd or unnatural) is always sure of applause. Our audiences come to the theatre to be complimented on their goodness. They compare notes with the amiable characters in the play, and find a wonderful similarity of disposition between them. We have a common stock of dramatic morality, out of which a writer may be supplied without the trouble of copying it from originals within his own breast. To know the boundaries of honour, to be judiciously valiant, to have a temperance which shall beget a smoothness in the angry swellings of youth, to esteem life as nothing when the sacred reputation of a parent is to be defended yet to shrink and tremble under a pious cowardice when that air of an honest confidence is found to be frail and tottering, to feel the true blows of a real disgrace blunting that sword which the imaginary strokes of a supposed false imputation had put so keen an edge upon—but lately—to do or to imagine this done in a feigned story, asks something more of a moral sense—somewhat a greater delicacy of perception in questions of right and wrong than goes to the writing of two or three hackneyed sentences about the laws of honour as opposed to the laws of the land—or a commonplace against duelling. Yet such things would stand a writer now a days in far better stead than Captain Ager and his conscientious honour, and he would be considered as a far better teacher of morality than old Rowley or Middleton if they were living.

Above your fortune, the best fortitude
 Has been of fate ill friended now force your empire,
 And reign above your blood, spite of dejection, Reduce<sup>1</sup> the monarchy of your abler mind,
 Let not flesh straiten it

Col O, just heaven has found me,
 And turn'd the stings<sup>2</sup> of my too hasty injuries Into my own blood! I pursu'd my ruin,
 And urg'd him past the patience of an angel
 Could man's revenge extend beyond man's life, 180
 This would ha' wak'd it If this flame will light me
 But till I see my sister, 'tis a kind one,
 More I expect not from't Noble deserve!
 Farewell, most valiant and most wrong'd of men,
 Do but forgive me, and I'm victor then

Here's earnest of a large sum of love and coin
To quit <sup>2</sup> your tender care

Jane I have some reason too
To purchase your dear care unto this infant 20

Nurse You be de witness of de baptim, dat is, as you sprekén, de godimother, ich vell forstoore it so

Jane Yes, I'm the bad mother,—if it be offence
[Aside

Anne I must be a little kind too [Gives money

Nurse Much tanks to you all ! dis child is much

Phy Farewell — Good sister, show her the way forth —
I shall often visit you, kind nurse

Nurse You shall be welcome

[Exeunt ANNE and Nurse]

Jane O sir, what a friend have I found in you !
Where my poor power shall stay in the requital, 30
Yourself must from your fair condition <sup>1</sup>
Make up in mere acceptance of my will

Phy O, pray you, urge it not ! we are not born
For ourselves only, self love is a sin,
But in our loving donations to others
Man's virtue best consists love all begets,
Without, all are adulterate and counterfeit

Jane Your boundless love I cannot satisfy
But with a mental memory of your virtues
Yet let me not engage your cost withal, 40
Beseech you then take restitution
Of pains and bounty which you have disburs'd
For your poor debtor

Phy You will not offer it ?
Do not esteem my love so mercenary
To be the hire of coin sure, I shall think You do not hold so worthily of me
As I wish to deserve

Jane Not recompense ?
Then you will beggar me with too much credit
Is't <sup>2</sup> not sufficient you preserve my name,

Which I had forfeited to shame and scorn, 50 Cover my vices with a veil of love,
Defend and keep me from a father's rage,
Whose love yet infinite, not knowing this,
Might, knowing, turn a hate as infinite,
Sure he would throw me ever from his blessings,
And cast his curses on me ! Yes, further,
Your secrecy keeps me in the state of woman,
For else what husband would choose me his wife,
Knowing the honour of a bride were lost ?
I cannot number half the good you do me 60
In the conceal'd retention of my sin,
Then make me not worse than I was before,
In my ingratitude, good sir

Phy Again ?

I shall repent my love, if you'll so call't,
To be made such a hackney give me coin ?
I had as lief you gave me poison, lady,
For I have art and antidotes 'gainst that,
I might take that, but this I will refuse

Jane Will you then teach me how I may requite you In some small quantity ?

Phy 'Twas that I look'd for — [Aside 70
Yes, I will tell you, lady, a full quittance,
And how you may become my creditress

Jane I beseech you, do, sir !

Phy Indeed I will, lady
Not in coin, mistress, for silver, though white,
Yet it draws black lines, it shall not rule my palm,
There to mark forth his base corruption

Pay me again in the same quality
 That I to you tender'd,—that is, love for love
 Can you love me, lady? you have confess'd
 My love to you

Jane Most amply

Phy Why, faith, then,

80

Pay me back that way

Jane How do you mean, su?

Phy Tush, our meanings are better understood Than shifted to the tongue, it brings along
 A little blabbing blood into our cheeks,
 That shames us when we speak

Jane I understand you not

Phy Fie, you do, make not yourself ignorant
 In what you know, you have ta'en forth the lesson
 That I would read to you

Jane Sure then I need not

Read it again, sir

Phy Yes, it makes perfect

You know the way unto Achilles' spear,<sup>1</sup>

Jane Come, you're a good man, I do perceive you,
 You put a trial to me, I thank you,
 You are my just confessor, and, believe me,
 I'll have no further penance for this sin

<sup>1</sup> Telephus wounded by Achilles' spear could only be cured by rust scraped from the spear (see Hyginus Fabulae, c1) Cf 2 Henry VI

Jane Indeed? what deed?

Phy The deed that you have done

Jane I cannot believe you

Phy Believe the deed then! 100

Jane Away, you are a blackamoor! you love me?

I hate you for your love! Are you the man

That in your painted outside seem'd so white?

O you're a foul dissembling hypocrite!

You sav'd me from a thief, that yourself might rob me,

Skinn'd over a green wound to breed an ulcer

Is this the practice of your physic college?

If you have more, vent it, certes,<sup>2</sup> I think

Your first grant was not yielded with less pain, 110

If 'twere, you have your price, yield it again

Jane Pray you, tell me, sir,—I ask'd it before,—

Is it a practice amongst you physicians?

Phy Tush, that's a secret, we cast all waters

Should I reveal, you would mistrust my counsel

The lawyer and physician here agrees,

To women clients they give back their fees,

And is not that kindness?

 Remember yet what I have done for you
 You have a good face now, but 'twill grow rugged,
 Ere you grow old, old men will despise you

Lately we were troubled with White Devils who under pretence of extraordinary sanctity published open heresy and blasphemy against God, His word His works and ordinances now we run madding on the other hand and are like to be troubled with Black Devils viz, blasphemous drunkards blasphemous health drinkers scornors of piety, Sabbath profaners, observers of superstitions and heathenish customs &c

A Room in LADY AGER'S House

Enter LADY AGER, meeting a Servant

Lady Ager Now, sir, where is he? speak, why comes he not?

I sent you for him —Bless this fellow's senses !
What has he seen ? a soul nine hours entranc'd,

Hovering 'twixt hell and heaven, could not wake ghast-

Not yet return an answer?—

Enter a second Servant

What say you, sir?

Where is he?

Sec Serv Gone

Lady Ager What say'st thou?

Sec Serv He is gone, madam,

But, as we heard, unwillingly he went

As ever blood enforc'd

Lady Ager Went? whither went he?

Sec Serv Madam, I fear I ha' su'd too much already

Lady Ager These men are both agreed—Speak, whither went he? 10

Sec Serv Why, to—I would you'd think the rest yourself, madam

Lady Ager Meek patience bless me!

Sec Serv To the field

First Serv To fight, madam

Lady Ager To fight?

First Serv There came two urging gentlemen,
That call'd themselves his seconds, both so powerful,
As 'tis reported, they prevail'd with him
With little labour

Lady Ager O, he's lost, he's gone!

For all my pains, he's gone! two meeting torrents
Are not so merciless as their two rages
He never comes again Wretched affection!

Have I belied my faith, injur'd my goodness, 20
Slander'd my honour for his preservation,
Having but only him, and yet no happier ?
'Tis then a judgment plain , truth's angry with me
In that I would abuse her sacred whiteness
For any worldly temporal respect
Forgive me then, thou glorious woman's virtue, Admir'd where'er thy habitation is,
Especially in us weak ones ! O, forgive me,
For 'tis thy vengeance this ! To belie truth,
Which is so hardly ours, with such pain purchas'd, 30
Fastings and prayers, continence and care,
Misery must needs ensue Let him not die
In that unchaste belief of his false birth,
And my disgrace ! whatever angel guides him,
May this request be with my tears obtain'd,
Let his soul know my honour is unstain'd !— [Aside
Run, seek away ! if there be any hope, Let me not lose him yet [Exeunt Servants] When I think on him,
His dearness and his worth, it earns <sup>1</sup> me more
They that know riches tremble to be poor 40
My passion is not every woman's sorrow
She must be truly honest feels my grief,
And only known to one , if such there be,
They know the sorrow that oppresses me [Exit

The Roaring-School

Enter the Colonel's Friend,<sup>1</sup> CHOUGH, TRIMTRAM, Usher, and several Roarers

Col's Fr Truth, sir, I must needs blame you for a truant, having but one lesson read to you, and neglect so soon, fie, I must see you once a day at least

Chough Would I were whipt, tutor, if it were not 'long of my man Trimtram here'

Trim Who, of me?

Chough Take't upon thee, Trim, I'll give thee five shillings, as I am a gentleman

Trim I'll see you whipt first —well, I will too — Faith, sir, I saw he was not perfect, and I was loath he should come before to shame himself

Col's Fr How? shame, sir? is it a shame for scholars to learn? Sir, there are great scholars that are but sleenderly read in our profession sir, first it must be economical, then ecumenical shame not to practise in the house how to perform in the field the nail that is driven takes a little hold at the first stroke, but more at the second, and more at the third, but when 'tis home to the head, then 'tis firm

Chough Faith, I have been driving it home to the head this two days 21

Trim I helped to hammer it in as well as I could too, sir

Col's Fr Well, sir, I will hear you rehearse anon meantime peruse the exemplary of my bills, and tell me in what language I shall roar a lecture to you, or I'll read to you the mathematical science of roaring

Chough Is it mathematical?

Col's Fr O, sir, does not the winds roar, the sea roar, the welkin roar?—indeed most things do roar by nature—and is not the knowledge of these things mathematical? 32

Chough Pray proceed, sir

Col's Fr [reads] The names of the languages, the Slavonian, Parthamenian, Barmouthian, Tyburnian, Wappinganian, or the modern Londonian any man or woman that is desirous to roar in any of these languages, in a week they shall be perfect if they will take pains, so let 'em repair into Holborn to the sign of the Cheat Loaf

Chough Now your bill speaks of that I was wondering a good while at, your sign, the loaf looks very like bread, i'faith, but why is it called the Cheat loaf? 42

Col's Fr This house was sometimes a baker's, sir, that served the court, where the bread is called cheat<sup>1</sup>

Trim Ay, ay, 'twas a baker that cheated the court with bread

Col's Fr Well, sir, choose your languages, and your lectures shall be read, between my usher and myself, for your better instruction, provided your conditions be performed in the premises beforesaid 51

Chough Look you, sir, there's twenty pound in hand, and twenty more I am to pay when I am allowed a sufficient roarer [Gives money

Col's Fr You speak in good earnest, sir?

Chough Yes, faith do I Trimtram shall be my witness

Trim Yes, indeed, sir, twenty pound is very good earnest 59

Ush Sir, one thing I must tell you belongs to my place you are the youngest scholar, and till another comes under you, there is a certain garnish belongs to the school, for in our practice we grow to a quarrel, then there must be wine ready to make all friends, for that's the end of roving, 'tis valiant, but harmless, and this charge is yours

Chough With all my heart, i'faith, and I like it the better because no blood comes on it who shall fetch?

First Roar<sup>2</sup> I'll be your spaniel, sir 69

<sup>1</sup> There were two sorts of cheat bread—the fine cheat and the coarse cheat the second sort was used in the halles of the nobilitie and gentrie onehe (Harrison) See Halliwell's Dict, where the passage in the text is illustrated

Ush No, you shall not, let me see the money so the combat [Exit First Roarer] For your practice sake, you and your man shall roar him out on't—for indeed you must pay your debts so, for that's one of the main ends of roaring—and when you have left him in a chafe, then I'll qualify the rascal

Chough Content—I'faith, Trim, we'll roar the rusty rascal out of his tobacco 80

Trim Ay, and he had the best craccus in London

Col's Fr Observe, sir, we could now roar in the Sclavonian language, but this practice hath been a little sublime, some hairsbreadth or so above your caput, I take it, for your use and understanding both, it were fitter for you to taste the modern assault, only the Lon donian roar

Chough I'faith, sir, that's for my purpose, for I shall use all my roaring here in London in Cornwall we are all for wrestling, and I do not mean to travel over sea to roar there 91

Col's Fr Observe then, sir,—but it were necessary you took forth your tables<sup>1</sup> to note the most difficult points for the better assistance of your memory

Chough Nay, sir, my man and I keep two tables

Trim Ay, sir, and as many trenchers, cats' meat and dogs' meat enough

Chough Tutor, tutor, ere you go any further, tell me the English of that, what is a bronstrops, pray?

Col's Fr A bronstrops is in English a hippocrene

Chough A hippocrene, note it, Trim I love to Trim What's the English of hippocrene?

Chough Why, bronstrops

Ush Thou dost obiect<sup>2</sup> my flesh and blood

Col's Fr Again I denounce, thy sister is a fructifer

Chough What's that, tutor? 120

<sup>1</sup> Whether bronsrops is a cant word or an invention of Rowley's I cannot say. In A Cure for a Cuckold (issued in 1661 as a work of Webster and Rowley, though it bears few marks of Webster's hand) there appears to be an allusion to the present play —

Col's Fr O, the wine must be always provided, be sure of that

Us'h Else you spoil the conclusion, and that you know crowns all

Chough 'Tis much like wrestling, i'faith, for we shake hands ere we begin, now that's to avoid the law, for then if he throw him a furlong into the ground, he cannot recover himself upon him, because 'twas done in cold friendship

151

Col's Fr I believe you, sir

Chough And then we drink afterwards, just in this fashion wrestling and roaring are as like as can be, i'faith, even like long sword and half pike

Col's Fr Nay, they are reciprocal, if you mark it, for as there is a great roaring at wrestling, so there is a kind of wrestling and contention at roaring

Chough True, i'faith, for I have heard 'em roar from the six windmills<sup>1</sup> to Islington those have been great falls then

Col's Fr Come now, a brief rehearsal of your other day's lesson, betwixt your man and you, and then for to day we break up school

Trim Let me give him a mark<sup>2</sup> for't

Chough No, Trimtram, do not strike him, we'll only roar out a curse upon him

Trim Well, do you begin then

Chough May thy roll<sup>3</sup> rot, and thy pudding drop in

Trim May sergeants dwell on either side of thee, to

Trim And last of all for me, let this epitaph be remembered over thee

Here coldly now within is laid to rot the Colonel's Sister enters

Col's Sist O my most worthy brother, thy hard fate
'twas!—

Come hither, honest surgeon, and deal faithfully
With a distressed virgin what hope is there?

Surg Hope? chilis<sup>2</sup> was 'scap'd miraculously, lady

Col's Sist What's that, sir?

Surg Cava vena I care but little for his wound!<sup>1</sup>

Col's Sist How, sir ?

Col Read it again, sir, let her hear it plain 70

Col's Sist Pray, spare your pains, sir, 'tis too plain already —

Good sir, how do you ? is your memory perfect ?

This will makes question of you I bestow'd

So much grief and compassion a' your wound,

I never look'd into your senses' epilepsy

The sickness and infirmity of your judgment

Is to be doubted now more than your body's

Why, is your love no dearer to me, sir,

Than to dispose me so upon the man

Whose fury is your body's present torment, 80

The author of your danger ? one I hate

Beyond the bounds of malice Do you not feel

His wrath upon you ? I beseech you, sir,

Alter that cruel article !

Col Cruel, sister ?—

Forgive me, natural love, I must offend thee,
Speaking to this woman — Am I content,
Having much kindred, yet to give thee all,
Because in thee I'd raise my means to goodness,
And canst thou prove so thankless to my bounty,
To grudge my soul her peace ? is my intent 90
To leave her rich, whose only desire is
To send me poorer into the next world
Than ever usurer went, or politic statist ?
Is it so burdensome for thee to love
Where I forgive ? O, wretched is the man
That builds the last hopes of his saving comforts
Upon a woman's charity ! he's most miserable
If it were possible, her obstinate will Will pull him down in his midway to heaven
I've wrong'd that worthy man past recompense, 100
And in my anger robb'd him of fair fame,
And thou the fairest restitution art
My life could yield him if I knew a fairer,
I'd set thee by and thy unwilling goodness,
And never make my sacred peace of thee
But there's the cruelty of a fate debarr'd
Thou art the last, and all, and thou art hard !

Col's Sist Let your griev'd heart hold better thoughts of me,

I will not prove so, sir, but since you enforce it
With such a strength of passion, I'll perform 110
What by your will you have enjoin'd me to,
Though the world never show me joy again

Col O, this may be fair cunning for the time,
 To put me off, knowing I hold not long,
 And when I look to have my joys accomplish'd,
 I shall find no such things that were vild<sup>1</sup> cozenage,
 And not to be repented

Col's Sist By all the blessedness

SCENE III

A Room in LADY AGER's House

Cap Ager No sooner have I entrance i' this house
 now

But all my joy falls from me, which was wont
 To be the sanctuary of my comforts
 Methought I lov'd it with a reverent gladness,
 As holy men do consecrated temples
 For the saint's sake, which I believ'd my mother,
 But prov'd a false faith since, a fearful heresy
 O, who'd erect th' assurance of his joys
 Upon a woman's goodness<sup>1</sup> whose best virtue
 Is to commit unseen, and highest secrecy 10
 To hide but her own sin, there's their perfection

And if she be so good, which many fail of too,
When these are bad, how wondrous ill are they !
What comfort is't to fight, win this day's fame,
When all my after days are lamps of shame ?

Enter LADY AGER

Lady Ager Blessings be firm to me ! he's come, 'tis he !—— [ Aside

A surgeon speedily !

Cap Ager A surgeon ? why, madam ?

Lady Ager Perhaps you'll say 'tis but a little wound , Good to prevent a danger —quick, a surgeon !

Cap Ager Why, madam ? 20

Lady Ager Ay, ay, that's all the fault of valiant men, They'll not be known a' their hurts till they're past help,
And then too late they wish for't

Cap Ager Will you hear me ?

Lady Ager 'Tis no disparagement to confess a wound, I'm glad, sir, 'tis no worse —a surgeon quickly !

Cap Ager Madam——

Lady Ager Come, come, sir, a wound's honourable,
And never shames the wearer

Cap Ager By the justice

I owe to honour, I came off untouch'd !

Lady Ager I'd rather believe that

Cap Ager You believe truth so

Lady Ager My tears prevail then Welcome, welcome,
sir, 30

As peace and mercy to one new departed !

Why would you go though, and deceive me so,
When my abundant love took all the course
That might be to prevent it ? I did that For my affection's sake—goodness forgive me for't !—
That were my own life's safety put upon't, I'd rather die than do't Think how you us'd me then ,
And yet would you go and hazard yourself too !
'Twas but unkindly done

Cap Ager What's all this, madam ?

Lady Ager See, then, how rash you were and short in wisdom !

40

Why, wrong my faith I did, slander'd my constancy, Belied my truth , that which few mothers will,
Or fewer can, I did, out of true fear
And loving care, only to keep thee here

Cap Ager I doubt I'm too quick of apprehension
now,

And that's a general fault when we hear joyfully,
With the desire of longing for't I ask it,
Why, were you never false ?

Lady Ager May death come to me Before repentance then !

Cap Ager I heard it plain sure—
Not false at all ?

Lady Ager By the reward of truth,
I never knew that deed that claims the name on't !

50

Cap Ager May, then, that glorious reward you swore by
Be never failing to you ! all the blessings
That you have given me, since obedient custom

Taught me to kneel and ask 'em, are not valuable
With this immaculate blessing of your truth
This is the palm to victory,
The crown for all deserts past and to come
Let 'em be numberless, they are rewarded,
Already they're rewarded Bless this frame, 60
I feel it much too weak to bear the joy on't [Kneels

Lady Ager Rise, sir

Cap Ager O, pardon me !

I cannot honour you too much, too long
I kneel not only to a mother now,
But to a woman that was never false Ye're dear, and ve're good too, I think a' that What reverence does she merit ! 'tis fit such Should be distinguish'd from the prostrate sex,
And what distinction properer can be shown,
Than honour done to her that keeps her own ? 70

Lady Ager Come, sir, I'll have you rise

Cap Ager To do a deed, then, [Rises

That shall for ever raise me O my glory, Why, this, this is the quarrel that I look'd for !
The other<sup>1</sup> but a shift to hold time play
You sacred ministers of preservation,
For heaven's sake send him life,
And with it mighty health, and such a strength
May equal but the cause ! I wish no foul things
If life but glow in him, he shall know instantly
That I'm resolv'd to call him to account for't 80

Lady Ager Why, hark you, sir——

Cap Ager I bind you by your honour, madam, You speak no hindrance to's, take heed, you ought not

Lady Ager What an unhappiness have I in goodness !

'Tis ever my desire to intend well,
But have no fortunate way in't For all this Deserve I yet no better of you
But to be griev'd again ? Are you not well
With honest gain of fame, with safety purchas'd ?
Will you needs tempt a ruin that avoids you ? [Exit

Cap Ager No, you've prevail'd things of this nature sprung, 90

When they use action must use little tongue —

Enter Servant

Now, sir, the news ?

Ser Sir, there's a gentlewoman Desires some conference with you

Cap Ager How, with me ?
A gentlewoman ? what is she ?

Ser Her attendant
Deliver'd her to be the Colonel's sister

Cap Ager O, for a storm then ! [Exit Servant] 'las, poor, virtuous gentlewoman,
I will endure her violence with much pity !
She comes to ease her heart, good, noble soul,
'Tis e'en a charity to release the burden,

Were not that remedy ordain'd for women, 100
Their hearts would never hold three years together
And here she comes, I never mark'd so much of her,

Enter Colonel's Sister

That face can be the mistress of no anger
But I might very well endure a month, methinks —
I am the man, speak, lady, I'll stand fair

Col's Sist And I'm enjoin'd by vow to fall thus low, [Kneels]

And from the dying hand of a repentant
Offer, for expiation of wrongs done you, Myself, and with myself all that was his,
Which upon that condition was made mine, 110
Being his soul's wish to depart absolute man,
In life a soldier, death a Christian

Cap Ager O, heaven has touch'd him nobly ! how it shames

My virtue's slow perfection ! Rise, dear brightness—
I forget manners too—up, matchless sweetness !

Col's Sist I must not, sir, there is not in my vow That liberty, I must be receiv'd first,
Or all denied, if either, I am free

Cap Ager He must be without soul should deny thee,

And with that reverence I receive the gift 120
As it was sent me [Raises her] Worthy Colonel,
Has such a conquering way i' th' blest things !
Whoever overcomes, he only wins [Exeunt]

SCENE IV<sup>1</sup>A Street a noise of "hem" <sup>2</sup> withinEnter CAPTAIN ALBO, MEG, and PRISS

Meg Hark of these hard hearted bloodhounds<sup>1</sup> these butchers are e'en as merciless as their dogs, they knock down a woman's fame e'en as it walks the streets by 'em

Priss And the Captain here that should defend us walks by like John of the apple loft<sup>3</sup>

Cap Albo What for interjections, Priss, hem, evas, vah? let the carnisexes<sup>4</sup> scour their throats! thou knowest there is a curse hangs over their bloody heads, this year there shall be more butchers' pricks burnt than of all trades besides

10

Meg I do wonder how thou camest to be a captain

Cap Albo As thou camest to be a bawd, Meg, and Priss to be a whore, every one by their deserts

Meg Bawd and whore<sup>2</sup> out, you unprofitable rascal! hast not thou been at the new play yet, to teach thee better manners? truly they say they are the finest players, and good speakers of gentlewomen of our quality, bawd and whore is not mentioned amongst 'em, but the handsomest narrow mouthed names they have for us, that some of them may serve as well for a lady as for one of our occupation 21

Meg I doubt 'tis too late now, but another time, servant

Cap Albo Let's go now, sweet face, I am acquainted with one of the pantommicks, the bulchins<sup>1</sup> will use the Irish captain with respect, and you two shall be boxed amongst the better sort 30

Priss Sirrah captain Albo, I doubt you are but white livered, look that you defend us valiantly, you know your penance else —Patroness, you remember how you used him once?

Meg Ay, servant, and I shall never forget it till I use him so again —Do you remember, captain?

Cap Albo Mum, Meg, I will not hear on't now

Meg How I and my Amazons stript you as naked as an Indian——

Cap Albo Why, Meg—— 40

Meg And then how I bound you to the good behaviour in the open fields——

Priss And then you strowed oats upon his hoppers——

Cap Albo Prithee, sweet face——

<sup>1</sup> Bulkins, bull calves

Priss And then brought your ducks to nibble upon him—You remember?

Cap Albo O, the remembrance tortures me again! no more, good sweet face

Meg Well, lead on, sir, but hark a little 50

Enter CHOUGH and TRIMTRAM

Chough Didst thou bargain for the bladders with the butcher, Trim?

Trim Ay, sir, I have 'em here, I'll practise to swim too, sir, and then I may roar with the water at London Bridge—he that roars by land and by water both is the perfect roarer

Chough Well, I'll venture to swim too—if my father in law gives me a good dowry with his daughter, I shall hold up my head well enough 59

Trim Peace, sir, here's practice for our roaring, here's a centaur and two hippocrenes

Chough Offer the jostle, Trim

[TRIMTRAM jostles CAPTAIN ALLO]

Cap Albo Ha! what meanest thou by that?

Trim I mean to confront thee, cyclops

Chough I'll tell thee what 'a means—is this thy sister?

Cap Albo How then, sir?

Chough Why, then, I say she is a bronstrops,<sup>1</sup> and this is a fucus

Priss No, indeed, sir, we are both fucusses 70

<sup>1</sup> See note 1, p. 229

Cap Albo Art thou military? art thou a soldier?

Chough A soldier? no, I scorn to be so poor, I am a roarer

Cap Albo A roarer?

Trim Ay, sir, two roarers

Cap Albo Know, then, my fresh water friends, that I am a captain

Chough What, and have but two to serve under you?

Cap Albo I am now retuning the field

Trim You may see that by his bag and baggage 80

Chough Deliver up thy panagron to me

Trim And give me thy sindicus

Cap Albo Deliver?

Meg I pray you, captain, be contented, the gentle men seem to give us very good words

Chough Good words? ay, if you could understand 'em, the words cost twenty pound

Meg What is your pleasure, gentlemen?

Chough I would enucleate my fructifier

Priss What says he, patroness? 90

Meg He would enoculate I understand the gentle man very pithily

Cap Albo Speak, are you gentle or plebeian? can you give arms?<sup>1</sup>

Chough Arms? ay, sir, you shall feel our arms presently

Trim 'Sault you the women, I'll pepper him till he <sup>1</sup> 'Give arms' is an heraldic term = show armorial bearings

stinks again I perceive what countryman he is, let me alone with him

Cap Albo Darest thou charge a captain? 100

Trim Yes, and discharge upon him too

Cap Albo Foh, 'tis poison to my country, the slave has eaten pippins! O, shoot no more! turn both thy broadsides rather than thy poop, 'tis foul play, my country breeds no poison! I yield, the great O Toole<sup>2</sup> shall yield on these conditions

Chough I have given one of 'em a fair fall, Trim

Trim Then thus far we bring home conquest—Follow me, captain, the cyclops doth command

'Great Moguls landlord both Indies king,' &c

It was prefixed to the first edition of a poem by Taylor 1622, To the Honour of the Noble Captaine O Toole which is reprinted in the water poet's Works 1630 In this ironical panegyric his exploits against the Irish rebels are celebrated

'Thou shewdst thy selfe a doughty wight at Dublin When Irish Rebels madly brought the trouble in At Baltimore Kinsale at Corke and Yoghall,' &c

But his own country was not the only one in which O Toole figured he served as a volunteer, and displayed his courage and absurdities in various parts of Europe The Argument to the poem just quoted informs us that his 'Youth was dedicated to Mars and his age to Westminster which ancient Cittie is now nonour'd with his beloved Residence'"—Dyce

Chough Follow me, tweaks,<sup>1</sup> the centaur doth command 110

Meg Anything, sweet gentlemen will't please you to lead to the tavern, where we'll make all friends?

Trim Why, now you come to the conclusion

Chough Stay, Trim, I have heard your tweaks are like your meimads, they have sweet voices to entice the passengers let's have a song, and then we'll set 'em at liberty

A Room in RUSSELL'S House

Enter Physician and JANE dressed as a Bride

Phy Will you be obstinate ?

Jane Torment me not,
Thou lingering executioner to death,
Greatest disease to nature, that striv'st by art
To make men long a dying ! your practice is Upon men's bodies , as men pull roses
For their own relish, but to kill the flower,
So you maintain your lives by others' deaths
What eat you then but<sup>1</sup> carrion ?

Phy Fie, bitterness !
Ye'd need to candy o'er your tongue a little,
Your words will hardly be digested else 10

Jane You can give yourself a vomit to return 'em,
If they offend your stomach

Phy Hear my vow ,
You are<sup>2</sup> to be married to day——

<sup>2</sup> Ed 1622 has " You that are &c

Jane A second torment,
Worse than the first, 'cause unavoidable<sup>1</sup>
I would I could as soon annihilate
My father's will in that as forbid thy lust<sup>1</sup>

Phy If you then tender an unwilling hand,
Meet it with revenge, marry a cuckold

Jane If thou wilt marry me, I'll make that vow,
And give my body for satisfaction 20
To him that should enjoy me for his wife

Phy Go to, I'll mar your marriage

Jane Do, plague me so I'll rather bear the brand of all that's past,
In capital characters upon my brow,
Than think to be thy whore or marry him

Phy I will defame thee ever——

Jane Spare me not

Phy I will produce thy bastard, Bring thee to public penance——

Jane No matter, I care not,
I shall then have a clean sheet, I'll wear twenty,
Rather than one defil'd with thee

Phy Look for revenge<sup>1</sup> 30

Jane Pursue it fully then —Out of his hate
I shall escape<sup>1</sup> I hope, a loathed fate [Aside, and exit]

Phy Am I rejected, all my baits nibbled off,
And not the fish caught? I'll trouble the whole stream,
And choke it in the mud since hooks not take,
I'll throw in nets that shall or kill or break

<sup>1</sup> Ed 1 "pursue" (caught from the previous line) In ed 1622 the line is omitted

Enter TRIMTRAM with rosemary<sup>1</sup>

This is the bridegroom's man — Hark, sir, a word

Trim 'Tis a busy day, sir, nor I need no physic, You see I scour about my business

Phy Pray you, a word, sir your master is to be married to day? 41

Trim Else all this rosemary's lost

Phy I would speak with your master, sir

Trim My master, sir, is to be married this morning, and cannot be within while<sup>2</sup> soon at night

Phy If you will do your master the best service
That e'er you did him, if he shall not curse
Your negligence hereafter slacking it,
If he shall bless me for the dearest friend
That ever his acquaintance met withal, 50
Let me speak with him ere he go to church

Trim A right physician! you would have none go to the church nor churchyard till you send them thither well, if death do not spare you yourselves, he deals hardly with you, for you are better benefactors and send more to him than all diseases besides

Chough [within] What, Trimtram, Trimtram!

Trim I come, sir — Hark you, you may hear him!
he's upon the spur, and would fain mount the saddle of matrimony, but, if I can, I'll persuade him to come to
you 61

Phy Pray you, do, sir [Exit TRIMTRAM]—I'll teach all peevish niceness <sup>1</sup>

To beware the strong advantage of revenge

Enter CHOUGH

Chough Who's that would speak with me?

Phy None but a friend, sir, I would speak with you

Chough Why, sir, and I dare speak with any man under the universe Can you roar, sir?

Phy No, in faith, sir,
I come to tell you mildly for your good,
If you please to hear me you are upon marriage? 70

Chough No, sir, I am towards it, but not upon it yet

Phy Do you know what you do?

Chough Yes, sir, I have practised what to do before now, I would be ashamed to be married else I have seen a bronstrops in my time, and a hippocrene, and a tweak too

Phy Take fair heed, sir, the wife that you would marry
Is not fit for you

Chough Why, sir, have you tried her? 80

Phy Not I, believe it, sir, but believe withal
She has been tried

Chough Why, sir, is she a fructifer or a fucus?

Phy All that I speak, sir, is in love to you

Your bride, that may be, has not that portion That a bride should have

Chough Why, sir, she has a thousand and a better penny

Phy I do not speak of rubbish, dross, and ore,
But the refinèd metal, honour, sir 90

Chough What she wants in honour shall be made up in worship, sir, money will purchase both

Phy To be plain with you, she's naught

Chough If thou canst not roar, thou'rt a dead man! my bride naught? [Drawing his sword]

Phy Sir, I do not fear you that way, what I speak [Drawing his sword]

My life shall maintain, I say she is naught

Chough Dost thou not fear me?

Phy Indeed I do not, sir

Chough I'll never draw upon thee while I live for that trick, put up and speak freely 100

Phy Your intended bride is a whore, that's freely,
sir

Chough Yes, faith, a whore's free enough, and<sup>1</sup> she hath a conscience is she a whore? foot, I warrant she has the pox then

Phy Worse, the plague, 'tis more incurable

Chough A plaguy whore? a pox on her, I'll none of her!

Phy Mine accusation shall have firm evidence,

---

I will produce an unavowed witness,
A bastard of her bearing

Chough A bastard? 'snails, there's great suspicion she's a whore then! I'll wrestle a fall with her father for putting this trick upon me, as I am a gentleman 112

Phy Good sir, mistake me not, I do not speak
To break the contract of united hearts,
I will not pull that curse upon my head,
To separate the husband and the wife,
But this, in love, I thought fit to reveal,
As the due office betwixt man and man,
That you might not be ignorant of your ills
Consider now of my premonishment 120
As yourself shall please

Chough I'll burn all the rosemary to sweeten the house, for, in my conscience, 'tis infected has she drunk bastard? <sup>1</sup> if she would piss me wine vinegar now nine times a day, I'd never have her, and I thank you too

Re enter TRIMTRAM

Trim Come, will you come away, sir? they have all rosemary, and stay for you to lead the way

Chough I'll not be married to day, Trimtram hast eer an almanac about thee? this is the nineteenth of August, look what day of the month 'tis 130

Chough I thought so, the physician agrees with him, I'll not marry to day

Trim I pray you, sir, there will be charges for new rosemary else, this will be withered by to morrow

Chough Make a bonfire on't, to sweeten Rosemary

Trim Nay, then, she is a duplar and a sindicus

Rus Good, sir, speak English to me

Chough All this is Cornish to thee, I say thy daughter has drunk bastard<sup>1</sup> in her time

Rus Bastard? you do not mean to make her a whore?

Chough Yes, but I do, if she make a fool of me, I'll ne'er make her my wife till she have her maidenhead again 171

Rus A whore? I do defy this calumny

Chough Dost thou? I defy thee then

Either now quit thyself, or kill me ever

Your marriage day is spoil'd, if all be true

Jane A happy misery ! who's my accuser ?

Phy I am, that knows it true I speak

Chough Yes, and I'm his witness

Trim And I

Chough And I again

Trim And I again too, there's four, that's enough, I hope

Rus How can you witness, sir, that nothing know 220
But what you have receiv'd from his report ?

Chough Must we not believe our physicians ? pray you, think I know as much as every fool does

Trim Let me be Trimtram, I pray you too, sir

Jane Sir, if this bad man have laid a blemish
On my white name, he is a most false one,
Defaming me for the just denial

Of his foul lust — Nay, now you shall be known, sir

Anne Sir, I'm his sister, and do better know him Than all of you give not too much belief      230

To his wild words he's oftentimes mad, sir

Phy I thank you, good sister !

Anne Are you not mad
To do this office? fie upon your malice!

Phy I'll presently produce both nurse and child, Whose very eyes shall call her mother before it speaks

[Exit

Chough Ha, ha, ha, ha! by my troth, I'd spend a conscience I shall take the physician in a lie, if the child call her mother before it can speak, I'll never wrestle while I live again

Unto the marriage-bed, a musical, 340

Harmonious Io ! Sir, you have wrong'd me,

And basely wrong'd me ! was this your cunning fetch,

To fetch me out of prison, for ever to marry me

Unto a strumpet ?

Rus None of those words, good sir,

'Tis but a fault, and 'tis a sweet one too

Come, sir, your means is short, lengthen your fortunes

With a fair proffer I'll put a thousand pieces

Into the scale, to help her to weigh it up,

Above the first dowry

Fitz Ha ? you say well,

Shame may be bought out at a dear rate, 350

A thousand pieces added to her dowry !

Rus There's five hundred of 'em to make the bargain , [Gives money]
 I've worthy guests coming, and would not delude 'em , Say, speak like a son to me

Fitz Your blessing, sir ,
 We are both yours —witness, gentlemen,
 These must be made up a thousand pieces,
 Added to a first thousand for her dowry,
 To father that child

Phy O, is it out now ?

Chough For t'other thousand, I'll do't myself yet

Trim Or I, if my master will 360

Fitz The bargain's made, sir , I have the tender And possession both, and will keep my purchase

 I'll wear my bachelor's buttons still

Trim So will I, i'faith , they are the best flowers in any man's garden, next to heart's-ease

Fitz This is as welcome as the other, sir
 And both as the best bliss that e'er on earth
 I shall enjoy Sir, this is mine own child ,
 You could not have found out a fitter father , 370
 Nor is it basely bred, as you imagine,
 For we were wedded by the hand of heaven

Rus Was't so, i'faith, son ?

Jane And that I must have reveal'd to you, sir,

Ere I had gone to church with this fair groom ,

But, thank this gentleman, he prevented<sup>1</sup> me —

I am much bound unto your malice, sir 380

Phy I am asham'd

Jane Shame to amendment then

Rus Now get you together for a couple of cunning ones !

But, son, a word , the latter thousand pieces

Is now more than [the] bargain

Fitz No, by my faith, sir,

Here's witness enough on it, it must serve

To pay my fees, imprisonment is costly

Chough By my troth, the old man has gulled himself finely ! Well, sir, I'll bid myself a guest, though not a groom , I'll dine, and dance, and roar at the wedding for all this 390

Trim So will I, sir, if my master does

Rus Well, sir, you're welcome but now no more

How is't possible to suffice
So many ears, so many eyes?<sup>2</sup>
Some in wit, some in show s
Take delight, and some in clothes
Some for mirth they chiefly come,
Some for passion,<sup>1</sup>—for both some,
Some for lascivious meetings, that's their arrant,
Some to detract, and ignorance their warrant
How is't possible to please Opinion toss'd in such wild seas? 10
Yet I doubt not, if attention

You below, to take things quickly,
We shall both make you sad and tickle ye

ACT I

SCENE I

Before Sir OLIVER TWILIGHT'S House

Enter PHILIP TWILIGHT and SAVOURWIT

Phil I'm at my wit's ends, Savourwit

Sav And I

Am even following after you as fast

As I can, sir

Phil My wife will be forc'd from me,
My pleasure<sup>1</sup>

Sav Talk no more on't, sir, how can there Be any hope i' the middle, when we're both
At our wit's end in the beginning? my invention
Was ne'er so gravell'd since I first set out upon't

Phil Nor does my stop stick only in this wheel, Though't be a main vexation, but I'm grated
In a dear, absolute friend, young master Sandfield—— 10

Sav Ay, there's another rub too<sup>1</sup>

Phil Who supposes
That I make love to his affected mistress,<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> "His affected mistress = the mistress whom he loves

When 'tis my father works against the peace
 Of both our spirits, and woos unknown to me
 He strikes out sparks of undeservèd anger
 'Twixt old steel friendship and new stony hate,
 As much forgetful of the merry hours
 The circuits of our youth hath spent and worn,
 As if they had not been, or we not born

Sav See where he comes <sup>1</sup>

Enter SANDFIELD

Sand Unmerciful in torment <sup>1</sup>

20

Will this disease never forsake mine eye?

Phil It must be kill'd first, if it grow so painful, Work it out strongly at one time, that th' anguish
 May never more come near thy precious sight
 If my eternal sleep will give thee rest,
 Close up mine eyes with opening of my breast

Sand I feel thy wrongs at midnight, and the weight Of thy close treacheries, thou hast a friendship
 As dangerous as a strumpet's, that will kiss
 Men into poverty, distress, and ruin,
 And to make clear the face of thy foul deeds,

30

Thou work'st by seconds [Drawing his sword

Phil Then may the sharp point of an inward horror Strike me to earth, and save thy weapon guiltless <sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> "I possess a copy of this play which seems to have been used by the prompter towards the end of the 17th century several passages being altered, and many marked for omission As a specimen of the former the present speech will suffice —

"See where he comes, as melancholly and angry as a looseing Bully of Marribone '—Dyce

Sand Not in thy father?

Phil How much is truth abus'd

When 'tis kept silent <sup>1</sup> O defend me, friendship <sup>1</sup>

Sav True,<sup>1</sup> your anger's in an error all this while,
sir,

But that a lover's weapon ne'er <sup>2</sup> hears reason,

'Tis out still, like a madman's hear but me, sir,

'Tis my young master's injury, not yours, 40

That you quarrel with him for, and this shows

As if you'd challenge a lame man the field,

And cut off's head, because he has lost his legs

His grief makes him dead flesh, as it appear'd

By offering up his breast to you, for, believe it, sir,

Had he not greater crosses of his own,

Your hilts could not cross him——

Sand How <sup>1</sup>

Sav Not your hilts, sir

Come, I must have you friends, a pox of weapons <sup>1</sup>

There's a whole gapes for't, put it up i' the scabbard

Sand [sheathing his sword] Thou't a mad slave <sup>1</sup>

Sav Come, give me both your hands, 50

You're in a quagmire both, should I release you now,

Your wits would both come home in a stinking pickle,

Your father's old nose would smell you out presently

Phil Tell him the secret, which no mortal knows

But thou and I, and then he will confess

How much he wrong'd the patience of his friend

<sup>1</sup> Qu Tut or Prut "

<sup>2</sup> Old ed "now "

Sav Then thus the marigold opens at the splendour
 Of a hot, constant friendship 'twixt you both
 'Tis not unknown to your ear, some ten years since,
 My mistress, his good mother, with a daughter 60
 About the age of six, crossing to Guernsey,
 Was taken by the Dunkirks,<sup>1</sup> sold both, and separated,
 As the last news brings hot,—the first and last
 So much discover'd, for in nine years' space
 No certain tidings of their life or death,
 Or what place held 'em, earth, the sea, or heaven,
 Came to the old man's ears, the knight my master,
 Till about five months since a letter came,
 Sent from the mother, which related all
 Their taking, selling, separation, 70
 And never meeting, and withal requir'd
 Six hundred crowns for ransom, which my old master
 No sooner heard the sound, but told the sum,
 Gave him " the gold, and sent us both abroad
 We landing by the way—having a care
 To lighten us of our carriage, because gold
 Is such a heavy metal—eas'd our pockets
 In wenches' aprons women were made to bear,
 But for us gentlemen 'tis most unkindly <sup>3</sup>

Sand Well, sir?

Phil A pure rogue still!

<sup>1</sup> Privateers from Dunkirk Cf. Second Part of The Honest Whore
 I I —

Why, I warrant this precious wild villain, if he were put to t would fight more desperately than sixteen Dunkirks

<sup>3</sup> Against kind,—unnatural

Sav Amongst the rest, sir, 80
'Twas my young master's chance there to doat finely Upon a sweet young gentlewoman, but one
That would not sell her honour for the Indies, Till a priest struck the bargain, and then half
A crown despatch'd it,
To be brief, wedded her and bedded her,
Brought her home hither to her father's house,
And, with a fair tale of mine own bringing up,
She passes for his sister that was sold

Sand Let me not lose myself in wondering at thee !
But how made you your score even for the mother ? 91

Sav Pish, easily, we told him how her fortunes Mock'd us as they mock'd her, when we were o' the sea

She was o' the land, and, as report was given,
When we were landed, she was gone to heaven,
So he believes two lies one error bred,
The daughter ransom'd, and the mother dead

Sand Let me admire thee, and withal confess My injuries to friendship !

Phil They're all pardon'd
These are the arms I bore against my friend 100

Sav But what's all this to the present ? this discourse Leaves you i' the bog still

Phil On, good Saviourwit

Sav For yet our policy has cross'd ourselves, For the old knave, my master, little thinking her Wife to his son, but his own daughter still,
Seeks out a match for her——

Phil Here I feel the surgeon
At second dressing

Sav And has entertain'd,
Even for pure need, for fear the glass should crack
That is already broken but well solder'd,
A mere sot for her suitor, a rank fox, 110
One Weatherwise, that wooes by the almanac, Observes the full and change, an arrant moon calf,<sup>1</sup>
And yet, because the fool demands no portion
But the bare dower<sup>2</sup> of her smock, the old fellow, Worn to the bone with a dry, covetous<sup>3</sup> itch,
To save his purse, and yet bestow his child,
Consents to waste [her on] lumps of almanac stuff Kned with May butter<sup>4</sup> Now, as I have thought on't, I'll spoil him in the baking

Sand Prithce, as how, sirrah?

Sav I'll give him such a crack in one o'the sides, 120
He shall quite run out of my master's favour

Phil I should but too much love thee for that

Sav Thus, then,
To help you both at once, and so good night to you
After my wit has shipp'd away the fool,
As he shall part, I'll buzz into the ear

—G Markham's English Housewife p 199 ed 1637 —Dyce

Of my old master, that you, sir, master Sandfield, Dearly affect his daughter, and will take her
With little or no portion, well stood out in't, Methinks I see him caper at that news,
And in the full cry, O ! This brought about 130
And wittily dissembled on both parts—
You to affect his love, he to love yours—
I'll so beguile the father at the marriage,
That each shall have his own, and both being welcom'd
And chamber'd in one house,—as 'tis his pride
To have his children's children got successively
On his forefathers' feather beds,—in the daytimes,
To please the old man's eyesight, you may dally,
And set a kiss on the wrong lip—no sin in't,
Brothers and sisters do't, cousins do more, 140
But, pray, take heed you be not kin to them
So in the night time nothing can deceive you, Let each know his own work, and there I leave you

Sand Let me applaud thee !

Phil Blest be all thy ends

That mak'st arm'd enemies embracing friends !

About it speedily [Exit with SANDFIELD

Sav I need no pricking, I'm of that mettle, so well pac'd and free,
There's no good riders that use spur to me

Enter GRACE

O, are you come ?

Grace Are any comforts coming ?

Sav I never go without 'em

Grace Thou sportest joys that utterance cannot perfect

Sav Hark, are they risen ?

Grace Yes, long before I left 'em,
And all intend to bring the widow homeward

Our good shall arrive time enough at your heart

[Exit GRACE]

Poor fools, that evermore take a green surfeit
Of the first fruits of joys ! Let a man but shake the tree,
How soon they'll hold up their laps to receive comfort !

Enter LADY GOLDENFLEECE with SIR GILBERT LAMB STONE, PEPPER-TON, and OVERDONE, after them, SIR OLIVER TWILIGHT and SUNSET, with GRACE and JANE

Here comes the lady widow, the late wife
To the deceas'd sir Avarice Goldenfleece,
Second to none for usury and extortion,
As too well it appears on a poor gentleman,
One master Low water, from whose estate
He pull'd that fleece that makes his widow weight
Those are her suitors now, sir Gilbert Lambstone, Master Pepperton, [and] master Overdone [Aside
L Gold Nay, good sir Oliver Twilight, master Sunset, We'll trouble you no farther

Sir O Tw } No trouble, sweet madam
Sun }

Sir G Lamb We'll see the widow at home, it shall be our charge that

L Gold It shall be so indeed

Thanks, good sir Oliver, and to you both

I am indebted for those courtesies

That will ask me a long time to requite

Sir O Twi Ah, 'tis but your pleasant condition<sup>1</sup> to give it out so, madam

L Gold Mistress Grace and mistress Jane, I wish you both

A fair contented fortune in your choices,

And that you happen right

Grace } Thanks to you, good madam 180
Jane }

Grace There's more in that word right than you imagine [Aside

L Gold I now repent, girls, a rash oath I took,
When you were both infants, to conceal a secret

Grace What doesn't concern, good madam?

L Gold No, no,

Since you are both so well, 'tis well enough,

It must not be reveal'd, 'tis now no more

Than like mistaking of one hand for t'other

A happy time to you both !

Grace } The like to you, madam !
Jane }

Grace I shall long much to have this riddle open'd
[Aside

---

<sup>1</sup> Disposition

Jane I would you were so kind to my poor kins
woman, 190

And the distressed gentleman her husband,
Poor master Low water, who on ruin leans,
You keep this secret as you keep his means [Aside [L Gold] Thanks, good sir Oliver Twilight,—wel come,

Sweet master Pepperton,—master Overdone, welcome [Exeunt all except Sir OLIVER TWILIGHT and SAVOURWIT

Sir O Twi And goes the business well 'twixt those young lovers?

Sav Betwixt your son and master Sunset's daughter
The line goes even, sir

Sir O Twi Good lad, I like thee

Sav But, sir, there's no proportion, height, or even ness,

Betwixt that equinoctial and your daughter 200

Sir O Twi 'Tis true, and I'm right glad on't

Sav Are you glad, sir,
There's no proportion in't?

Sir O Twi Ay, marry am I, sir
I can abide no word that ends in portion,
I'll give her nothing

Sav Say you should not, sir—
As I'll ne'er urge your worship 'gainst your nature—
Is there no gentleman, think you, of worth and credit,
Will open 's bed to warm a naked maid?
A hundred gallant fellows, and be glad To be so set a work virginity

Is no such cheap ware as you make account on, 210
That it had need with portion be set off,
For that sets off a portion in these days

Sir O Twi Play on, sweet boy ,
O, I could hear this music all day long,
When there's no money to be parted from !
Strike on, good lad

Sav Do not wise men and great often bestow Ten thousand pound in jewels that lie by 'em ?
If so, what jewel can lie by a man
More precious than a virgin ? if none more precious, 220
Why should the pillow of a fool be grac'd
With that brave spirits with dearness have embriac'd ?
And then, perhaps, ere the third spring come on,
Sends home your diamond crack'd, the beauty gone ,
And more to know her, 'cause you shall not doubt her,
A number of poor sparks twinkling about her

Sir O Twi Now thou play'st Dowland's Lacrymæ<sup>1</sup> to thy master

Sav But shall I dry your eyes with a merry jig now,
And make you look like sunshine in a shower ?

Sir O Twi How, how, my honest boy, sweet Saviour
wit ? 230

Sav Young master Sandfield, gallant master Sand field——

Sir O Twi Ha ! what of him ?

---

<sup>1</sup> John Dowland, the famous lutenist, was born in 1562 and died in 1615. He travelled much abroad and was for some time lutenist to the King of Denmark. His Lacrymæ, or Seven Tears figured in Seven Passionate Pavans, &c, was a very popular musical work

Sav Affects your daughter strangely

Sir O Twi Brave master Sandfield !—let me hug thy zeal

Unto thy master's house,—ha, master Sandfield !

But he'll expect a portion

Sav Not a whit, sir,
As you may use the matter

Sir O Twi Nay, and the matter fall into my using,
The devil a penny that he gets of me !

Sav He lies at the mercy of your lock and key, sir,
You may use him as you list

Sir O Twi Say'st thou me so ? 240
Is he so far in doing ?

Sav Quite over head and ears, sir,
Nay, more, he means to run mad, and break his neck Off some high steeple, if he have her not

Sir O Twi Now bless the young gentleman's gristles !
I hope to be

A grandfather yet by 'em

Sav That may you, sir,
To, marry, a chopping girl with a plump buttock,
Will hoist a farthingale at five years old,
And call a man between eleven and twelve
To take part of a piece of mutton with her

Sir O Twi Ha, precious wag ! hook him in finely, do 250

Sav Make clear the way for him first, set the gull going

Sir O Twi An ass, an ass, I'll quickly dash his wooing

Sav Why, now the clocks
Go right again it must be a strange wit
That makes the wheels of youth and age so hit,
The one are dry, worn, rusty, furr'd, and soil'd, Love's wheels are glib, ever kept clean and oil'd

[Aside, and exit

Sir O Twi I cannot choose but think of this good fortune,
That gallant master Sandfield !

Enter WEATHERWISE

Wea Stay, stay, stay !

What comfort gives my almanac to day? 260

[Taking out an almanac
Luck I beseech thee ! [Reads] Good days,—evil days,—

Sir O Twi O pray come to me a quarter of a year hence ,

I have a little business now 280

Wea How, a quarter of a year hence ? what, shall I come to you in September ?

Sir O Twi Nor in November neither, good my friend

Wea You're not a mad knight ! you will not let your daughter hang past August, will you ? she'll drop down under tree then she's no winter fruit, I assure you, if you think to put her in crust after Christmas

Sir O Twi Sir, in a word, depart, my girl's not for you
I gave you a drowsy promise in a dream,
But broad awake now, I call't in again 290

Have me commended to your wit, farewell, sir [Exit

Wea Now the devil run away with you, and some lousy fiddler with your daughter ! may Clerkenwell<sup>2</sup> have the first cut of her, and Houndsditch pick the bones !
I'll never leave the love of an open hearted widow for a

A Room in LOW WATER'S HouseEnter MISTRESS LOW WATER

Mis Low Is there no saving means, no help religious,
 For a distressed gentlewoman to live by?
 Has virtue no revenue? who has all then?
 Is the world's lease from hell, the devil<sup>2</sup> head-land lord?
 O, how was conscience, the right hen, put by?
 Law would not do such an unrighteous deed,
 Though with the fall of angels 't had been fee'd
 Where are our hopes in banks? was honesty,
 A younger sister, without portion left,
 No dowry in the chamber beside wantonness? 10
 O miserable orphan!
 'Twixt two extremes runs there no blessed mean,

 Must I to whoredom or to beggary lean,
 My mind being sound? is there no way to miss it?
 Is't not injustice that a widow laughs,
 And lays her mourning part upon a wife?
 That she should have the garment, I the heart?
 My wealth her uncle left her, and me her grief
 Yet, stood all miseries in their loathed'st forms 20
 On this hand of me, thick like a foul mist,
 And here the bright enticements of the world
 In clearest colours, flattery and advancement,
 And all the bastard glories this frame jets<sup>2</sup> in,— Beside my visitation, to request you

To lay your wit to mine, which is but simple,
And help me to untie a few dark words

She holds it best to keep it unreveal'd
Now, what this is, heaven knows

Was ever full of such dishonest riddles,
To keep right heirs from knowledge of their own
And now I'm put i' the mind on't, I believe

Mis Low Return't, I'll receive none on't,

[Throwing down letter]

Foot There it must lie then, I were as good run to Tyburn a foot, and hang myself at mine own charges, as carry it back again. [Exit]

Mis Low 'Life, had he not his answer? what strange impudence

Governs in man when lust is lord of him <sup>1</sup>
 Thinks he me mad? 'cause I've no monies on earth,
 That I'll go forfeit my estate in heaven,
 And live eternal beggar? he shall pardon me, 80 That's my soul's jointure—I'll staive ere I sell that O, is he gone, and left the letter here?
 Yet I will read it, more to hate the writer [Reads

Mistress Low water,—If you desire to understand your own comfort, hear me out ere you refuse me I'm in the way now to double the yearly means that first I offered you, and to stir you more to me, I'll empty your enemy's bags to maintain you, for the rich widow, the Lady Goldenfleece, to whom I have been a longer suitor than you an adversary,<sup>1</sup> hath given me so much encouragement lately, insomuch that I am perfectly assured the next meeting strikes the bargain The happiness that follows this 'twere idle to inform you of, only consent to my desires, and the widow's notch<sup>2</sup> shall lie open to you This much to your heart, I know you're wise Farewell Thy friend to his power and another's, Gilbert Lambstone 96

In this poor brief <sup>3</sup> what volumes has he thrust

<sup>1</sup> Old ed. "a longer adversary"

The very nooks where beldams hide their gold "—Dyce

(Notch was a cant term for puerendum muliebre hence it might be applied jocularly to hidden treasure of any kind)

 With winged haste to my lord Mareschal "

Of treacherous perjury and adulterous lust<sup>1</sup>
 So foul a monster does this wrong appear,
 That I give pity to mine enemy here 100
 What a most fearful love reigns in some hearts,
 That dare oppose all judgment to get means,
 And wed rich widows only to keep queans<sup>1</sup>
 What a strange path he takes to my affection,
 And thinks 't the nearest way 'twill never be,
 Goes through mine enemy's ground to come to me
 This letter is most welcome, I repent now
 That my last anger threw thee at my feet,
 My bosom shall receive thee [Putting letter in her bosom]

Enter SIR GILBERT LAMBSTONE

Sir G Lamb 'Tis good policy too
 To keep one that so mortally hates the widow, 110
 She'll have more care to keep it close herself
 And look, what wind her revenge goes withal,
 The self same gale whisks up the sails of love<sup>1</sup>
 I shall lose<sup>1</sup> much good sport by that [Aside]
 —Now, my sweet mistress<sup>1</sup>

Mrs Low Sir Gilbert<sup>1</sup> you change suits<sup>2</sup> oft, you

Sir G Lamb Then may both perish <sup>1</sup>

Mis Low Do not wish that so soon, sir can you make 120

A three months' love to a rich widow's bed,

And lay her pillow under a quean's head <sup>2</sup>

I know you can't, howe'er you may dissemble 't,

You've a heart brought up better

Sir G Lamb Faith, you wrong me in't,

You shall not find it so, I do protest to thee,

I will be lord of all my promises,

And ere 't be long, thou shalt but turn a key,

And find 'em in thy coffer, for my love

In matching with the widow is but policy

To strengthen my estate, and make me able 130

To set off all thy kisses with rewards,

That the worst weather our delights behold,

It may hail pearl, and shower the widow's gold

Mis Low You talk of a brave world, sir

Sir G Lamb 'Twill seem better

When golden happiness breaks forth itself

Out of the east port <sup>1</sup> of the widow's chamber

Mis Low And here it sets

Sir G Lamb Here shall the downfall be,

Her wealth shall rise from her, and set in thee

Mis Low You men have th' art to overcome poor
women,

Pray give my thoughts the freedom of one day, 140

Mis Low There is no happiness but has her season, Wherein <sup>1</sup> the brightness of her virtue shines
The husk falls off in time, that long shut <sup>2</sup> up

The cloud of miseries from wretches' eyes,
That yet, though faln, at length they see to rise,
The secret powers work wondrously and duly

Low Why, how now, Kate?

Mis Low O, are you come, sir? husband, 150
Wake, wake, and let not patience keep thee poor, Rouse up thy spuit from this falling slumber <sup>1</sup>
Make thy distress seem but a weeping dream,
And this the opening morning of thy comforts,
Wipe the salt dew off from thy careful eyes,
And drink a draught of gladness next thy heart,
T' expel the infection of all poisonous sorrows <sup>1</sup>

Low You turn me past my senses <sup>1</sup>

Mis Low Will you but second
The purpose I intend, I'll be first forward,
I crave no more of thee but a following spirit, 160
Will you but grant me that

SCENE III

A Room in Sir OLIVER TWILIGHT's House

Enter Sir OLIVER TWILIGHT, SANDFIELD, PHILIP
TWILIGHT and SAVOURWIT

Sir O Twi Good master Sandfield, for the great affection

You bear toward my girl, I am well pleas'd
You should enjoy her beauty , heaven forbid, sir,
That I should cast away a proper gentleman,
So far in love, with a sour mood or so
No, no ,
I'll not die guilty of a lover's neck-cracking
Marry, as for portion, there I leave you, sir,
To the mercy of your destiny again ,
I'll have no hand in that

Sand Faith, something, sir, 10
Be't but t' express your love

Sir O Twi I've no desire, sir,
T' express my love that way, and so rest satisfied,
I pray take heed in urging that too much
You draw not my love from me

Sand Fates foresee, sir

Sir O Twi Faith, then you may go, seek out a high steeple,

Or a deep water—there's no saving of you

Sav How naturally he plays upon himself! [Aside

Sir O Twi Marry, if a wedding-dinner, as I told
you,

And three years' board, well lodgèd in mine house,

And eating, drinking, and a sleeping portion, 20

May give you satisfaction, I'm your man, sir,

Seek out no other

Sand I'm content to embrace it, sir,

Rather than hazard languishment or ruin

Sir O Twi I love thee for thy wisdom, such a son in-law

Will cheer a father's heart welcome, sweet master Sandfield

Whither away, boys? Philip!<sup>1</sup>

Phil To visit my love, sir, Old master Sunset's daughter

Sir O Twi That's my Philip!—

---

<sup>1</sup> Here old ed gives the stage direction "Enter Philip" but his entrance had been already marked at the beginning of the scene

Pray, send him in to me [Exit Servant ]—What news with him, trow ?<sup>1</sup>

Enter Dutch Merchant, with a little Dutch boy in great slops<sup>2</sup>

D Mer Sir Oliver Twilight ?

Sir O Twi That's my name indeed, sir,
I pray, be cover'd, sir, you're very welcome

D Mer This is my business, sir, I took into my charge 50

A few words to deliver to yourself
From a dear friend of yours, that wonders strangely
At your unkind neglect

Sir O Twi Indeed ! what might
He be, sir ?

D Mer Nay, you're i' the wrong gender now,
'Tis that distressed lady, your good wife, sir

Sir O Twi What say you, sir ? my wife !

D Mer Yes, sir, your wife
This strangeness now of yours seems more to harden
Th' unchantable neglect she tax'd you for

Sir O Twi Pray, give me leave, sir, is my wife alive ?

D Mer Came any news to you, sir, to the contrary ? 60

Sir O Twi Yes, by my faith, did there

D Mer Pray, how long since, sir ?

Sir O Twi 'Tis now some ten weeks

<sup>1</sup> ze think you

<sup>2</sup> Wide breeches

D Mer Faith, within this month, sir,
I saw her talk and eat, and those, in our calendar,
Are signs of life and health

Sir O Twi Mass, so they are in ours !

D Mer And these were the last words her passion <sup>1</sup> threw me,—

No grief, quoth she, sits to my heart so close
As his unkindness, and my daughter's loss

Sir O Twi You make me weep and wonder, for I swear

I sent her ransom, and that daughter's here

D Mer Here ! that will come well to lighten her of one grief, 70

I long to see her, for the piteous moan
Her mother made for her

Sir O Twi That shall you, sir — Within there !

Re-enter Servant

Ser Sir ?

Sir O Twi Call down my daughter

Ser Yes, sir ? [Exit

Sir O Twi Here is strange budgelling <sup>2</sup> I tell you,
sir,

Those that I put in trust were near me too—
A man would think they should not juggle with me—
My own son and my servant, no worse people, sir

<sup>1</sup> Sorrow

<sup>2</sup> Boggling?

D Mer And yet ofttimes, sir, what worse knave to a man

Than he that eats his meat?

Sir O Twi Troth, you say true, sir
I sent 'em simply, and that news they brought, 80
My wife had left the world, and, with that sum<sup>1</sup>
I sent to her, this brought his sister home Look you, sir, this is she

D Mer If my eve sin not, sir,
Or misty error falsify the glass,
I saw that face at Antwerp in an inn,
When I set forth first to fetch home this boy

Sir O Twi How? in an inn?

Grace O, I'm betray'd, I fear! [Aside]

D Mer How do you, young mistress?

Grace Your eyes wrong your tongue, sir,
And makes you sin in both, I am not she

D Mer No? then I ne'er saw face twice — Sir Oliver Twilight, 90

I tell you my free thoughts, I fear you're blinded,
I do not like this story, I doubt much
The sister is as false as the dead mother

Sir O Twi Yea, say you so, sir? I see nothing lets<sup>2</sup> me

---

<sup>1</sup> Old ed ' son Hinders

But to doubt so too then —

So, to your chamber, we have done with you

Grace I would be glad you had here's a strange storm! — [Aside

Sift it out well, sir, till anon I leave you, sir [Exit

D Mer Business commands me hence, but, as a pledge

Of my return, I'll leave my little son with you, 100

Who yet takes little pleasure in this country,

'Cause he can speak no English, all Dutch he

Sir O Twi A fine boy, he is welcome, sir, to me

D Mer Where's your leg and your thanks to the gentleman?

D Boy War es you neighgen an you thonkes you, Ich doncl you, ver ew edermon vrendly kite

Sir O Twi What says he, sir?

D Mer He thanks you for your kindness

Sir O Twi Pretty knave!

D Mer Had not some business held me by the way
This news had come to your ear ten days ago 111

Sir O Twi It comes too soon now, methinks, I'm your debtor

D Mer But I could wish it, sir, for better ware

Sir O Twi We must not be our own choosers in our fortunes [Exit Dutch Merchant

Here's a cold pie to breakfast! wife alive,

The daughter doubtful, and the money spent!

How am I juggled withal!

Re-enter SAVOURWIT

Sav It hits, i'faith, sir ,
The work goes even

Sir O Twi O, come, come, come !
Are you come, sir ?

Sav Life, what's the matter now !

Sir O Twi There's a new reckoning come in since

Sav Pox on't, 120
I thought all had been paid , I can't abide These after reckonings [Aside

Sir O Twi I pray, come near, sir, let's be acquainted with you ,
You're bold enough abroad with my purse, sir

Sav No more than beseems manners and good use,
sir

Sir O Twi Did not you bring me word some ten weeks since,
My wife was dead ?

Sav Yes, true, sir, very true, sir

Sir O Twi Pray, stay, and take my horse along with
you,—
And with the ransom that I sent for her,
That you redeem'd my daughter ?

Sav Right as can be, sir , 130
I ne'er found your worship in a false tale yet

Sir O Twi I thank you for your good word, sir , but I'm like

To find your worship now in two at once

Sav I should be sorry to hear that

Sir O Twi I believe you, sir
 Within this month my wife was sure alive,
 There's six weeks bated of your ten weeks' lie,
 As has been credibly reported to me
 By a Dutch merchant, father to that boy,
 But now come over, and the words scarce cold

Sav O strange —

[Aside 140

'Tis a most rank untruth, where is he, sir?

Sir O Twi He will not be long absent

Sav All's confounded! —

[Aside

If he were here, I'd<sup>1</sup> tell him to his face, sir,
 He wears a double tongue, that's Dutch and English
 Will the boy say't?

Sir O Twi 'Las, he can speak no English

Sav All the better, I'll gabble something to him

[Aside]—Hoyste haloiste, kalooskin ee vou, dar sune, alla gashin?

D Boy Ick wet neat watt hey zacki, Ick unverston ewe neat

150

Sav Why, la, I thought as much!

Sir O Twi What says the boy?

Sav He says his father is troubled with an imperfection at one time of the moon, and talks like a madman

Sir O Twi What, does the boy say so?

Sav I knew there was somewhat in't
 Your wife alive! will you believe all tales, sir?

Sir O Twi Nay, more, sir, he told me he saw this wench,

Which you brought home at Antwerp in an inn,
 Tell[s] me, I'm plainly cozen'd of all hands,
 'Tis not my daughter neither

Sav All's broke out!— [Aside 160

How! not your daughter, sir? I must to't again—
Quisquiniën sadlamare, alla pisse kicken sows clows, hoff tofte le cumber shaw, bouns bus boxsceeno

D Boy Icl an sawith no int hein clappen de heeke, I dinke ute zein zennon

Sav O, zein zennon! Ah ha! I thought how 'twould prove i' th' end—the boy says they never came near Antwerp, a quite contrary way, round about by Parma

Sir O Twi What's the same zein zennon? 169

Sav That is, he saw no such wench in an inn 'tis well I came in such happy time, to get it out of the boy before his father returned again pray, be wary, sir, the world's subtle, come and pretend a charitable business in policy, and work out a piece of money on
 you

Sir O Twi Mass, art advised of that?

Sav The age is cunning, sir, beside, a Dutchman will live upon any ground, and work butter out of a thistle

Sir O Twi Troth, thou say'st true in that, they're the best thrivers 180

In turnips, hartichalks,<sup>1</sup> and cabbishes,
 Our English are not like them

Sav O fie, no, sir!

---

<sup>1</sup> Hartichalks = artichokes cabbishes = cabbages

Sir O Twi Ask him from whence they came when they came hither

Sav That I will, sir — Culluaron lagooso, lageen, lagan, rufft, punkatee?

D Boy Nimd aweigh de cack

Sav What, what? I cannot blame him then

Sir O Twi What says he to thee?

Sav The poor boy blushes for him he tells me his father came from making merry with certain of his countrymen, and he's a little steeped in English beer, there's no heed to be taken of his tongue now 191

Sir O Twi Hoyday! how com'st thou by all this?
I heard him

Speak but three words to thee

Sav O sir, the Dutch is a very wide language, you shall have ten English words even for one, as, for example, gullder goose—there's a word for you, master!

Sir O Twi Why, what's that same gullder goose?

Sav How do you and all your generation?

Sir O Twi Why, 'tis impossible! how prove you that, sir?

Sav 'Tis thus distinguished, sir gull, how do you, der, and, goose, your generation 201

Sir O Twi 'Tis a most saucy language, how cam'st thou by't?

Sav I was brought up to London in an eel ship,
There was the place I caught it first by the tail —
I shall be tript anon, pox, would I were gone!—

[Aside

I'll go seek out your son, sir, you shall hear What thunder he'll bring with him

Sir O Twi Do, do, Savourwit,
 I'll have you all face to face

Sav Cuds me, what else, sir?—
 And you take me so near the net again,
 I'll give you leave to squat<sup>1</sup> me, I've scap'd fairly 210
 We're undone in Dutch, all our three months' roguery
 Is now come over in a butter firkin [Aside, and exit
Sir O Twi Never was man so tost between two tales!

I know not which to take, nor which to trust,
 The boy here is the likeliest to tell truth,
 Because the world's corruption is not yet
 At full years in him, sure he cannot know What deceit means, 'tis English yet to him
 And when I think again, why should the father
 Dissemble for no profit? he gets none, 220
 Whate'er he hopes for, and I think he hopes not
 The man's in a good case, being old and weary,
 He dares not lean his arm on his son's shoulder,
 For fear he lie i' the dirt, but must be rather Beholding to a stranger for his prop [Aside

Re enter Dutch Merchant

D Mer I make bold once again, sir, for a boy here
Sir O Twi O, sir, you're welcome! pray, resolve me one thing, sir,

---

<sup>1</sup> Bruise, lay flat See Halliwell

Did you within this month, with your own eyes, See my wife living ?

D Mer I ne'er borrow'd any Why should you move that question, sir ? dissembling 230
Is no part of my living

Sir O Twi I have reason
To urge it so far, sir—pray, be not angry, though—Because my man, was here since your departure, Withstands all stiffly, and to make it clearer, Question'd your boy in Dutch, who, as he told me, Return'd this answer first to him,—that you
Had imperfection at one time o' the moon,
Which made you talk so strangely

D Mer How ! how's this ?—Zeicke yongon, ick ben ick quelt medien dullek heght, ee untot van the mon, an koot uram'd 241

D Boy Wee ek heigh heght in ze bokkas, dee't site

D Mer Why, la, you, sir, here s no such thing ! he says

He lies in's throat that says it

Sir O Twi Then the rogue lies in's throat, for he told me so ,

And that the boy should answer at next question,
That you ne'er saw this wench, nor came near An twerp

D Mer Ten thousand devils !—*Zeicke hee ewe ek

D Boy Ick hub ham hean sulka dongon he zaut, hez es an skallom an rubbout

D Mer He says he told him no such matter, he's a knave and a rascal

Sir O Twi Why, how am I abus'd! Pray, tell me one thing,

What's gullder goose in Dutch?

D Mer How! gullder goose? there's no Such thing in Dutch, it may be an ass in English

Sir O Twi Hoyday! then am I that ass in plain English,

I'm grossly cozen'd, most inconsiderately!

Pray, let my house receive you for one night, 260

That I may quit<sup>1</sup> these rascals, I beseech you, sir

D Mer If that may stead you, sir, I'll not refuse you

Sir O Twi A thousand thanks, and welcome —
On whom can fortune more spit out her foam, Work'd on abroad, and play'd upon at home! [Exeunt

ACT II

SCENE I

A large Room in WEATHERWISE'S House

Enter WEATHERWISE while Servants are setting out a table, and PICKADILL looking on

Wea So, set the table ready , the widow's i' the next room, looking upon my clock with the days and the months and the change of the moon , I'll fetch her in presently [Exit

Pick She's not so mad to be fetched in with the moon, I warrant you a man must go roundlier to work with a widow, than to woo her with the hand of a dial, or stir up her blood with the striking part of a clock , I should ne'er stand to show her such things in chamber [Exeunt Servants

Re-enter WEATHERWISE handing in LADY GOLDENFLEECE, SIR GILBERT LAMBSTONE, PEPPER-TON, and OVER DONE

Wea Welcome, sweet widow, to a bachelor's house here ' a single man I, but for two or three maids that I keep

L Gold Why, are you double with them, then?

Wea An exceeding good mourning wit! women are wiser than ever they were, since they wore doublets. You must think, sweet widow, if a man keep maids, they're under his subjection.

L Gold That's most true, sir.

Wea They have no reason to have a lock but the master must have a key to't 20

L Gold To him, sir Gilbert! he fights with me at a wrong weapon now.

Wea Nay, and sir Gilbert strike, my weapon falls, I fear no thrust but his here are more shooters, But they have shot two arrows without heads, They cannot stick i' the butt yet hold out, knight, And I'll cleave the black pin in the midst o' the white <sup>1</sup>

[Aside, and exit]

L Gold Nay, and he led me into a closet, sir, where he showed me diet drinks for several months, as scurvey grass for April, clarified whey for June, and the like 30

Sir G Lamb O, madam, he is a most necessary property, an't be but to save our credit, ten pound in a banquet.

L Gold Go, you're a wag, sir Gilbert.

Sir G Lamb How many there be in the world of his fortunes, that prick their own calves with briars, to make an easy passage for others, or, like a toiling usurer, sets his son a horseback in cloth of gold breeches, while he himself goes to the devil a-foot in a pair of old strossers<sup>1</sup>

 But shall I give a more familiar sign ? 40
 His are the sweetmeats, but the kisses mine

[Kisses her

Over Excellent !—A pox a' your fortune ! [Aside

Pep Saucy courting has brought all modest wooing clean out of fashion you shall have few maids now a-days got without rough handling, all the town's so used to't, and most commonly, too, they're joined before they're married, because they'll be sure to be fast enough

Over Sir, since he stives t' oppose himself against us,

Let's so combine our friendships in our straits, 50
 By all means graceful, to assist each other,
 For, I protest, it shall as much glad me
 To see your happiness, and his disgrace,
 As if the wealth were mine, the love, the place

Pep And with the like faith I reward your friendship, I'll break the bawdy ranks of his discourse,
 And scatter his libidinous whispers straight —
 Madam——

L Gold How cheer you, gentlemen ?

Sir G Lamb Pox on 'em,

They wak'd me out of a fine sleep ! three minutes
 Had fasten'd all the treasure in mine arms [Aside 60

<sup>1</sup> Tight drawers worn particularly by the Irish See Dyce's Shakespeare Glossary

Pep You took no note of this conceit, it seems,
madam ?

L Gold Twelve trenchers,<sup>1</sup> upon every one a month !
January, February, March, April——

Pep Ay, and their posies under 'em

L Gold Pray, what says May ? she's the spring lady

Pep [reads]

Now<sup>2</sup> gallant May, in her array,

Doth make the field pleasant and gay

Over [reads]

This month of June use clarified whey

Boil'd with cold herbs, and drink alway

L Gold Drink't all away, he should say 70

Pep 'Twere much better indeed, and wholesomer for his liver

Sir G Lamb September's a good one here, madam

L Gold O, have you chose your month ? let's hear't, sir Gilbert

Sir G Lamb [reads]

Now may'st thou physics safely take,

And bleed, and bathe for thy health's sake,

Eat figs, and grapes, and spices,

For to refresh thy members dry

L Gold Thus it is still, when a man's simple meaning lights among wantons how many honest words have suffered corruption since Chaucer's days ! a virgin would speak those words then that a very mid-wife would blush to hear now, if she have but so much blood left to make up an ounce of grace And who is this 'long on, but such wags as you, that use your words like your wenches? you cannot let 'em pass honestly by you, but you must still have a flirt at 'em 87

Pep You have paid some of us home, madam

Re enter WEATHERWISE

Wea If conceit will strike this stroke, have at the widow's plum tree<sup>1</sup> I'll put 'em down all for a banquet [Aside]—Widow and gentlemen, my friends and servants, I make you wait long here for a bachelor's pittance

L Gold O, sir, you're pleased to be modest

Wea No, by my troth, widow, you shall find it other wise

[Music The banquet<sup>2</sup> is brought in, six of WEATHER

<sup>1</sup> Plum tree was one of the many cant terms for the puendum muliebrem see Cotgrave under Hoche prunier The expression have at your plum tree is not unfrequently found Cf The Widow, 1 2 — "Nay then have at your plum tree! futh, I'll not be foiled"

<sup>2</sup> Dessert Dyce quotes the following passage from Gervase Markham's English Housewife — "I will now proceed to the ordering or setting forth of a Banquet, wherein you shall observe, that Marchpanes have the first place the middle place and last place your preserved fruits shall be dish'd up first your pastes next your wet Suckets after them, then your dried Suckets, then your Marmalades and Goodnakes then your Comfets of all kinds Next your Peares, Apples, Wardens bak'd raw or roasted, and your Orenge and Lemons sliced, and lastly, your Wafer cakes Thus you shall order them in the closet but when they goe to the Table, you shall first send forth a dish made for show only, as Beast Bird, Fish, Fowle, according to the invention then your Marchpane, then preserved fruit then a Paste then a wet Sucket, then a dry Sucket, Marmalade Comfets Apples Peares,

WISE'S Tenants carrying the Twelve Signs, Aries, Taurus, Gemini, Cancer, Leo, Virgo, Libra, Scorpio, Sagittarius, Capricorn, Aquarius, and Pisces, made of banqueting stuff

L Gold What, the Twelve Signs?

Wea These are the signs of my love, widow

L Gold Worse meat would have serv'd us, sir, by my faith,

I'm sorry you should be at such charges, sir, 100
To feast us a whole month together here

Wea Widow, thou'rt welcome a whole month, and ever!

L Gold And what be those, sir, that brought in the banquet?

Wea Those are my tenants, they stand for fasting days

Sir G Lamb Or the six weeks in Lent

Wea You're i' the right, sir Gilbert —
Sweet widow, take your place at Aries here,
That's the head sign, a widow is the head

Till she be married [LADY GOLDENFLEECE sits]

L Gold What is she then?

Wea The middle

L Gold 'Tis happy she's no worse

Wardens, Oranges and Lemons, sliced and then Wafers and another dish of preserved fruited, and so consequently all the rest before no two dishes of one kinde going or standing together and this will not onely appeare delicate to the eye but invite the appetite with the much variety thereof" (p 136, ed 1637)

Wea Taurus—sir Gilbert Lambstone, that's for you
They say you're a good town bull 111

Sir G Lamb O, spare your friends, sir ! [Sits

Wea And Gemini for master Pepperton,
He had two boys at once by his last wife

Pep I hear the widow find no fault with that, sir [Sits

Wea Cancer, the crab, for master Overdone ,
For when a thing's past fifty, it grows crooked [OVERDONE sits

L Gold Now for yourself, sir

Wea Take no care for me, widow, I can be any where here's Leo, heart and back, Virgo, guts and belly, 120

I can go lower yet, and yet fare better,
Since Sagittarius fits me the thighs ,
I care not if I be about the thighs,
I shall find meat enough [Sits

L Gold But, under pardon, sir, Though you be lord o' the feast and the conceit both,
Methinks it had been proper for the banquet
T' have had the signs all fill'd, and no one idle

Wea I know it had, but who's fault's that, widow?
you should have got you more suitors to have stopt the gaps 130

L Gold Nay, sure, they should get us, and not we them

There be your tenants, sir, we are not proud,
You may bid them sit down

Wea By the mass, it's true too!—Then sit down, tenants, once with your hats on, but spare the meat, I charge you, as you hope for new leases I must make my signs draw out a month yet, with a bit every morning to breakfast, and at full moon with a whole one, that's restorative sit round, sit round, and do not speak, sweet tenants, you may be bold enough, so you eat but little [Tenants sit ]—How like you th s now, widow ?

L Gold It shows well, sir, 141
And like the good old hospitable fashion

Pick How ' like a good old hospital ? my mistress makes an arrant gull on him [Aside

L Gold But yet, methinks, there wants clothes for the feet

Wea That part's uncovered yet push, no matter for the feet

L Gold Yes, if the feet catch cold, the head will feel it

Wea Why, then, you may draw up your legs, and lie rounder together 150

Sir G Lamb Has answered you well, madam !

Wea And you draw up your legs too, widow, my tenant will feel you there, for he's one of the calves

L Gold Better and better, sir, your wit fattens as he feeds

Pick Sh'as took the calf from his tenant, and put it upon his ground now [Aside

Enter Servant

Wea How now, my lady's man ? what's the news, sir ?

Ser Madam, there's a young gentleman below Has earnest business to your ladyship 160

Wea Another sutor, I hold my life, widow

L Gold What is he, sir ?

Ser He seems a gentleman,
That's the least of him, and yet more I know not

L Gold Under the leave o' the master of the house here,

I would he were admitted

Wea With all my heart, widow, I fear him not, Come cut and long tail <sup>1</sup> [Exit Servant

Sir G Lamb I have the least fear 167
And the most firmness, nothing can shake me [Aside

Wea If he be a gentleman, he's welcome there's a sign does nothing, and that's fit for a gentleman The feet will be kept warm enough now for you, widow, for if he be a right gentleman, he has his stockings warmed, and he wears socks beside, partly for warmth, partly for cleanliness, and if he observe Fridays too, he comes excellent well, Pisces will be a fine fish dinner for him

L Gold Why, then, you mean, sir, he shall sit as he comes ?

Wea Ay, and he were a lord, he shall not sit above my tenants, I'll not have two lords to them, so I may go look my rent in another man's breeches, I was not brought up to be so unmannerly 180

Enter MISIRESS LOW WATER, disguised as a gallant
Gentleman, and LOW WATER as a Serving-man

Mis Low I have picked out a bold time much good do you, gentlemen

---

<sup>1</sup> Come cut and long tail = come dogs of all kinds, people of every sort — See Dyce's Shakespeare Glossary

Wea You're welcome, as I may sav, sir

Mis Low Pardon my rudeness, madam

L Gold No such fault, sir,

You're too severe to yourself, our judgment quits you Please you to do as we do

Mis Low Thanks, good madam

L Gold Make room, gentlemen

Wea Sit still, tenants, I'll call in all your old leases, and rack you else

Tenants O, sweet landlord ! 190

Mis Low Take my cloak, sirrah [Giving cloak to

LOW WATER ]—If any be disturb'd,

I'll not sit, gentlemen I see my place

Wea A proper woman turned gallant ! If the widow refuse me, I care not if I be a suitor to him, I have known those who have been as mad, and given half their living for a male companion [Aside

Mis Low How ? Pisces ! is that mine ? 'tis a conceded banquet [Sits

Wea If you love any fish, pray, fall to, sir, if you had come sooner, you might have happened among some of the flesh signs, but now they're all taken up Virgo had been a good dish for you, had not one of my tenants been somewhat busy with her 203

Mis Low Pray, let him keep her, sir, give me meat fresh,

I'd rather have whole fish than broken flesh

Sir G Lamb What say you to a bit of Taurus ?

Mis Low No, I thank you, sir,
The bull's too rank for me

Sir G Lamb How, sir ?

Mis Low Too rank, sir

Sir G Lamb Fie, I shall strike you dumb, like all your fellows

Mis Low What, with your heels or horns ?

Sir G Lamb Perhaps with both 210

Mis Low It must be at dead low water, when I'm dead then

Low 'Tis a brave Kate, and nobly spoke of thee !

[Aside

Wea This quarrel must be drowned —Pickadill, my lady's fool

Pick Your, your own man, sir

Wea Pruthee, step in to one of the maids

Pick That I will, sir, and thank you too

Wea Nay, hark you, sir, call for my sun cup presently,
I'd forgot it

Pick How, your sun cup ?—Some cup, I warrant, that he stole out o' the Sun-tavern [ Aside and exit

L Gold The more I look on him, the more I thirst for't, 221

Methinks his beauty does so far transcend,
Turns the signs back, makes that the upper end

[ Aside

Wea How cheer you, widow?—Gentlemen, how cheer
you ?

Fair weather in all quarters !

The sun will peep anon, I've sent one for him ,
In the meantime I'll tell you a tale of these

This Libra here, that keeps the scale so even,
 Was i' th' old time an honest chandler's widow,
 And had one daughter which was called Virgo, 230
 Which now my hungry tenant has deflower'd This Virgo, passing for a maid, was sued to
 By Sagittarius there, a gallant shooter,
 And Aries, his head rival, but her old
 Crabb'd uncle, Cancer here, dwelling in Crooked Lane, Still crost the marriage, minding to bestow her Upon one Scorpio, a rich usurer,
 The girl, loathing that match, fell into folly
 With one Taurus, a gentleman, in Townbull<sup>1</sup> Street,
 By whom she had two twins, those Gemini there, 240
 Of which two brats she was brought a bed in Leo,
 At the Red Lion, about Tower Hill
 Being in this distress, one Capricorn,
 An honest citizen, pitied her case, and married her
 To Aquarius, an old water bearer,
 And Pisces was her living ever after,
 At Standard<sup>2</sup> she sold fish, where he drew water
All It shall be yours, sir
L Gold Meat and mirth too ' you're lavish,
 Your purse and tongue has been at cost to day, sir Sir G Lamb You may challenge all comers at these twelve weapons, I warrant you 251

---

<sup>1</sup> A jocular substitute for Turnbull Street, an infamous quarter of the town

Re enter PICKADILL carrying the sun cup, without his doublet, and with a veil over his face

Pick Your sun cup, call you it? 'tis a simple voyage that I have made here, I have left my doublet within, for fear I should sweat through my jerkin, and thrown a cypress<sup>1</sup> over my face, for fear of sun burning

Wea How now? who's this? why, sirrah!

Pick Can you endure it, mistress?

L Gold Endure what, fool?

Wea Fill the cup, coxcomb 259

Pick Nay, an't be no hotter, I'll go put on my doublet again [Exit

Wea What a whorson sot is this!—Prithee, fill the cup, fellow, and give't the widow

Mis Low Sirrah, how stand you?

Bestow your service there upon her ladyship

[LOW WATER fills the cup and presents it to LADY

GOLDENFLICE

L Gold What's here? a sun?

Wea It does betoken, madam,

A cheerful day to somebody

L Gold It rises

Full in the face of yon<sup>2</sup> fair sign, and yet

By course he is the last must feel the heat [Aside

Here, gentlemen, to you all, 270

For you know the sun must go through the Twelve Signs [Drin's

<sup>1</sup> Gauzy stuff resembling crape, either white or black

<sup>2</sup> Old ed ' you

Wea Most wittily, widow, you jump<sup>1</sup> with my conceit right,

There's not a hair between us

L Gold Give it sir Gilbert

Sir G Lamb I am the next through whom the golden flame

Shines, when 'tis spent in thy celestial ram,

The poor feet there must wait and cool awhile [Drinks

Mis Low We have our time, sir, joy and we shall meet,

I've known the proud neck lie between the feet

Wea So, round it goes [The others drink in order

Re enter PICKADILL

Pick I like this drinking world well

Wea So, fill't him again

Pep Fill't me ' why, I drunk last, sir 280

Wea I know you did, but Gemini must drink twice, Unless you mean that one of them shall be chok'd

L Gold Fly from my heart all variable thoughts '

She that's entic'd by every pleasing object,

Shall find small pleasure and as little rest

This knave hath lov'd me long, he's best and worthiest,
I cannot but in honour see him requited [Aside

Sir Gilbert Lambstone——

Mis Low How? pardon me, sweet lady,

That with a bold tongue I strike by your words,

Sir Gilbert Lambstone '

---

<sup>1</sup> Agree with

Sir G Lamb Yes, sir, that's my name 290

Mis Low There should be a rank villain of that name, Came you out of that house ?

Sir G Lamb How, sir slave !

Mis Low Fall to your bull, leave roaring till anon

Wea Yet again ! and you love me, gentlemen, let's have no roaring here If I had thought that, I'd have sent my bull to the bear garden

Pep Why, so you should have wanted one of your signs

Wea But I may chance want two now, and they fall together by the ears 300

L Gold What's the strange fire that works in these two creatures ?

Cold signs both, yet more hot than all their fellows

Wea Ho, Sol in Pisces ! the sun's in New Fish Street, here's an end of this course

Pick Madam, I am bold to remember your worship for a year's wages and a livery cloak

L Gold How, will you shame me ? had you not both last week, fool ?

Pick Ay, but there's another year past since that

L Gold Would all your wit could make that good,
sir ! 311

Pick I am sure the sun has run through all the Twelve Signs since, and that's a year, these <sup>1</sup> gentlemen can witness

Wea The fool will live, madam

---

<sup>1</sup> Old ed 'this

Pick Ay, as long as your eyes are open, I warrant him

Mis Low Sirrah

Low Does your worship call?

Mis Low Commend my love and service to the widow, 320

Desire her ladyship to taste that morsel

[Giving letter to LOW WATER, who carries it to LADY GOLDENFLEECE]

Low This is the bit I watch'd for all this while,
But it comes duly [Aside]

Sir G Lamb And wherein has this name of mine offended,

That you're so liberal of your infamous titles,
I but a stranger to thee? it must be known, sir, Ere we two part

Mis Low Marry, and reason good, sir

L Gold O, strike me cold!—This should be your hand, sir Gilbert?

Sir G Lamb Why, make you question of that, madam? 'tis one of the letters I sent you 331

L Gold Much good do you, gentlemen [Rising]

Pep } How now? what's the matter? [All rise
Over }

Wea Look to the widow, she paints white —
Some aqua celestis for my lady! run, villain

Pick Aqua solister? can nobody help her case but a lawyer, and so many suitors here?

L Gold O treachery unmatch'd, unheard of!

Sir G Lamb How do you, madam?

L Gold O impudence as foul ! does my disease 340
Ask how I do ? can it torment my heart
And look with a fresh colour in my face ?

Sir G Lamb What's this, what's this ?

Wea I am sorry for this qualm, widow

L Gold He that would know a villain when he meets him,

Let him ne'er go to a conjuror , here's a glass
Will show him without money, and far truer — Preserver of my state, pray, tell me, sir,
That I may pay you all my thanks together,
What blest hap brought that letter to your hand, 350
From me so fast lock'd in mine enemy's power

Mis Low I will resolve you, madam I've a kins
man

Somewhat infected with that wanton pity
Which men bestow on the distress of women, Especially if they be fair and poor ,
With such hot charity, which indeed is lust,
He sought t' entice, as his repentance told me,
Her whom you call your enemy, the wife
To a poor gentleman, one Low water——

L Gold Right, right, the same

Low Had it been right, 't had now been [Aside 360

Mis Low And, according to the common rate of sinners,

Offer'd large maintenance, which with her seem'd nothing ,

For if she would consent, she told him roundly,
There was a knight had bid more at one minute

Than all his wealth could compass, and withal,
Pluck'd out that letter, as it were in scorn,
Which by good fortune he put up in jest,
With promise that the writ should be returnable
The next hour of his meeting But, sweet madam,
Out of my love and zeal, I did so practise 370
The part upon him of an urgent wooer,
That neither he nor that return'd more to her

Sir G Lamb Plague a' that kinsman ! [Aside
Wea Here's a gallant rascal !

L Gold Sir, you've appear'd so noble in this action,
So full of worth and goodness, that my thanks
Will rather shame the bounty of my mind
Than do it honour — O, thou treacherous villain, Does thy faith bear such fruit ?
Are these the blossoms of a hundred oaths Shot from thy bosom ? was thy love so spiteful, 380
It could not be content to mock my heart,
Which is in love a misery too much,
But must extend so far to the quick ruin
Of what was painfully got, carefully left me,
And, 'mongst a world of yielding needy women,
Choose no one to make merry with my sorrows,
And spend my wealth on in adulterous surfeits,
But my most mortal enemy ! O, despiteful !
Is this thy practice ? follow it, 'twill advance thee,
Go, beguile on Have I so happily found 390
What many a widow has with sorrow tasted,
Even when my lip touch'd the contracting cup,
Even then to see the spider ? 'twas miraculous !

Crawl with thy poisons hence , and for thy sake
I'll never covet titles and more riches,
To fall into a gulf of hate and laughter
I'll marry love hereafter, I've enough ,
And wanting that, I've nothing    There's thy way

Over Do you hear, sir? you must walk

Pep Heart, thrust him down stairs!

Wea Out of my house, you treacherous, lecherous rascal!

Sir G Lamb All curses scatter you !

Wea Life, do you thunder here! [Exit SIR G. LAMBSTONE] If you had stayed a little longer, I'd have ript out some of my Bull out of your belly again

Pep 'Twas a most noble discovery, we must love you for ever for't

L Gold Sir, for your banquet and your mirth we thank you,—

You, gentlemen, for your kind company,—

But you, for all my meiry days to come,

Or this had been the last else

Mis Low Love and fortune

Had more care of your safety, peace, and state,
madam

Wea Now will I thrust in for't [Aside

Pep I'm for myself now [Aside

Over What's fifty years? 'tis man's best time and season,

Now the knight's gone, the widow will hear reason

[Aside

Low Now, now, the sutois flatter, hold on, Kate ,
The hen may pick the meat while the cocks prate

[Exeunt]

SCENE II

A Street

Enter SANDFIELD, PHILIP TWILIGHT, and SAVOURWIT

Phil If thou talk'st longer, I shall turn to maible,
And death will stop my hearing

Sand Horrible fortune !

Sav Nay, su, our building is so far defac'd,
There is no stuff left to raise up a hope

Phil O, with more patience could my flesh endure
A score of wounds, and all their several searchings, Than this that thou hast told me !

Sav Would that Flemish ram
Had ne'er come near our house ! there's no going home
As long as he has a nest there, and his young one,
A little Flanders egg new fledg'd they gape 10
For pork, and I shall be made meat for 'em

Phil 'Tis not the bare news of my mother's life—
May she live long and happy !—that afflicts me
With half the violence that the latter draws ,
Though in that news I have my share of grief,
As I had share of sin and a foul neglect,
It is my love's betraying, that's the sting
That strikes through flesh and spirit , and sense nor wit
From thee, in whom I ne'er saw ebb till now,

Nor comforts from a faithful friend can ease me , 20
I'll try the goodness of a third companion,
What he'll do for me [Drawing his sword

Sand Hold ! whv, friend——

Sav Why, master, is this all your kindness, sir? offer to steal into another country, and ne'er take your leave on's? troth, I take it unkindly at your hands, sir, but I'll put it up for once [Sheathing PHILIP'S sword] Faith, there was no conscience in this, sir, leave me here to endure all weathers, whilst you make your soul dance like a juggler's egg upon the point of a rapier !
By my troth, sir, you're to blame in't, you might have given us an inkling of your journey, perhaps others would as fain have gone as you 33

Phil Burns this clay lamp of miserable life,
When joy, the oil that feeds it, is dried up ?

Enter LADY TWILIGHT, BEVERIL, and Servants

L Twi He has remov'd his house

Bew So it seems, madam

L Twi I'll ask that gentleman —Pray, can you tell me, sir,

Which is sir Oliver Twilight's ?

Phil Few can better, gentlewoman ,
It is the next fair house your eye can fix on

L Twi I thank you, sir —Go on [Exeunt Servants ]
—He had a son 40

About some ten years since

Phil That son still lives

L Twi I pray, how does he, sir ?

Phil Faith, much about my health,—that's never worse — [Aside

If you have any business to him, gentlewoman,
I can cut short your journey to the house,
I'm all that ever was of the same kind

L Twin [embracing him] O, my sweet son ! never fell fresher joy

Upon the heart of mother !—This is he, sir

Bev My seven years' travel has e'en worn him out Of my remembrance

Sav O, this gear's worse and worse ! [Aside 50

Phil I am so wonder struck at your blest presence, That, through amaz'd joy, I neglect my duty [Kneels

L Twin [raising him] Rise, and a thousand blessings spring up withthee !

Sav I would we had but one in the meantime,
Let the rest grow at leisure [Aside

L Twin But know you not this gentleman yet, son ?

Phil I take it's master Beveril

Bev My name's Beveril, sir

Phil Right welcome to my bosom ! [Embracing him

L Twin You'd not think, son,

How much I am beholding to this gentleman,
As far as freedom, he lud out the ransom,
Finding me so distress'd 60

Phil 'Twas worthily done, sir,
And I shall ever rest your servant for't

Bev You quite forget your worth 'twas my good hap,
sir,

To return home that way, after some travels,

Where, finding your good mother so distress'd,
I could not but in pity see her releas'd

Phil It was a noble charity, sir, heaven quit<sup>1</sup> you!

Sav It comes at last! [Aside]

Bev I left a sister here,

New married when I last took leave of England

Phil O, mistress Low water

Bev Pray, sir how does she? 70

Phil So little comfort I can give you, sir,
That I would fain excuse myself for silence

Bev Why, what's the worst, sir?

Phil Wrongs has made her poor

Bev You strike my heart alas, good gentlewoman!

Phil Here's a gentleman—

You know him—master Sandfield—

Bev I crave pardon, sir

Phil He can resolve you from her kinswoman

Sand Welcome to England, madam!

L Twi Thanks, good sir

Phil Now there's no way to 'scape, I'm compass'd round

My shame is like a prisoner set with halberds 80

Sav Pish, master, master, 'tis young flood again,
And you can take your time now, away, quick!

Phil Push, thou'st a swimming head

Sav Will you but hear me?

When did you lose your tide when I set forth with you?

Phil That's true

<sup>1</sup> Requite

Sav Regard me then, though you've no feeling, I would not hang by the thumbs with a good will

Phil I hang by th' heart, sir, and would fain have ease

Sav Then this or none fly to your mother's pity,
For that's the court must help you, you're quite gone
At common law, no counsellor can hear you, 91
Confess your follies, and ask pardon for 'em,
Tell her the state of all things, stand not nicely,
The meat's too hard

To be minc'd now, she breeds young bones by this time,
Deal plainly, heaven will bless thee, turn out all,
And shake your pockets after it, beg, weep,
Kneel, anything, it will break no bones, man
Let her not rest, take breathing time, nor leave thee, I'll thou hast got her help

Phil Lad, I conceive thee 100

Sav About it, then, it requires haste—do't well, There's but a short street between us and hell

Bev Ah, my poor sister!

L Twi 'Las, good gentlewoman!
My heart even weeps for her—Ay, son, we'll go now

Phil May I crave one word, madam?

[Shogs<sup>1</sup> his Mother

L Twi With me, son?
The more, the better welcome

Sav Now, now, luck!
I pray not often, the last prayer I made

---

<sup>1</sup> Jogs, jostles See Halliwel

Was nine year old last Bartholomew tide , 'twould have been

A jolly chopper and 't had liv'd till this time

L Twi Why do your words start back? are they afraid 110

Of her that ever lov'd them?

Phil I've a suit to you, madam

L Twi You've told me that already , pray, what is't?
If't be so great, my present state refuse it,
I shall be able, then command and use it ,
Whate'er 't be, let me have warning, to provide for't

Phil [knels ] Provide forgiveness then, for that's the want

My conscience feels O, my wild youth has led me
Into unnatural wrongs against your freedom once!

I spent the ransom which my father sent,
To set my pleasures free, while you lay captive 120

Sav He does it finely, faith [Aside]

L Twi And is this all now?

You use me like a stranger , pray, stand up

Phil Rather fall flat , I shall deserve yet worse

L Twi [rising PHILIP ] Whate'er your faults are, esteem me still a friend,

Or else you wrong me more in asking pardon
Than when you did the wrong you ask'd it for ,
And since you have prepar'd me to forgive you,
Pray, let me know for what , the first fault's nothing

Sav 'Tis a sweet lady every inch of her! [Aside]

Phil Here comes the wrong then that dives home the rest 135

I saw a face at Antwerp that quite drew me
 From conscience and obedience, in that fray
 I lost my heart, I must needs lose my way,
 There went the ransom, to redeem my mind,
 'Stead of the money, I brought over her,
 And to cast mists before my father's eyes,
 Told him it was my sister, lost so long,
 And that yourself was dead you see the wrong

L. Twi This is but youthful still —O, that word sister
 Afflicts me when I think on't <sup>1</sup>—I forgive thee 140
 As freely as thou didst it, for, alas,
 This may be call'd good dealing to <sup>1</sup> some parts
 That love and youth plays daily among sons

Sav She helps our knavery well, that's one good comfort [Aside

Phil But such is the hard plight my state lives in,
 That 'twixt forgiveness I must sin again,
 And seek my help where I bestow'd my wrongs
 O mother, pity once, though against reason,
 'Cause I can merit none, though my wrongs grieve ye,<sup>2</sup>
 Yet let it be your glory to relieve me <sup>1</sup> 150

L. Twi Wherein have I given cause yet of mistrust, That you should doubt my succour and my love?
 Show me but in what kind I may bestow 'em

Phil There came a Dutchman with report this day
 That you were living

L. Twi Came he so lately?

<sup>1</sup> In comparison with <sup>2</sup> Old ed you —but a rhyme was intended

Phil Yes, madam,
 Which news so struck my father on the sudden,
 That he grows jealous<sup>1</sup> of my faith in both These five hours have I kept me from his sight,
 And wish'd myself eternally so hid,
 And surely, had not your blest presence quicken'd 160
 The flame of life in me, all had gone out
 Now, to confirm me to his trust again,
 And settle much aright in his opinion,
 Say but she is my sister, and all's well

L. Twi You ask devotion<sup>2</sup> like a bashful beggar, That pure need urges, and not lazy impudence,
 And to express how glad I am to pity you,
 My bounty shall flow over your demand,
 I will not only with a constant breath
 Approve<sup>3</sup> that, but excuse thee for my death 170

Sav Why, here's A woman made as a man would wish to have her!
[Aside

Phil O, I am plac'd higher in happiness Than whence I fell before!

Sav We're brave fellows once again, and we can keep our own
 Now hofte toffte, our pipes play as loftily! [Aside

Bev My sister fled!

<sup>1</sup> Suspicious

<sup>2</sup> 'Compare the Communion Service, shall receive the alms for the the poor, and other devotions of the people in a decent basin' —

<sup>3</sup> Prove, confirm

Sand Both fled, that's the news now want must obey,

Oppressions came so thick, they could not stay

Bev Mean are my fortunes, yet, had I been nigh, 180 Distress nor wrong should have made virtue fly

L. Twi Spoke like a brother, worthy such a sister !

Bev Grief's like a new wound, heat beguiles the sense,
For I shall feel this smart more three days hence Come, madam, sorrow's rude, and forgets manners

[Exeunt all except SAVOURWIT

Sav Our knavery is for all the world like a shifting bankrupt, it breaks in one place, and sets up in another he tries all trades, from a goldsmith to a tobacco seller, we try all shifts, from an outlaw to a flatterer he cozens the husband, and compounds with the widow, we cozen my master, and compound with my mistress only here I turn o' the right hand from him,—he is known to live like a rascal, when I am thought to live like a gentle man

[Exit 194

SCENE III

A Room in LADY GOLDENFLEECE'S House

Enter MISTRESS LOW-WATER and LOW WATER, both disguised as before

Mis Low I've sent in one to the widow

Low Well said, Kate !

Thou ply'st thy business close, the coast is clear yet.

Mis Low Let me but have warning,
I shall make pretty shift with them.

Low That thou shalt, wench [Exit

Enter Servant

Ser My lady, sir, commends her kindly to you,
And for the third part of an hour, sir,
Desires your patience,
Two or three of her tenants out of Kent
Will hold her so long busied

Mis Low Thank you, sir,
'Tis fit I should attend her time and leisure 10
[Exit Servant

Those were my tenants once, but what relief
Is there in what hath been, or what I was?
'Tis now that makes the man a last year's feast Yields little comfort for the present humour,
He starves that feeds his hopes with what is past —

Re enter LOW WATER

How now?

Low They're come, newly alighted

Mis Low Peace, peace!

I'll have a trick for 'em, look you second me well now

Low I warrant thee

Mis Low I must seem very impenious, I can tell you, therefore, if I should chance to use you roughly, pray, forgive me beforehand 21

Low With all my heart, Kate

Mis Low You must look for no obedience in these<sup>1</sup> clothes, that lies in the pocket of my gown

Low Well, well, I will not, then

Mis Low I hear 'em coming, step back a little, sir [LOW-WATER retires]—Where be those fellows?

Enter WEATHERWISE, PEPPERTON, and OVERDONE

Who looks out there? is there ne'er a knave i' th' house to take those gentlemen's horses? where wait you to day? how stand you, like a dreaming goose in a corner?
the gentlemen's horses, forsooth!

Low Yes, an't like<sup>2</sup> your worship [Exit 31

Pep What's here? a strange alteration!

Wea A new lord! would I were upon my maie's back again then!

Mis Low Pray, gentlemen, pardon the rudeness of these grooms,

I hope they will be brought to better fashion!

In the meantime, you're welcome, gentlemen

All We thank you, sir

Wea Life, here's quick work! I'll hold my life, has struck the widow i' the right planet, Venus in cauda!
I thought 'twas a lecherous planet that goes to't with a caudle

43

Re enter LOW-WATER

Mis Low How now, sir?

Low The gentlemen's horses are set up, sir

<sup>1</sup> Old ed "those"

<sup>2</sup> Please

Pep No, no, no, we'll away

Wea We'll away

Mis Low How ' by my faith, but you shall not yet, by your leave —Where's Bess ?—Call your mistress, sir, to welcome these kind gentlemen, my friends 50

[Exit LOW WATER

Pep How ' Bess ?

Over Peg ?

Wea Plain Bess ? I know how the world goes then , he has been a-bed with Bess 'faith, there's no trust to these widows , a young horsing gentleman carries 'em away clear

Re enter LOW WATER

Mis Low Now, where's your mistress, sir ? how chance she comes not ?

Low Sir, she requests you to excuse her for a while , sne's busy with a milliner about gloves

Mis Low Gloves ! 60

Wea Hoyday ! gloves too !

Mis Low Could she find no other time to choose gloves but now, when my fiends are here ?

Pep No, su, 'tis no matter , we thank you for your good will, sir to say truth, we have no business with her at all at this time, 'faith, sir

Mis Low O, that's another matter, yet stay, stay, gentlemen, and taste a cup of wine ere you go

Over No, thank you, sir

Mis Low Master Pepperton—master Weatherwise, will you, sir ? 71

Wea I'll see the wine in a drunkard's shoes first, and drink't after he has brewed it But let her go, she's fitted, i'faith, a proud, surly sir here, he domineers already, one that will shake her bones, and go to dice with her money, or I have no skill in a calendar life, he that can be so saucy to call her Bess already, will call her prating quean a month hence

[Exeunt WEATHERWISE, PEPPER-TON, and OVERDONE]

Low They've given thee all the slip

Mis Low So, a fair riddance<sup>1</sup>

There's three rubs gone, I've a clear way to the mistress<sup>1</sup> 80

Low You'd need have a clear way, because you're a bad pricker

Mis Low Yet if my bowl take bank, I shall go nigh
To make myself a saver,
Here's alley room enough, I'll try my fortune
I'm to begin the world like a younger brother,
I know that a bold face and a good spirit
Is all the jointure he can make [a] widow,
And 't shall go hard but I'll be as rich as he,
Or at least seem so, and that's wealth enough
For nothing kills a widow's heart so much 90
As a faint, bashful wooer, though he have thousands,
And come with a poor water gruel spirit

---

<sup>1</sup> The mistress in the game of bowls was the small ball (the jack) at which the players aimed Cf Tro and Cress iii 2 —

"So, so, rub on and kiss the mistress"

And a fish market face, he shall ne'er speed,
I would not have himself left a poor widower

Low Faith, I'm glad I'm alive to commend thee, Kate, I shall be sure now to see my commendations delivered

Mis Low I'll put her to't, i'faith

Low But soft ye, Kate,

How and she should accept of your bold kindness?

Mis Low A chief point to be thought on, by my faith! 100

Marry, therefore, sir, be you sure to step in,
For fear I should shame myself and spoil all

Low Well, I'll save your credit then for once, but look you come there no more

Mis Low Away! I hear her coming

Low I am vanish'd [Exit

Enter LADY GOLDENFLEECE

Mis Low How does my life, my soul, my dear sweet
madam?

L Gold I've wrong'd your patience, made you stand too long here

Mis Low There's no such thing, i'faith, madam, you're pleas'd to say so

L Gold Yes, I confess I was too slow, sir 110

Mis Low Why, you shall make me amends for that, then, with a quickness in your bed

L Gold That were a speedy mends, sir

Mis Low Why, then, you are out of my debt, I'll cross the book, and turn over a new leaf with you

L Gold So, with paying a small debt, I may chance run into a greater

Mis Low My faith, your credit will be the better then, there's many a brave gallant would be glad of such fortune, and pay use for't 120

L Gold Some of them have nothing else to do, they would be idle and 'twere not for interest

Mis Low I promise you, widow, were I a setter up, such is my opinion of your payment, I durst trust you with all the ware in my shop

L Gold I thank you for your good will, I can have no more

Mis Low Not of me, i'faith, nor that neither, and you knew<sup>1</sup> all [Aside] —Come, make but short ser vice, widow, a kiss and to bed, I'm very hungry, i'faith, wench 131

L Gold What, are you, sir?

Mis Low O, a younger brother has an excellent stomach, madam, worth a hundred of your sons and heirs, that stay their wedding stomachs with a hot bit of a common mistress, and then come to a widow's bed like a flash of lightning you're sure of the first of me, not of the five hundredth of them I never took physic yet in my life, you shall have the doctor continually with them, or some bottle for his deputy, out flies your moneys for restoratives and strengthenings, in me 'tis saved in your purse and found in your children they'll get peevish pothecaries' stuff, you may weigh 'em by th'

ounces, I, boys of war, brave commanders, that shall bear a breadth in their shoulders and a weight in their hips, and run over a whole country with a pound a' beef and a biscuit in their belly Ho, widow, my kisses are virgins, my embraces perfect, my strength solid, my love constant, my heat comfortable, but, to come to the point, inutterable—— 150

L Gold But soft ye, soft ye, because you stand so strictly

Upon your purity, I'll put you to't, sir,
Will you swear here you never yet knew woman?

Mis Low Never, as man e'er knew her, by this light, widow!

L Gold What, what, sir?—'Shrew my heart, he moves me much [Aside

Mis Low Nay, since you love to bring a man on's knees,

I take into the same oath thus much more,
That you are the first widow, or maid, or wife,
That ever I in suit of love did court,
Or honestly did woo how say you to that, widow? 160

L Gold Marry, I say, sir, you had a good portion of chastity left you, though ill fortune run away with the rest

Mis Low That I kept for thee, widow, she's of fortune, and all her strait bodied daughters, thou shalt have't, widow [Kissing her

L Gold Push, what do you mean?

Mis Low I cannot bestow't better

L Gold I'll call my servants

Mis Low By my troth, you shall not, madam

Re enter LOW-WATER*Low* Does your worship call, sir?Mis Low Ha, pox<sup>1</sup> are you peeping?—[Throws<sup>1</sup> something at LOW WATER, who goes out

He came in a good time, I thank him for't [Aside

L Gold What do you think of me? you're very for ward, sir!170*Mis Low* Extremity of love*L Gold* You say you're ignorant, It should not seem so surely by your play,
For aught I see, you may make one yourself,
You need not hold the cards to any gamester<sup>2</sup>Mis Low That love should teach men ways to wrong itself!L Gold Are these the first fruits of your boldness, sir?If all take after these, you may boast on 'em,
There comes few such to market among women,
Time you were taken down, sir—Within there!Mis Low I've lost my way again180There's but two paths that leads to widows' beds, That's wealth or forwardness, and I've took the wrong
one [Aside*Re enter* WEATHERWISE, PEPPER-TON, and OVERDONE, with Servant*Ser* He marry my lady! why, there's no such thought yet[Exit<sup>1</sup> Old ed "Throws somewhat at him,<sup>2</sup> Wencher

Mis Low O, here they are all again too! [Aside]

L Gold Are you come, gentlemen?

I wish no better men

Wea O, the moon's chang'd now!

L Gold See you that gentleman yonder?

Pep Yes, sweet madam

L Gold Then, pray, be witness all of you, with this kiss [Kisses MISTRESS LOW-WATER]

I choose him for my husband—

Wea

Pep

} A pox on't!

L Gold And with this purted gold, that two hearts join 189

[Breaks<sup>1</sup> gold into two pieces, and gives one to

MISTRESS LOW WATER

Mis Low Never with chaster love than this of mine!

L Gold And those that have the hearts to come to the wedding,

They shall be welcome for their former loves [Exit]

Pep No, I thank you, you've choked me already

Wea I never suspected mine almanac till now, I believe he plays cogging<sup>2</sup> John with me, I bought it at his shop, it may learn the more knavery by that

Mis Low Now indeed, gentlemen, I can bid you welcome,

Before 'twas but a flourish

<sup>1</sup> As a token of constancy Cf. The Widow, ii. 1 — "You broke on gold between you?" See the chapter on Nuptial Usages in Brand's
Popular Antiquities

<sup>2</sup> Cheating, cozening

Wea Nay, so my almanac told me there should be an eclipse, but not visible in our horizon, but about the western inhabitants of Mexicana and California 201

Mrs Low Well, we have no business there, sir

Wea Nor we have none here, sir, and so fare you well

Mrs Low You save the house a good labour, gentlemen [Exeunt WEATHERWISE, PEPPER-TON, and OVER DONE].—The fool carries them away in a voider<sup>1</sup> Where be these fellows?

Re-enter Servant, PICKADILL, and LOW-WATER

Ser Sir?

Pick Here, sir! 210

Ser What['s] your worship['s] pleasure?

Mrs Low O, this is something like —Take you your ease, sir,

Here are those now more fit to be commanded

Low How few women are of thy mind! she thinks it too much to keep me in subjection for one day, whereas some wives would be glad to keep their husbands in awe all days of their lives, and think it the best bargain that e'er they made [Aside, and exit]

Mrs Low I'll spare no cost for the wedding, some device too,

To show our thankfulness to wit and fortune, 220
It shall be so —Run straight for one o' the wits

<sup>1</sup> The basket or tray into which the fragments were swept at the close of a meal

Pick How? one o' the wits? I care not if I run on that account are they in town, think you?

Mis Low Whither runnest thou now?

Pick To an ordinary for one of the wits

Mis Low Why to an ordinary above a tavern?

Pick No, I hold your best wits to be at ordinary, nothing so good in a tavern

Mis Low And why, I pray, sir? 229

Pick Because those that go to an ordinary dine better for twelve pence than he that goes to a tavern for his five shillings, and I think those have the best wits that can save four shillings, and fare better too

Mis Low So, sir, all your wit then runs upon victuals?

Pick 'Tis a sign 'twill hold out the longer then

Mis Low What were you saying to me?

Ser Please your worship,

I heard there came a scholar over lately 239
With old Sir Oliver's lady

Mis Low Is she come?— [Aside

What is that lady?

Ser A good gentlewoman,
Has been long prisoner with the enemy

Mis Low I know't too well, and joy in her release — [Aside

Go to that house then straight, and in one labour
You may bid them, and entreat home that scholar

Ser It shall be done with speed, sir [Exit

Pick I'll along with you, and see what face that scholar has brought over, a thin pair of parbreaking<sup>1</sup> sea water green chops, I warrant you [Exit

Mis Low Since wit has pleasur'd me, I'll pleasure
 wit, 250

Scholars shall fare the better O my blessing !
 I feel a hand of mercy lift me up
 Out of a world of waters, and now sets me Upon a mountain, where the sun plays most,
 To cheer my heart even as it dries my limbs
 What deeps I see beneath me, in whose falls
 Many a nimble mortal toils,
 And scarce can feed<sup>2</sup> himself ! the streams of fortune,
 'Gainst which he tugs in vain, still beat him down,
 And will not suffer him—past hand to mouth— 260
 To lift his arm to his posterity's blessing
 I see a careful sweat run in a ring
 About his temples, but all will not do,
 For, till some happy means relieve his state,
 There he must stick, and bide the wrath of fate
 I see this wrath upon an uphill land,
 O blest are they can see their falls and stand !

Re enter Servant, showing in BEVERIL

How now?

Ser With much entreating, sir, he's come [Exit

Mis Low Sir, you're—my brother<sup>1</sup> joys come thick together — [Aside

Sir, when I see a scholar—pardon me— 270

I am so taken with affection<sup>1</sup> for him,

That I must run into his arms and clasp him

[Embracing him

Bev Art stands in need, sir, of such chenshers,

I meet too few 'twere a brave world for scholars,

If half a kingdom were but of your mind, sir,

Let ignorance and hell confound the rest

Mis Low Let it suffice,<sup>2</sup> sweet sir, you cannot think

How dearly you're welcome

Bev May I live

To show you service for't<sup>1</sup>

Mis Low Your love, your love, sir,

We go no higher, nor shall you go lower 280

Sir, I am bold to send for you, to request

A kindness from your wit, for some device

To grace our wedding, it shall be worth your pains,

And something more t' express my love to art,

You shall not receive all in bare embracements

Bev Your love I thank, but, pray, sir, pardon me,

I've a heart says I must not grant you that

Mis Low No<sup>1</sup> what's your reason, sir?

Bev I'm not at peace

With the lady of this house, now you'll excuse me,

Sh'as wrong'd my sister, and I may not do't 290

you not,
Make clear the weather, let not griefs betray you ,
I'll tell her you're a worthy friend of mine,
And so I tell her true, thou art indeed Sir, here she comes

Re enter LADY GOLDENFLEECE

L Gold What, are you busy, sir?

Mrs Low Nothing less, lady , here's a gentleman 300
Of noble parts, beside his friendship to me ,
Pray, give him liberal welcome

L Gold He's most welcome

Mrs Low The virtues of his mind will deserve largely

L Gold Methinks his outward parts deserve as much
then ,

A proper<sup>1</sup> gentleman it is [Aside

Mrs Low Come, worthy sir

Bew I follow

Before LADY GOLDENFLEECE'S House

Enter WEATHERWISE, PEPPERTON, OVERDONE, and SIR GILBERT LAMBSTONE

Wea Faith, sir Gilbert, forget and forgive, there's all our hands to a new bargain of friendship

Pep Ay, and all our hearts to boot, sir Gilbert

Wea Why, la, you, there's but four suitors left on's in all the world, and the fifth has the widow, if we should not be kind to one another, and so few on's r'faith, I would we were all raked up in some hole or other !

Sir G Lamb Pardon me, gentlemen, I cannot but remember

Your late disgraceful words before the widow,
In time of my oppression

Wea Pooh, Saturn reigned then, a melancholy, grumbling planet, he was in the third house of privy enemies, and would have bewrayed all our plots, beside, there was a fiery conjunction in the Dragon's tail,<sup>1</sup> that spoiled all that e'er we went about

---

<sup>1</sup> Old ed " tails

Sir G Lamb Dragon or devil, somewhat 'twas, I'm sure

Wea Why, I tell you, sir Gilbert, we were all out of our wits in't, I was so mad at that time myself, I could have wished an hind quarter of my Bull out of your belly again, whereas now I care not if you had eat trul and all, I am no niggard in the way of friendship, I was ever yet at full moon in good fellowship, and so you shall find, if you look into the almanac of my true nature

24

Sir G Lamb Well, alls forgiven for once, hands apace, gentlemen

Wea Ye shall have two of mine to do you a kindness, yet, when they re botn abroad, who shall look to th' house here ?

[Giving his hands to SIR G LAMBSTONE

Pep } Not only a new friendship, but a friend
Over }

[Giving their hands to SIR G LAMBSTONE

Sir G Lamb But upon this condition, gentlemen, 30
You shall hear now a thing worth your revenge

Wea And you doubt that,
You shall have mine beforehand, I've one ready,
I never go without a black oath about me

Sir G Lamb I know the least touch of a spur in this Will now put your desires to a false gallop,
By all means slanderous in every place,
And in all companies, to disgrace the widow,
No matter in what rank, so it be spiteful
And worthy your revenges so now I,

40

It shall be all my study, care, and pains,
 And we can lose no labour, all her foes
 Will make such use on't, that they'll snatch it from us Faster than we can forge it, though we keep Four tongues at work upon't, and never cease
 Then for th' indifferent world, faith, they are apter
 To bid a slander<sup>1</sup> welcome than a truth
 We have the odds of our side this in time
 May grow so general, as disgrace will spread,
 That wild dissension may divide the bed 50

Wea } Excellent!
Pep }

Over A pure revenge! I see no dregs in't Sir G Lamb Let each man look to his part now, and not feed
 Upon one dish all four on's, like plain maltmen,
 For at this feast we must have several kickshaws
 And delicate made dishes, that the world
 May see it is a banquet finely furnish'd

Wea Why, then, let me alone for one of your kick shaws,
 I've thought on that already

Sir G Lamb Prithce, how, sir?

Wea Marry, sir, I'll give it out abroad that I have

<sup>1</sup> Dyce's correction for old ed's slave. In his Addenda he compares The Travels of the Three English Brothers (by Day, Dr Rowley and Wilkins), 1607 sig C 4,—

“Revenge and Death

Like slander attend the slaves of Calymath” where slander is evidently a misprint for slaves. I have, of course, corrected the misprint in my edition of Day

lain with the widow myself, as 'tis the fashion of many a gallant to disgrace his new mistress when he cannot have his will of her, and lie with her name in every tavern, though he ne'er came within a yard of her person, so I, being a gentleman, may say as much in that kind as a gallant, I am as free by my father's copy 65

Sir G Lamb This will do excellent, sir

Wea And, moreover, I'll give the world thus much to understand beside, that if I had not lain with the widow in the wane of the moon, at one of my Seven Stars' houses, when Venus was about business of her own, and could give no attendance, she had been brought a bed with two roaring boys by this time, and the Gemini being infants, I'd have made away with them like a step mother, and put mine own boys in their places 75

Sir G Lamb Why, this is beyond talk, you outrun your master

Enter PICKADILL

Pick Whoop ' draw home next time, here are all the old shooters that have lost the game at pricks! What a fair mark had sir Gilbert on't, if he had shot home before the last arrow came in! methinks these show to me now, for all the world, like so many lousy beggars turned out of my lady's barn, and have ne'er a hole to put their heads in [Aside

Wea Mass, here's her ladyship's ass, he tells us any thing 84

Sir G Lamb Ho, Pickadill!

Pick What, sir Gilbert Lambstone !

Gentlemen, outlaws all, how do you do ?

Sir G Lamb How ! what dost call us ? how goes the world at home, lad ?

What strange news ?

Pick This is the state of prodigals as right as can be, when they have spent all their means on brave feasts, they're glad to scrape to a serving man for a meal's meat So you that whilom, like four prodigal rivals, 92
Could goose or capon, crane or woodcock choose,
Now're glad to make up a poor meal with news,
A lamentable hearing !

Wea He's in passion <sup>1</sup>

Up to the eyebrows for us

Pick O master Weatherwise, I blame none but you !
You're a gentleman deeply read in Pond's<sup>2</sup> Almanac, Methinks you should not be such a shallow fellow,
You knew this day, the twelfth of June, would come, 100
When the sun enters into the Crab's room,
And all your hopes would go aside, aside <sup>3</sup>

Wea The fool says true, i'faith, gentlemen, I knew
'twould come all to this pass, I'll show't you presently

[Takes out almanac]

Pick If you had spar'd but four of your Twelve Signs
now,

<sup>1</sup> Sorrow

<sup>2</sup> In the British Museum there is a series of Pond's Almanacs ranging from 1607 to 1638 Hazlitt (Bibl Coll 2d ser) mentions A New Almanacke and Prognostication by Pond for 1601

<sup>3</sup> Cf Congreve's Love for Love II 1,— 'It is impossible that anything should be as I would have it, for I was born sir, when the Crab was ascending, and all my affairs go backward

You might have gone to a tavern and made merry with 'em

Wea Has the best moral meaning of an ass that e'er
I heard speak with tongue — Look, you here, gentlemen [Reads almanac] Fifth day, neither fish nor flesh

Pick No, nor good red herring, and you look again 110

Wea [reads] Sixth day proudly presented

Pick Marry, fough!

Wea [reads] Seventh day, shunk in the netting

Pick Nay, so will the best ware bought for love or money

Wea [reads] The eighth day, over head and ears

Pick By my faith, he come[s] home in a sweet pickle
then!

Wea [reads] The ninth day, scarce sound at heart

Pick What a pox ailed it?

Wea [reads] The tenth day, a court er's welcome

Pick That's a cup of beer, and you can get it 120

Wea [reads] The eleventh day, stones against the wind

Pick Pox of an ass! he might have thrown 'em better

Wea Now the twelfth day, gentlemen, that was our day, [Reads

Past all redemption

Pick Then the devil go with't!

Wea Now you see plainly, gentlemen, how we're us'd,

The calendar will not lie for no man's pleasure

Sir G. Lamb Push, you're too confident in almanac posies

Pep Faith, so said we

Sir G Lamb They're mere delusions

Wea How<sup>1</sup>

You see how knavishly they happen, sir

Sir G Lamb Ay, that's because they're foolishly believ'd,<sup>1</sup> sir 130

Wea Well, take your courses, gentlemen, without 'em, and see what will come on't you may wander like masterless men, there's ne'er a planet will care a halfpenny for you, if they look after you, I'll be hanged, when you scorn to bestow twopence to look after them

Sir G Lamb How, a device at the wedding, sayest thou?

Pick Why, have none of you heard of that, yet?

Sir G Lamb 'Tis the first news, i'faith, lad 140

Pick O, there's a brave travelling scholar entertained into the house a' purpose, one that has been all the world over, and some part of Jerusalem, has his chamber, his diet, and three candles<sup>2</sup> allowed him after supper

Wea By my faith, he need not complain for victuals then, whate'er he be

Pick He lies in one of the best chambers i' th' house, bravely matted, and to warm his wits as much, a cup of sack and an aqua vite<sup>3</sup> bottle stands just at his elbow 151

---

<sup>1</sup> Old ed bely d "

<sup>2</sup> ' Qy caudles?' —Dyce

<sup>3</sup> Spirits of any kind —not necessarily brandy

Wea He's shrewdly hurt, by my faith, if he catch an ague or that fashion, I'll be hanged

Pick He'll come abroad anon

Sir G Lamb Art sure on't?

Pick Why, he ne'er stays a quarter of an hour in the house together

Sir G Lamb No? how can he study then?

Pick Faugh, best of all, he talks as he goes, and writes as he runs, besides, you know 'tis death to a traveller to stand long in one place

161

Sir G Lamb It may hit right, boys!—Honest Pickadill,

Thou wast wont to love me

Pick I'd good cause, sir, then

Sir G Lamb Thou shalt have the same still, take that

[Giving money

Pick Will you believe me now? I ne'er loved you better in my life than I do at this present

Sir G Lamb Tell me now truly, who are the presenters?

What parsons<sup>1</sup> are employed in the device?

Pick Parsons? not any, sir, my mistress will not be at the charge, she keeps none but an old Welsh vicar

Sir G Lamb Prithee, I mean, who be the speakers?

Pick Troth, I know none but those that open their mouths Here he comes now himself, you may ask him

175

---

<sup>1</sup> Old form of persons

Enter BEVERIL

Wca Is this he? by my faith, one may pick a gentleman out of his calves and a scholar out on's cheeks, one may see by his looks what's in him I warrant you there has ne'er a new almanac come out these dozen years, but he has studied it over and over [Aside

Sir G Lamb Do not reveal us now 181

Pick Because you shall be sure on't, you have given me a ninepence here, and I'll give you the slip<sup>1</sup> for't

Sir G Lamb Well said [Exit PICKADILL ]—Now the fool's pleased, we may be bold

Bev Love is as great an enemy to wit
As ignorance to art, I find my powers
So much employ'd in business of my heart,
That all the time's too little to despatch Affairs within me Fortune, too remiss, 190
I suffer for thy slowness had I come Before a vow had chain'd their souls together,
There might have been some hope, though ne'er so little,

Now there's no spark at all, nor e'er can be,
But dreadful ones struck from adultery,
And if my lust were smother'd with her will,
O, who could wrong a gentleman so kind,
A stranger made up with a brother's mind ' [Aside

Sir G Lamb Peace, peace, enough, let me alone to manage it —

---

<sup>1</sup> Counterfeit money

A quick invention, and a happy one, 200
Reward your study, sir !

Bev Gentlemen, I thank you

Sir G Lamb We understand your wits are in employment, sir,

In honour of this wedding

Bev Sir, the gentleman

To whom that worthy lady is betroth'd

Vouchsafes t' accept the power of my good will in't

Sir G Lamb I pray, resolve us then, sir—for we're friends

That love and honour her—

Whether your number be yet full, or no,

Of those which you make choice of for presenters ?

Bev First, 'tis so brief, because the time is so, 210

We shall not trouble many, and for those

We shall employ, the house will yield in servants

Sir G Lamb Nay, then, under your leave and favour,
sir,

Since all your pains will be so weakly grac'd,

And, wanting due performance, lose their lustre,

Here are four of us gentlemen, her friends,

Both lovers of her honour and your art,

That would be glad so to express ourselves,

And think our service well and worthily plac'd

Bev My thanks do me no grace for this large kindness ,

You make my labours proud of such presenters 221

Sir G Lamb She shall not think, sir, she's so ill belov'd,

But friends can quickly make that number perfect

Bev She's bound t' acknowledge it

Sir G Lamb Only thus much, sir,
Which will amaze her most, I'd have't so carried,
As you can do't, that neither she nor none
Should know what friends we were till all were done

Wea Ay, that would make the sport !

Bev I like it well, sir

My hand and faith amongst you, gentlemen,
It shall be so dispos'd of

Sir G Lamb We're the men then 230

Bev Then look you, gentlemen, the device is single,
Naked, and plain, because the time's so short,
And gives no freedom to a wealthier sport,
'Tis only, gentlemen, the four elements
In liveliest forms, Earth, Water, Air, and Fire

Wea Mass, and here's four of us too

Bev It fits well, sir

This the effect,—that whereas all those four Maintain a natural opposition
And untruc'd<sup>1</sup> war the one against the other,
To shame their ancient envies, they should see 240
How well in two breasts all these do agree

Wea That's in the bride and bridegroom, I am quick, sir

Sir G Lamb In faith, it's pretty, sir, I approve it well

Bev But see how soon my happiness and your kindness Is crost together !

<sup>1</sup> Gr ἄσπονδος

Sir G Lamb Crost? I hope not so, sir

Bev I can employ but two of you

Pep How comes that, sir?

Bev Air and the Fire should be by me[n] presented,
But the two other in the forms of women

Wea Nav, then, we're gone again, I think these women

Were made to vex and trouble us in all shapes [Aside

Sir G Lamb Faith, sir, you stand too nicely<sup>1</sup>

Wea So think I, sir 251

Bev Yet, when we tax ourselves, it may the better Set off our errors, when the fine eyes judge 'em,
But Water certainly should be a woman

Wea By my faith, then, he is gelded since I saw him last, he was thought to be a man once, when he got his wife with child before he was marned

Bev Fie, you are fishing in another stream, sir

Wea But now I come to yours, and you go to that, sir, I see no reason then but Fire and Water should change shapes and genders 261

Bev How prove you that, sir?

Wea Why, there's no reason but Water should be a man, because Fire is commonly known to be a quean

Bev So, sir, you argue well

Wea Nay, more, sir, water will break in at a little crevice, so will a man, if he be not kept out, water will undermine, so will an informer, water will ebb and flow, so will a gentleman, water will search any place,

---

<sup>1</sup> Scrupulously

and so will a constable, as lately he did at my Seven Stars for a young wench that was stole, water will quench fire, and so will Wat the barber ergo, let Water wear a codpiece-point 273

Bev Faith, gentlemen, I like your company well

Wea Let's see who'll dispute with me at the full o' the moon <sup>1</sup>

Bev No, sir, and you be vainglorious of your talent, I'll put you to't once more

Wea I'm for you, sir, as long as the moon keeps in this quarter

Bev Well, how answer you this then <sup>2</sup> earth and water are both bearers, therefore they should be women

Wea Why, so are porters and pedlars, and yet they are known to be men 283

Bev I'll give you over in time, sir, I shall repent the bestowing on't else

Wea If <sup>1</sup> I, that have proceeded <sup>2</sup> in five and twenty such books of astronomy, should not be able to put down a scholar now in one thousand six hundred thirty and eight, the dominical letter being G, I stood for a goose 290

Sir G Lamb Then this will satisfy you, though that be a woman,

Oceanus the sea, that's chief of waters,
He wears the form of a man, and so may you

Bev Now I hear reason, and I may consent

<sup>1</sup> This passage was probably added by Shirley See Introduction

<sup>2</sup> i.e. taken a degree <sup>3</sup>

Sir G Lamb And so, though earth challenge a feminine face,

The matter of which earth consists, that's dust,
The general soul of earth is of both kinds

Bev Fit yourselves, gentlemen, I've enough for me, Earth, Water, Air, and Fire, part 'em amongst you

Wea Let me play Air,<sup>1</sup> I was my father's eldest son 300

Bev Ay, but this Air never possess'd the lands

Wea I'm but disposed to jest with you, sir, 'tis the same my almanac speaks on, is't not?

Bev That 'tis, sir

Wea Then leave it to my discretion, to fit both the part and the person

Bev You shall have your desire, sir

Sir G Lamb We'll agree

Without your trouble now, sir, we're not factious,

Or envy one another for best parts,

Like quarrelling actors that have passionate fits, 310

We submit always to the writer's wits

Bev He that commends you may do't liberally,
For you deserve as much as praise can show

Sir G Lamb We'll send to you privately

Bev I'll despatch you

Sir G Lamb We'll poison your device

[Aside, and exit

Pep She must have pleasures, Shows, and conceits, and we disgraceful doom

[Aside, and exit

---

<sup>1</sup> Old ed    fa r

Wea We'll make your Elements come limping home
[Aside, and exit]

Bew How happy am I in this unlook'd for grace, This voluntary kindness, from these gentlemen !

Enter behind MISTRESS LOW-WATER and LOW WATER, both disguised as before

'Twill set off all my labours far more pleasing 320
Before the widow, whom my heart calls mistress,
But my tongue dares not second it

Low How say you now, Kate ?

Mis Low I like this music well, sir

Bew O unfortunate !

Yet though a tree be guarded from my touch,
There's none can hinder me to love the fruit

Mis Low Nay, now we know your mind, brother, we'll provide for you

[Exeunt MISTRESS LOW-WATER and LOW WATER

Bew O were it but as free as late times knew it,
I would deserve, if all life's wealth could do it ! [Exit]

ACT IV

SCENE I

A Room in Sir OLIVER TWILIGHT'S House

Enter Sir OLIVER TWILIGHT, LADY TWILIGHT, SUNSET, SANDFIELD, Dutch Merchant, PHILIP TWILIGHT, Servants, and SAVOURWIT aloof off<sup>1</sup>

Sir O Twi O my reviving joy ! thy quickening presence

Makes the sad night of threescore and ten years Sit like a youthful spring upon my blood
I cannot make thy welcome rich enough
With all the wealth of words !

L Twi It is exprest, sir,
With more than can be equall'd, the ill store
Lies only on my side, my thanks are poor

Sir O Twi Blest be the goodness of his mind for ever
That did redeem thy life, may it return
Upon his fortunes double ! that worthy gentleman, 10

<sup>1</sup> See note 2, p 113

Kind master Beveril<sup>1</sup> shower upon him, heaven,
Some unexpected happiness to requite him
For that my joy<sup>1</sup> unlook'd for<sup>1</sup> O, more kind,
And juster far, is a mere stranger's goodness
Than the sophistic faith of natural sons<sup>1</sup>
Here's one could juggle with me, take up the ransom,
He and his loose companion——

Sav Say you me so, sir?

I'll eat hard eggs for that trick [Aside]

Sir O Twi Spend the money,

And bring me home false news and empty pockets<sup>1</sup>
In that young gallant's tongue there, you were dead 20
Ten weeks before this day, had not this merchant Brought first the truth in words, yourself in substance

L Twi Pray, let me stay you here, ere you proceed,
sir,

Did he report me dead, say you?

Sir O Twi Else you live not

L Twi See now, sir, you may lay your blame too rashly,

When nobody look'd after it? let me tell you, sir<sup>1</sup>

A father's anger should take great advice,

Ere it condemn flesh of so dear a price

He's no way guilty yet, for that report

The general tongue of all the country spread, 30

For being remov'd far off, I was thought dead

Phil Can my faith now be taken into favour, sir?
Is't worthy to be trusted?

<sup>1</sup> Old ed "joys"

Sav No, by my troth, is't not,
'Twould make shift to spend another ransom yet [Aside
Sir O Twi Well, sir, I must confess you've here dealt well with me,
And what is good in you I love again
Sav Now am I half-ways in, just to the girdle, But the worst part's behind [Aside
Sir O Twi Marry, I fear me, sir,
This weather is too glorious to hold long
L Twi I see no cloud to interpose it, sir, 40
If you place confidence in what I've told you Sir O Twi Nay, 'tis clear sky on that side, would
'twere so
All over his obedience ! I see that,
And so does this good gentleman——
L Twi Do you, sir?
Sir O Twi That makes his honesty doubtful
L Twi I pray, speak, sir,
The truth of your last kindness makes me bold with
you
D Mer The knight, your husband, madam, can best
speak,
He truest can show griefs whose heart they break
L Twi I'm sorry yet for more, pray, let me know't,
sir,
That I may help to chide him, though 'twould grieve
me 50
Sir O Twi Why then prepare for't, you came over
now
In the best time to do't you could pick out

Not only spent my money, but, to blind me,
He and his wicked instrument——

Sav Now he fiddles me ! [Aside]

Sir O Twi Brings home a minion here, by great chance known,

Told me she was his sister, she proves none

L Twi This was unkindly done, sir, now I'm sorry
My good opinion lost itself upon you,
You are not the same son I left behind me,
More grace took him —O, let me end in time, 60
For fear I should forget myself, and chide him !—
Where is [s]he, sir ? though he begul'd your eyes,
He cannot deceive mine, we're now too hard for him,
For since our first unfortunate separation
I've often seen the girl—would that were true !—

[Aside]

By many a happy accident, many a one,
But never durst acknowledge her for mine own,
And therein stood my joys distress'd again

Sir O Twi You rehearse miseries, wife —Call the maid down [Exit Servant]

Sav Sh'as been too often down to be now call'd so, She'll lie down shortly, and call somebody up [Aside]

L Twi He's now to deal with one, sir, that knows truth, 72

He must be sham'd or quit, there's no mean saves him

Sir O Twi I hear her come

L Twi [aside to PHIL] You see how hard 'tis now
To redeem good opinion, being once gone,
Be careful then, and keep it when 'tis won

Now see me take a poison with great joy,
Which, but for thy sake, I should swoon to touch

Enter GRACE

Grace What new affliction? am I set to sale,
For any one that bids most sname for me? [Aside
Sir O Twi Look you! do you see what stuff they've brought me home here?<sup>81</sup> L Twi O bless her, eternal powers! my life, my comforts,
My nine years' grief, but everlasting joy now! Thrice welcome to my heart! [embracing GRACE] 'tis she indeed
Sir O Twi What, is it?
Phil I'm unfit to carry a ransom!
Sav [aside to GRACE, who kneels] Down on your knees, to save your belly harmless,
Ask blessing, though you never mean to use it,
But give t away presently to a beggar wench
Phil My faith is blemish'd, I'm no man of trust, sir!
L Twi [raising GRACE] Rise with a mother's bless ing!
Sav All this while<sup>90</sup>
Sh'as rise with a son's [Aside
Sir O Twi But soft ye, soft ye, wife!
I pray, take heed you place your blessing right now,
This honest Dutchman here told me he saw her
At Antwerp in an inn
L Twi True, she was so, sir
D Mer Sir, 'tis my quality, what I speak once,

I affirm ever, in that inn I saw her,
 That lets<sup>1</sup> her not to be your daughter now
Sir O Twi O, sir, is't come to that!
Sun Here's joys ne'er dreamt on!
Sir O Twi O master Sunset, I am at the rising
 Of my refulgent happiness!—Now, son Sandfield, 100 Once more and ever!
Sand I am proud on't, sir
Sir O Twi Pardon me, boy, I've wronged thy faith too much
Sav Now may I leave my shell, and peep my head forth [Aside, and advancing Sir O Twi Where is this Saviourwit, that honest whorson,
 That I may take my curse from his knave's shoulders?
Sav O, sir, I feel you at my very blade here!
 Your curse is ten stone weight, and a pound over
Sir O Twi Come, thou'rt a witty varlet and a trusty Sav You shall still find me a poor, faithful fellow,
 sir
 If you've another ransom to send over, 110
 Or daughter to find out
Sir O Twi I'll do thee right, boy,
 I ne'er yet knew thee but speak honest English, Marry, in Dutch I found thee a knave lately
Sav That was to hold you but in play a little,
 Till farther truths came over, and I strong,
 You shall ne'er find me a knave in mine own tongue,

---

<sup>1</sup> Hinders

I've more grace in me , I go out of England still When I take such courses , that shows modesty, sir

Sir O Twi Anything full of wit and void of harm,
I give thee pardon for , so was that now 120

Sav Faith, now I'm quit,<sup>1</sup> I find myself the nimbler To serve you so again, and my will's good ,
Like one that lately shook off his old irons,
And cuts a purse at bench to deserve new ones

Sir O Twi Since it holds all the way so fortunate still,

And strikes so even with my first belief,
This is the gentleman, wife, young master Sandfield
here,

A man of worthy parts, besides his lands,
Whom I make choice of for my daughter's bed

Sav But he'll make choice there of another bedfellow [Aside 130

L Twi I wish 'em both the happiness of love, sir

Sir O Twi 'Twas spoke like a good lady' And your memory

Can reach it, wife—but 'tis so long ago too—

Old master Sunset he had a young daughter

When you unluckily left England so,

And much about the age of our girl there,

For both were nurs'd together

L Twi 'Tis so fresh

In my remembrance, now you've waken'd it,

As if twelve years were but a twelve hours' dream

<sup>1</sup> Acquitted

Sir O Twi That girl is now a proper<sup>1</sup> gentlewoman, As fine a body, wife, as e'er was measur'd 141
With an indenture cut in farthing steaks

Sun O say not so, sir Oliver, you shall pardon me,
sir,

I'faith, sir, you're to blame

Sir O Twi Sings, dances, plays, Touches an instrument with a motherly grace

Sun 'Tis your own daughter that you mean that by

Sav There's open Dutch indeed, and he could take it [Aside

Sir O Twi This wench, under your leave——

Sun You have my love in't

Sir O Twi Is my son's wife that shall be

Sav Thus, I'd hold with't,

Is your son's wife that should be master Sandfield's 150
[Aside

L Twi I come in happy time to a feast of marriages

Sir O Twi And now you put's i' the mind, the hour draws on

At the new married widow's, there we're look'd for,
There will be entertainments, sports, and banquets,
There these young lovers shall clap hands together,
The seed of one feast shall bring forth another

Sun Well said, sir Oliver!

Sir O Twi You're a stranger, sir,
Your welcome will be best

D Mer Good sir, excuse me

---

<sup>1</sup> Handsome

Sir O Twi You shall along, i'faith, you must not refuse me

[Exeunt all except LADY TWILIGHT, GRACE, PHILIP
TWILIGHT, and SAVOURWIT

Phil O mother, these new joys, that sets my soul
up— 160

Which had no means, nor any hope of any—
Has brought me now so far in debt to you,
I know not which way to begin to thank you,
I am so lost in all, I cannot guess
Which of the two my service most constrains,
Your last kind goodness, or your first dear pains

L Twi Love is a mother's duty to a son,
As a son's duty is both love and fear

Sav I owe you a poor life, madam, that's all, Pray, call for't when you please, it shall be ready for
you 170

L Twi Make much on't, sir, till then

Sav If butter'd sack will [Aside

L Twi Methinks the more I look upon her, son,

The more thy sister's face runs in my mind

Phil Belike she's somewhat like her, it makes the better, madam

L Twi Was Antwerp, say you, the first place you found her in?

Phil Yes, madam why do you ask?

L Twi Whose daughter were you?

Grace I know not rightly whose, to speak truth,
madam

Sav The mother of her was a good twigger<sup>1</sup> the whilst [Aside]

L Twi No? with whom were you brought up then?

Grace With those, madam,

To whom, I've often heard, the enemy sold me 180

L Twi What's that?

Grace Too often have I heard this piteous story,
Of a distressed mother I had once,

Whose comfortable sight I lost at sea,

But then the years of childhood took from me

Both the remembrance of her and the sorrows

L Twi O, I begin to feel her in my blood!

My heart leaps to be at her [Aside]—What was that mother?

Grace Some said, an English lady, but I know not

L Twi What's thy name?

Grace Grace

L Twi May it be so in heaven, 190

For thou art mine on earth! welcome, dear child,

Unto thy father's house, thy mother's arms,

After thy foreign sorrows [Embracing GRACE]

Sav 'Twill prove gallant! [Aside]

L Twi What, son! such earnest work! I bring thee joy now

Will make the rest show nothing, 'tis so glorious <sup>1</sup> A cant term for a wanton person of either sex Elle s'çait assez de la vieille dance She knowes well enough what belongs to the game, she hath been a hackster, a twigger, a good one in her time —

Cotgrave

Phil Why, 'tis not possible, madam, that man's happiness

Should take a greater height than mine aspires

L Twi No? now you shall confess it this shall quit thee
From all fears present, or hereafter doubts,
About this business

Phil Give me that, sweet mother ! 200

L Twi Here, take her then, and set thine arms a-work,

There needs no 'fection,<sup>1</sup> 'tis indeed thy sister

Phil My sister !

Sav Cuds me, I feel the razor ! [Aside

L Twi Why, how now, son ? how comes a change so soon ?

Phil O, I beseech you, mother, wound me anywhere
But where you pointed last ! that's present death, Devise some other miserable torment,
Though ne'er so pitiless, and I'll run and meet it,
Some way more merciful let your goodness think on, 210
May steal away my joys, but save my soul
I'll willingly restore back every one,
Upon that mild condition, anything
But what you spake last will be comfortable

L Twi You're troubled with strange fits in England
here,
Your first suit to me did entreat me hardly
To say 'twas she, to have old<sup>2</sup> wrath appeas'd,

<sup>2</sup> Old is frequently used to emphasise the following word See Dyce's
Shakespeare Glossary

And now 'tis known your sister, you're not pleased How should I show myself?

Phil Say 'tis not she

L Twi Shall I deny my daughter?

220

Phil O, you kill me,

Beyond all tortures !

L Twi Why do you deal thus with me ?

Phil She is my wife, I married her at Antwerp, I've known the way unto her bed these three months

Sav And that's too much by twelve weeks for a sister

[Aside

L Twi I understand you now, too soon, too plain !

Phil O mother, if you love my peace for ever,
Examine her again, find me not guilty !

L Twi 'Tis now too late, her words make that too true

Phil Her words ? shall bare words overthrow a soul ?
A body is not cast away so lightly

230

How can you know 'tis she—let sense decide it—

She then so young, and both so long divided ?

L Twi She tells me the sad story

Phil Does that throw me ?

Many a distress may have the face of yours,
That ne'er was kin to you

L Twi But, however, sir,

I trust you are not married

Phil Here's the witness,

And all the wealth I had with her, this ring,

That join'd our hearts together

[Gives ring

L Twi O, too clear now !

Thou'st brought in evidence to o'ethrow thyself,
Had no one word been spoke, only this shown, 240
'T'ad been enough to approv'd<sup>1</sup> her for mine own, See here, two letters that begun my name
Before I knew thy father this I gave her,
And, as a jewel, fasten'd to her ear

Grace Pardon me, mother, that you find it stray,
I kept it till I gave my heart away

Phil O, to what mountain shall I take my flight,
To hide the monster of my sin from sight !

Sav I'll to Wales presently, there's the best hills
To hide a poor knave in [Aside 250

L Twi O heap not desperation upon guilt !
Repent yet, and all's sav'd, 'twas but hard chance Amongst all sins, heaven pities ignorance,
She's still the first that has her pardon sign'd,
All sins else see their faults, she's only blind
Go to thy chamber, pray, leave off, and win,
One hour's repentance cures a twelvemonth's sin

Grace O my distressèd husband, my dear brother !

[Exeunt LADY TWILIGHT and GRACE

Phil O Saviourwit, never come sorrow yet
To mankind like it ! I'm so far distress'd, 260
I've no time left to give my heart attendance,
Too little all to wait upon my soul
Before this tempest came, how well I stood,
Full in the beams of blessedness and joy !
The memory of man could never say

---

<sup>1</sup> To have proved

So black a storm fell in so bright a day
I am that man that even life surfeits of ,
Or, if to live, unworthy to be seen
By the [most] savage eye sight give's thy hand ,
Commend me to thy prayers

Sav Next time I say 'em [Aside 270

Phil Farewell, my honest breast, that crav'st no more Than possible kindness ! that I've found thee large in,
And I must ask no more , there wit must stay,
It cannot pass where fate stops up the way Joy thrive with thee ! I'll never see thee more [Going

Sav What's that, sir ? pray, come back, and bring those words with you,

You shall not carry 'em so out of my company
There's no last refuge when your father knows it ,
There's no such need on't yet , stay but till then,
And take one with you that will imitate you 280
In all the desperate onsets man dare think on Were it to challenge all the wolves in France
To meet at one set battle, I'd be your half in't , All beasts of venom,—what you had a mind to,
Your part should be took still for such a day
Let's keep ourselves in heart, then am I for you
In the meantime, to beat off all suspicion,
Let's to the bride-house too , here's my petition

Phil Thou hast a learning art when all hopes fly , Let one night waste, there's time enough left to die 290

Sav A minute's as good as a thousand year, sir,
To pink a man's heart like a summer suit [Exeunt

SCENE II

A large Room in LADY GOLDENFLEECE'S House

Several Servants discovered placing things in order, and PICKADILL looking on

Pick Bestir your bones nimbly, you ponderous beef buttocked knaves, what a number of lazy hinds do I keep company withal! where's the flesh colour velvet cushion now for my lady's pease porridge tawny satin bum? You attendants upon revels!

First Ser You can prate and domineer well, because you have a privilege[d] place, but I'd fain see you set your hand to't

Pick O base bone pickers, I set my hand to't! when did you e'er see a gentleman set his hand to anything, unless it were to a sheep-skin,<sup>1</sup> and receive a hundred pound for his pains? 12

Sec Ser And afterward lie in the Counter for his pleasure

Pick Why, true, sir, 'tis for his pleasure indeed for, spite of all their teeth, he may lie i' th' Hole<sup>2</sup> when he list

First Ser Marry, and should for me

Pick Ay, thou wouldst make as good a bawd as the best jaylor of them all, I know that 20

<sup>1</sup> A parchment bond

<sup>2</sup> See note 3, vol 1 p 192

First Ser How, fool !

Pick Hark ! I must call you knave within, 'tis but staying somewhat the longer for't [Exeunt

Loud music Enter, arm in arm, LADY GOLDENFLEECE richly dressed, and MISTRESS LOW-WATER richly attired as a man, after them SIR OLIVER TWILIGHT, SUNSET, and Dutch Merchant, after them LADY
TWILIGHT, GRACE, and JANE, after them PHILIP TWILIGHT, SANDFIELD, SAVOURWIT, and LOW WATER, disguised as before

Mis Low This fair assembly is most freely welcome

Sir O Twi, &c.<sup>1</sup> Thanks to you, good sir

L Gold Come, my long wish'd for madam,
You and this worthy stranger take best welcome,
Your freedom is a second feast to me

Mis Low How is't with my brother ?

Low The fit holds him still,
Nay, love's more violent

Mis Low 'Las, poor gentleman !

I would he had my office without money !

30

If he should offer any, I'd refuse it

Low I have the letter ready,
He's worthy of a place knows<sup>2</sup> how to use it

Mis Low That's well said —

Come, ladies—gentlemen—Sir Oliver,

<sup>1</sup> Old ed "All Sir Ol

<sup>2</sup> Old ed "that knows

Good, seat yourselves shall we be found unreadiest?

[They sit

What is yon gentleman with the funeral face, there?

Methinks that look does ill become a bride house

Sir O Twi Who does your worship mean, sir? my son Philip?

I'm sure he had ne'er less reason to be sad — 40

Why are you sad, son Philip?

Phil How, sir, sad?

You shall not find it so, sir

Sav Take heed he do not, then You must beware how you carry your face in this company, as far as I can see, that young bridegroom has hawk's eyes, he'll go nigh to spell sister in your face, if your nose were but crooked enough to serve for an S, he'd find an eye presently, and then he has more light for the rest

Phil I'll learn then to dissemble 49

Sav Nay, and you be to learn that now, you'll ne'er sit in a branched<sup>1</sup> velvet gown as long as you live, you should have took that at nurse, before your mother weaned you, so do all those that prove great children and batten well Peace, here comes a scholar indeed, he has learnt it, I warrant you

Enter BEVERIL with a pasteboard

L Gold Kind sir, you're welcome, you take all the pains, sir

---

<sup>1</sup> Embroidered, figured Gifford's assertion (Gifford and Dyce's Ford, iii 231) that branched means "with tufts or tassels dependent from the shoulders" is clearly erroneous

Bev I wish they were but worthy of the grace
Of your fair presence and this choice assembly
Here is an abstract, madam, of what's shown,
Which I commend to your favour [Giving pasteboard

L Gold Thank you for't, sir 60

Bev I would I durst present my love as boldly!

[Aside

Mis Low My honest brother!

[Aside

L Gold Look thee here, sweetheart

Mis Low What's there, sweet madam?

Bev Music, and we're ready

[After loud music for a while, a thing like a globe opens on one side of the stage, and flashes out fire, then Sir G LAMBSTONE, in the character of Fire, issues from it, with yellow hair and beard intermingled with streaks like wild flames, a three pointed fire in his hand, and, at the same time, WEATHERWISE, as Air, comes down, hanging by a cloud, with a coat made like an almanac, all the twelve moons set in it, and the four quarters, winter, spring, summer, and autumn, with change of weathers, rain, lightning, tempest, &c, and from under the stage, on different sides at the farther end, rise OVERDONE as Water and PEPPER-TON as Earth, Water with green flags upon his head standing up instead of hair, and a beard of the same, with a chain of pearl, Earth with a number of little things resembling trees, like a thick grove, upon his head, and a wedge of gold in his hand, his garment

 Sir G LAMBSTONE the first words of his speech

Bev The flame of zeal——

Sir G Lamb The wicked fire of lust

Bev How ! he's out in the beginning [Aside ]—The wheel of time——

Wea The devil set fire o' the distaff [Aside

Sir G Lamb I that was wont in elder times to pass For a bright angel—so they call'd me then—
 Now so corrupted with the upstart fires 70

Of avarice, luxury, and inconstant heats,
Struck from the bloods of cunning clasp-faln daughters,
Night walking wives, but, most, libidinous widows,
That I, that purify even gold itself,
Have the contemptible dross thrown in my face,
And my bright name walk common in disgrace
How am I us'd a' late, that I'm so handled,—
Thrust into alleys, hospitals, and tubs !

I was once a name of comfort, warm'd great houses,
When charity was landlord, I've given welcome 80
To forty russet yeomen at a time,
In a fair Christmas hall How am I chang'd !
The chimneys are swept up, the hearth as cold
As the forefathers' charity in the son,
All the good, hospitable heat now turns
To my young landlord's lust, and there it burns
Rich widows, that were wont to choose by gravity
Their second husbands, not by tricks of blood,
Are now so taken with loose Aretine flames

Oj nimble wantonness and high fed pride, 90
They marry now but the third part of husbands,
Boys, smooth fac'd catamites, to fulfil their bed,
As if a woman should a woman wed
These are the fires a' late my brightness darks,
And fills the world so full of beggarly sparks

Bev Hea[r]t, how am I disgrac'd ! what rogue should this be ?

L Gold By my faith, monsieur Fire, you're a hot whoreson !

Mis Low I fear my brother is beside his wits,
He would not be so senseless to rail thus else [Aside

Wea After this heat, you madams fat and fair, 100
Open your casements wide, and take in air ,
But not that air false women make up oaths with,
No, nor that air gallants perfume their clothes with ,
I am that air that leeps about the clouds,
None of my kindred was smelt out in crowds ,
Not any of our house was ever tainted,
When many a thousand of our foes have fainted
Yet some there are that be my chief polluters,
Widows that falsify their faith to suitors,
And will give fair words when the sign's in Cancer, 110
But, at the next remove, a scurvy answer ,
Come to the poor men's houses, eat their banquet,
And at night with a boy tost in a blanket ,
Nay, shall I come more near ? perhaps at noon,
For here I find a spot full in the moon
I know youth's trick what's she that can withstand it,
When Mercury reigns, my lady's chamber planet ?

*He that believes a widow's words shall fail,
When Venus' gown skirts sweeps the Diagon's tail,

Bev 'Life, these are some counterfeit slaves crept in their rooms,

A' purpose for disgrace ! they shall all share with me
Heart, who the devil should these be ? [Exit

L Gold My faith, gentlemen,

Air has perfum'd the room well !

Sir O Twi So methinks, madam

Sav A man may smell her meaning two rooms off, Though his nose wanted reparations,
And the bridge left at Shoreditch, as a pledge 130
For rosa solis,<sup>1</sup> in a bleaking-house <sup>2</sup> [Aside

Mis Low Life, what should be his meaning in't ?

Low I wonder

Over *Methinks this room should yet retain such heat, Struck out from the first ardour, and so glow yet,
You should desire my company, wish for water,
That offers here to serve your several pipes,
Without constraint of mill or death of water house
What if I sprinkled on the widow's cheeks
A few cool drops, to lay the guilty heat
That flashes from her conscience to her face, 140 Would't not refresh her shame ? From such as she*

In her more witchcraft, for her smiles betray,
Where I'm least seen, there my most danger lies,
So in those parts hid most from a man's eyes,
Her heart, her love, or what may be more close,
I know no mercy, she thinks that no loss, 150
In her poor gallants, pirates thrive in me, I help to cast away, and so does she*

*To stop the gaps of Water, Air, and Fire
I love much well, but your first husband better,
Above his soul he lov'd it, as his end
Did fearfully witness it, at his last gasp
His spirit flam'd as it forsook his breast, 160
And left the sparkles quarrelling 'bout his lips,
Now of such metal the devil makes him whips,
He shall have gold enough to glut his soul,
And as for earth, I'll stop his crane's throat full
The wealth he left behind him, most men know,
He wrung unconscionably from the rights
Of poor men's livings, he drunk dry their brows,
That liquor has a curse, yet nothing sweeter,
When your posterity drinks, then 'twill taste bitter*

Sir G Lamb And now to vex, 'gainst nature, form, rule, place,

[The Elements embrace

Re enter, at several corners, BEVERIL with three other persons, attired like the four Winds, with wings, &c, the South Wind having a great red face, the North Wind a pale, bleak one, the Western Wind one cheek red and another white, and so the Eastern Wind they dance to the drum and fife, while the four Elements seem to give back and stand in amaze at the end of the dance the Winds strip the Elements of their disguises, which seem to yield and almost fall off of themselves at the coming of the Winds Exeunt all the Winds except that represented by BEVERIL

L Gold How<sup>1</sup> sir Gilbert Lambstone<sup>1</sup> master Overdone<sup>1</sup>

All our old suits<sup>1</sup> you've took pains, my masters<sup>1</sup>

Sir G Lamb We made a vow we'd speak our minds to you

Wea And I think we're as good as our words, though it cost some of our purses, I owe money for the clouds yet, I care not who knows it, the planets are sufficient enough to pay the painter, and I were dead

L Gold Who are you, sir?

Bev Your most unworthy servant

[Discovering himself

---

<sup>1</sup> Old ed "waiting"

L Gold Pardon me, is't you, sir? 180

Bev My disgrace urg'd my wit to take some form, Wherein I might both best and properliest Discover my abusers and your own,
And show you some content,—before y'had none

L Gold Sir, I owe much both to your care and love,
And you shall find your full requital worthy —
Was this the plot now your poor envy works out?
I do revenge myself with pitying on you —
Take Fire into the buttery, he has most need on't, Give Water some small beer, too good for him, — 190
AII, you may walk abroad like a fortune-teller, —
But take down Earth, and make him drink i' the cellar

[Exeunt SIR G LAMBSTONE, WFATHERWISE, OVERDONE, and PEPPERTON, with LOW WATER

Mis Low The best revenge that could be !

L Twi I commend you, madam

Sir O Twi I thought they were some such sneakers

Saw The four suitors ! and here was a mess of mad elements !

Mis Low Lights, more lights there ! where be these blue-coats ? <sup>1</sup>

Enter Servants with lights

L Gold You know your lodgings, gentlemen, to night

Sir O Twi 'Tis bounty makes bold guests, madam

---

<sup>1</sup> Servants,

L Gold Good rest, lady

Sm O Twi A most contentful night begin a health,
madam, 201

To your long joys, and may the years go round with't !

L Gold As many thanks as you have wish'd 'em hours, sir,

Take to your lodging with you

Mrs Low A general rest to all [Exeunt with Servants all the guests except

PHILIP TWILIGHT and SAVOURWIT

Phil I'm excepted

Sav Take in another to you then, there's room enough

In that exception, faith, to serve us both ,

The dial of my sleep goes by your eyes

[Exeunt PHILIP TWILIGHT and SAVOURWIT

SCENE I

The same

LADY GOLDENFLEECE and MISTRESS LOW WATER, disguised as before, are discovered

L Gold Now, like a greedy usurer alone,
I sum up all the wealth this day has brought me,
And thus I hug it [Embracing her]

Mis Low Prithce——

L Gold Thus I kiss it [Kissing her]

Mis Low I can't abide these kissings

L Gold How, sir? not!

I'll try that, sure, I'll kiss you out of that humour

Mis Low Push! by my troth, I cannot

L Gold What cannot you, sir?

Mis Low Not toy, nor bill, and imitate house pigeons,

A married man must think of other matters

L Gold How, other matters, sir? what other matters?

Mis Low Why, are there no other matters that belong to't? 10

Do you think you've married only a cock sparrow,

And fit but for one business, like a fool?
You shall not find it so

L Gold You can talk strangely, sir
Come, will you to bed?

Mis Low No, faith, will not I

L Gold What, not to bed, sir?

Mis Low And I do, hang me, not to bed with you

L Gold How, not to bed with me, sir? with whom else?

Mis Low Why, am not I enough to lie with myself?

L Gold Is that the end of marriage?

Mis Low No, by my faith,

'Tis but the beginning yet, death is the end on't,      20
Unless some trick come i' the middle and dash all

L Gold Were you so forward lately, and so youthful,
That scarce my modest strength could save me from you,
And are you now so cold?

Mis Low I've thought on't since,
It was but a rude part in me, i' faith,
To offer such bold tricks to any woman,
And by degrees I shall well break myself from't,
I feel myself well chasten'd since that time,
And not the third part now so loosely minded
O, when one sees their follies, 'tis a comfort!      30
My very thoughts take more staid years upon 'em
O, marriage is such a serious, divine thing!
It makes youth grave, and sweetly nips the spring

L Gold If I had chose a gentleman for care
And worldly business, I had ne'er took you,
I had the offers of enough more fit
For such employment, I chose you for love,

Youth, and content of heart, and not for troubles,
You are not ripe for them, after you've spent
Some twenty years in dalliance, youth's affairs, 40
Then take a book in your hand, and sum up cares,
As for wealth now, you know that's got to your hands

Mis Low But had I known't had been so wrongfully got,

As I heard since, you should have had free leave
T' have made choice of another master for't

L Gold Why, can that trouble you ?

Mis Low It<sup>1</sup> may too soon but go,
My sleeps are sound, I love not to be started
With an ill conscience at the fall of midnight,
And have mine eyes torn ope with poor men's curses,
I do not like the fate on't, 'tis still apt 50
To breed unrest, dissension, wild debate,
And I'm the worst at quarrels upon earth,
Unless a mighty injury should provoke me
Get you to bed, go

L Gold Not without you, in troth, sir

Mis Low If you could think how much you wrong yourself

In my opinion of you, you would leave me now
With all the speed you might, I like you worse For this fond heat, and drink in more suspicion of
you

You high fed widows are too cunning people
For a poor gentleman to come simply to 60

L Gold What's that, sir ?

Mis Low You may make a youth on him,

'Tis at your courtesy, and that's ill trusted
You could not want a friend, beside a suitor,
To sit in your husband's gown, and look o'er your writings

L Gold What's this?

Mis Low I say there is a time when women
Can do too much, and understand too little Once more, to bed, I'd willingly be a father
To no more noses than I got myself,
And so good night to you

L Gold Now I see the infection,
A yellow<sup>1</sup> poison runs through the sweet spring 70
Of his fair youth already, 'tis distracted, Jealous of that which thought yet never acted — [Aside
O dear sir, on my knees I swear to thee — [Kneels

Mis Low I prithee, use them in thy private chamber,
As a good lady should, spare 'em not there,

L Gold Let our parting

Be full as charitable as our meeting was,

That the pale, envious world, glad of the food

Of others' miseries, civil dissensions,

And nuptial strifes, may not feed fat with ours, 210

But since you are resolv'd so wilfully

To leave my bed, and ever to refuse me—

As by your rage I find it your desire,

Though all my actions deserve nothing less—

Here are our friends, men both of worth and wisdom,

Place so much power in them, to make an evenness

Bew Come, gentlemen, on all perpetual friendship Heaven still relieves what misery would destroy ,
Never was night yet of more general joy

[Exeunt omnes

EPILOGUE

Spoken by WEATHERWISE

Now, let me see, what weather shall we have now?
 Hold fair now, and I care not [looking at almanac] mass, full moon too
 Just between five and six this afternoon<sup>1</sup>
 This happens right, [reads] The sky for the best part clear,
Save here and there a cloud or two dispers'd,—
 That's some dozen of panders and half a score
 Pickpockets, you may know them by their whistle,
 And they do well to use that while they may,
 For Tyburn cracks the pipe and spoils the music
 What says the destiny of the hour this evening? 10
 Hah, [reads] Fear no colours!<sup>1</sup> by my troth, agreed then,
 The red and white looks cheerfully, for, know ye all,
 The planet's Jupiter, you should be jovial,
 There's nothing lets<sup>2</sup> it but the Sun i' the Dog
 Some bark in corners that will fawn and cog,<sup>3</sup>
 Glad of my fragments for their ember week,

<sup>1</sup> "Fear no colours" was originally a military expression, meaning

"Fear no enemies" See Dyce's Shakespeare Glossary

<sup>3</sup> Cozen

The sign's in Gemini too, both hands should meet,
There should be noise i' th' air, if all things hap,
Though I love thunder when you make the clap
Some faults perhaps have slipt, I am to answer <sup>1</sup> 20
And if in anything your revenge appears,
Send me in with all your fists about mine ears

<sup>1</sup> "Here a line (ending with the word 'Cancer') has dropt out"—Dyce
